FOUR DEAD IN TROLLEY CRASH

Runaway Gravel Car Telescopes Heavily Loaded Coach Near Erie.

BRAKES WERE LOOSE

THREE WOMEN AMONG DEAD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Erie, Pa., Nov. 11.—In a collision between a passenger and a gravel car on the Erie Traction line, near McKean, at 7 o'clock tonight, four people were killed and five seriously injured.

The dead:

CHARLES AMIDON, blacksmith, of McLane.

IOLA BENTLEY, wife of James Bentley, a prominent hardware merchant of Edenboro, Pa.

MISS LEHAM of Lavery, Pa.

MRS. LIND of Cambridge Springs, Pa.

The injured:

MRS. C. W. SHERWOOD of Cambridge Springs, Pa., leg broken.

MISS CAMELIA WILLING of Erie, badly bruised.

CLEM ANDERSON, motorman, hurt internally; will die.

F. H. DAVIS of Goshen, Ind., tobacco salesman, injured internally and head cut; condition serious.

PETER GUCHES, farmer, of McKean, injured internally; condition serious.

Clem Anderson, motorman, and C. Petit, conductor, were in charge of the car which left the city at 5 o'clock. A mile and a half south of McKean, a flat car loaded with gravel had been sidetracked. In some unaccountable manner the brakes became loosened, just before the passenger car was due and the load of gravel started down the track, gaining terrible momentum every yard.

It traversed a distance of a mile and a quarter, finally crashing into the passenger car. The fronts of both cars were splintered to kindling wood and Motorman Anderson was pinioned beneath the wreckage.

Henry May of McKean was one of the first to reach the scene and together with several farmers began digging the people out. When the collision came, the 30 tons of gravel in the car were thrown into the passenger coach, wrecking the whole upper part of the trolley car. Word was immediately telephoned to this city and a special car containing Doctors Ritter and Hall and Superintendent Culbertson was immediately dispatched to the scene of the accident, 10 miles away. The dead were taken to their respective homes and the injured were placed aboard the car and taken to Erie.

Motorman Anderson was the first taken out. He is seriously injured and it is believed will die. He stuck to his post and tried to reverse his car and started back down the incline, but the oncoming car was under such headway that the task was impossible. It is stated that owing to the heavy rains the tracks were so slippery that the brakes would not hold.

KNOX ASKED TO DEFEND FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The negro race is represented in the National Sociological society, now in session here, and friends of the race will ask Attorney General Knox within the next few days to defend the Constitution of the United States in the supreme court against the attacks being made on the 15th amendment. A committee was appointed at the meeting today to make the request of the attorney general.

The movement was inaugurated by George C. Gorham, formerly secretary of the senate. He declared that what the negroes wanted to do was to take advantage of their political power. He referred to the "Alabama cases" to come up before the supreme court in January and suggested that the lawyers in the case be asked if they desired help.

Ex-Governor Pinchback of Louisiana supported Mr. Gorham's motion. He said he did not want to see the "Alabama cases" go by default and that he was willing to assist in preventing it.

The committee is as follows: Former Representative George H. White of North Carolina; Prof. Kelly Miller, Ex-Governor Pinchback, General William Birney and G. C. Gorham.

ALASKAN DELEGATES ARE FOR ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—First delegates for Roosevelt are already reported from the territory of Alaska. The president today received this telegram from John G. Heid of Juneau, Republican national committeeman of the territory: "Territorial convention today elected J. G. Heid, Charles S. Johnson, William T. Perkins, W. D. Grant, J. W. Ivey and Oscar Root delegates to national convention. Instructed for Roosevelt."

MILLIONAIRES ACTED AS VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Several members of the Union club, at Fiftieth street and Fifth avenue, acted as volunteer firemen during a fire at No. 3 East Fifty-first street today, dragging the clubhouse hose to the building and putting out the flames before Engine No. 65 had responded to a still alarm. The fire was in the four-story brownstone dwelling owned by William K. Vanderbilt.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Bids for the new Felix Isman's theater, Broadway, New York, were authorized by the architects today. The new structure, which, when completed, will be under the management of Klaw & Erlanger, will cost $900,000.

DEMOCRATS PLAN ATTACK

Gorman and Blackburn Suggest the Minority's Plan in Panama Matter.

DELAY THEIR OBJECT

President Roosevelt Will Formally Recognize New Isthmian Republic Tomorrow.

PREPARING TO SEND TROOPS

At a prolonged session of the senate Democratic steering committee today the Panama canal question was the only subject discussed. Senator Morgan made a speech in which he strove to impress upon his Democratic colleagues the party duty and wisdom of probing to the bottom what he called the coup d-etat by which the present state of affairs was brought about on the isthmus. Senator Bacon of Georgia submitted a resolution severely condemning the administration for the recent happenings in Panama, and asked that this be the basis of Democratic action.

The suggestion of neither Mr. Bacon nor Mr. Morgan, however, seemed to meet much favor, and it was not until Messrs. Gorman and Blackburn outlined an entirely new policy that the other seven members of the steering committee manifested a keen interest. The chief feature of this policy is that when the subject of canal legislation is again brought up in the senate the Democrats of that body insist that under the Spooner law the only course now open to the president is either to begin negotiations with Nicaragua and Costa Rica for the construction of a canal or hold the entire subject in abeyance until congress repeals the Spooner law.

A full caucus of the senate Democrats will be called within a few days to consider the Gorman-Blackburn proposition with a view of adopting it as the party policy on the canal question at present.

Recognition of Panma's Minister.

President Roosevelt will on Friday recognize Panama as a full-fledged de jure government by formally receiving Philippe Varilla as minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary to the United States. This ceremony, which will officially give Panama a place in the family of sovereign nations, was decided upon at a conference this afternoon between Secretary Hay and Mr. Varilla, who is now dealt with as the agent of the de facto government. He already has his credentials, which have been examined and pronounced satisfactory by Secretary Hay, who will accompany him to the side parlor at the White House at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Another highly important result of his conference with Mr. Hay brings into view the possibility of early recognition of Panama by Colombia, with which the isthmians broke their allegiance on November 3. Panama has been brought up with a round turn by the United States just as she was on the verge of making a serious and unnecessary mistake in regard to peace overtures which, it was reported Colombia intended to make. Reports from South America yesterday stated that Gen. Reyes, one of the candidates for the Colombian presidency, had left Bogota bound for Panama as a peace envoy. It was also reported that the Panama government would not permit him to land.

Cullom Asks for Documents.

The connection of the administration with the revolution in Panama, was the subject of a resolution introduced in the senate today by Senator Cullom of Illinois. The resolution of Senator Cullom calls on the president to send the correspondence and documents to the senate "if not incompatible with the public service." It is expected that the Democrats of the senate will insist on the sending of every possible letter and comment bearing on the subject to congress.

One of the most sensational bits of news with reference to the revolution in Panama is that the war department is discussing the probability of having to send a part of the United States army to the isthmus. If peace proposals between Panama and Colombia fail then the United States, it is held, must forcibly prevent not only the landing of troops, but their arrival in Panama by any means. It is admitted that the marines and sailors would not be sufficient to repel a Colombian army of invasion.

Ready to Send Troops.

The United States is now looking out for the Colombian invasion. The Concord has been detached from the Pacific squadron and hurried south to patrol the isthmian coast. Arrangements will be probably made in the next day or two for putting the transports Kilpatrick and McClellan at New York in readiness for taking troops to Colon should it be deemed necessary. The Kilpatrick is booked to sail for Manila on December 1, and the date of departure was recently postponed. The Sumner is expected to arrive in New York in the latter part of next week and will also be available for this service. The three transports have a combined capacity for about 2,000 troops. It is planned also to have troops leave San Francisco, and some five or six transports are available for this duty at that port.

The state department has been informed that the two British steamships which were detained at the port of Buena Ventura by the Colombian government with the intention of using them to transport troops to the isthmus have been released and have left that port.

The state department has received a cablegram from Ambassador Porter at Paris saying that the sympathies of the French people are with the Panama republic.

ONLY BILLETS AND BARS CUT: SEEK LOWER FREIGHT RATES

GOOD TONNAGE IS BOOKED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Nov. 11.—Willis L. King, vice president of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company of Pittsburgh, today gave out an official statement of the outcome of the recent conferences on steel prices, which have resulted in reducing the price of steel billets to $23 per ton and steel bars to $1 30 base per hundred pounds, other steel prices remaining unchanged. The statement follows:

"During the last week the principal manufacturers of steel and steel products have been in consultation concerning trade conditions. While it is a fact that there has been a decrease in the volume of business during the last few months, yet it is also true that substantial tonnage is being booked at the present time, and the general opinion seems to be that the outlook is quite promising and improving. It was the unanimous opinion that the price of billets and bars was too high and somewhat out of parity. Therefore, the price of the former has been reduced to $23 a ton, Pittsburgh, and of the latter to a $1 30 base per 100 pounds, Pittsburgh. Prices on all other steel commodities, however, remain unchanged."

John A. Topping, vice president of the American Sheet Steel Company, supplemented this by saying that the steel manufacturers in various lines had thought it wise to take action on the prices on specific steel products only after consultation, that concerted action might obviate any demoralization.

FRIARS AGREE ON PRICE FOR THEIR LANDS

Gov. Taft to Settle for $6,000,000—Less Than Half of the Demand.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Advices reaching the war department from Manila indicate that, before sailing from Manila on December 23rd, Governor Taft will have succeeded in the adjustment of the claims of the friars for their extensive Philippines property holdings.

The main obstacle to a settlement appears to have been an issue between the papal delegate and the religious orders as to the proportion of the purchase money to be paid by the insular government that was to be turned over to Rome. The friars desired to receive the major part of the allotment and when the church insisted upon a certain sum they sought to make good their own proportion by increasing the sum total of the price demanded for the lands.

This ran the total up to about $14,000,000, a sum entirely beyond any figure which the government was willing to consider. Realizing that with Gov. Taft's departure, the chances of a settlement would become more remote, the church authorities have brought pressure to bear upon the friars with the result that the insular government expects to be able to acquire their entire holdings in the Philippines for a sum approximating $6,000,000.

BONDS FOR GOULD'S NEW RAILROAD TO TIDEWATER

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Official outline of George Gould's plan for building a new tidewater line from St. Louis to New Orleans was made public today in an application to list $12,242,000 St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern line, Gulf division, first mortgage 4 per cent 50-year bonds, which represent that portion of the authorized $50,000,000 which have been sold. Mr. Gould, in a recent telegram to the Texas commission at New Orleans, estimated the total cost of these improvements at between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000.

Steel Products for Export to Be Carried to Seaboard More Cheaply.

WAGE CUT OF $20,000,000

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Nov. 11.—An agreement is said to have been reached, whereby the freight rates on iron and steel and finished products, especially products for export, are to be reduced. The extent of the proposed reduction is not yet known, but between Pittsburgh and the Atlantic seaboard material concessions are said to have been agreed upon. When the official announcement is made the export trade will probably be the greatest beneficiary, as the reduction in cost will enable keener competition with Germany.

The return of President W. E. Corey and Vice President James Gayley of the United States Steel Corporation, from Pittsburgh, where they conferred with the heads of the Steel Corporation concerning additional reductions and retrenchment, is expected to be followed in due course by announcement of the change they have directed.

The question of wages is now the paramount one, and the one most likely to cause trouble. Until January 1 it is not possible to estimate the extent of the reductions. It is said that the corporation plans to cut its wage and salary account from $120,000,000 in round numbers, divided among 168,000 employes and laborers, to approximately $100,000,000. This would necessitate an average cut of 25 cents a day in all salaries, which would mean to the corporation a daily saving of $42,000 and a monthly saving of $1,200,000.

At the representative meeting of all the important steel and iron manufacturers today it was decided by officials of the United States Steel Corporation to merge the American Tin Plate Company and the American Sheet Steel Company into one organization about January 1. Pittsburgh will become more than ever the steel and iron center of the United States, as the Steel Corporation proposes to remove to that city practically all the operating departments of its subsidiary companies. The tin plate and sheet steel offices will be moved to that city office. In its recent negotiations the Steel Corporation has sold upward of 150,000 tons of steel and iron material in Europe. The vessels of the International Mercantile Marine Company will transport the goods to the other side of the Atlantic.

ANOTHER KICK FROM THE CANADIAN SIDE

Now Its the St. Louis Fair Rules That They Don't Like—Will Not Exhibit Their Cattle.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, ONT., Nov. 11.—Fifty representative live stock men from all associations in the Dominion met here tonight to discuss the restrictions put on the exportation of show animals to the St. Louis exposition. These restrictions are:

1. Every importer must be a citizen of the United States, and,

2. If Canadian animals shown are sold they must be returned to Canada before being shipped to the buyer, in order that the duty may be collected.

3. That the test for tuberculosis must be made in St. Louis, which might affect the animals for show purposes.

It was unanimously decided that no Canadian cattle, horses, sheep, swine or poultry would be exhibited.

Croker Is Not Forgotten.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Richard Croker was unanimously elected a life honorary member of the Democratic club tonight. This honor is shared only by former President Grover Cleveland.

MURDEROUS ATTACK ON OIL WELL PUMPER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FINDLAY, O., Nov. 11.—Burley Spears, an oil pumper on George Whitman's lease, was murderously assaulted last night as he was leaving the boiler shop. Clarence Sims, who was discharged by Whitman, is charged with the deed.

Spears received terrific blows. His nose was broken and his skull crushed. After failing he was either kicked or struck with a club, as six ribs were broken. His chances for recovery are slim.

Bloodhounds were secured and they took two trails which led to the shanty occupied by Clarence Sims, who showed much nervous consternation when confronted by the officers. He was taken before the judge and pleaded not guilty. He was released on $1,000 bond to appear Sunday on a charge of assault with intent to kill. Sims assaulted Whitman a few months ago and was indicted by the grand jury. Later it is claimed he said he would kill both Whitman and Spears if he got the chance, the former for discharging him, the latter for taking his place.

ELKINS' WILL CAUSES MUCH SPECULATION

The Vast Estate of Deceased Philadelphian Estimated at $25,000,000.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—There seems to be a general unanimity among those closely associated with the late William S. Elkins in business affairs as to the value of the estate, and $25,000,000 is the figure mentioned.

Although no one will say they know just how the rich estate has been disposed of by the will, men who have had opportunity to learn something of Mr. Elkins' views as to the best way of disposing of his wealth say that probably $10,000,000 of it will be left to charities and institutions for the benefit of the public. It is thought that the orphanage for children of Masons will be liberally remembered. Mr. Elkins had given the land for the orphanage and was much interested in that enterprise.

The remaining $15,000,000, it is said, will go to his family. The greater portion, it is said, will go to the widow with a reversion to the surviving children when she dies. The magnificent house at Ashbourne, it is thought, will go to his daughter, Mrs. George D. Widener, who has lived there since her husband's death and is specially fond of the place.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.—A quit claim deed was filed in the recorder's office at Clayton today by Mr. and Mrs. James L. Blair, whereby they convey all the title they had remaining in their country home to Henry Kent in consideration of $5.

Mr. Kent filed another quit claim deed conveying his interest in the property to James Campbell. The consideration was also $5. The deeds were filed by Judge Jacob Klein, who announced that he desired to release the deed of trust filed on the property about a month ago by the St. Louis Union Trust Company for $50,000.

COCKRAN CASTS SHEEP'S EYES AT THE HALLS OF CONGRESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—To his intimate friends Bourke Cockran today announced his intention of returning to congress as a representative from the district now represented by Mayor-elect McClellan. Nothing definite has been heard from Charles F. Murphy regarding the aspiration of Mr. Cockran, but there are many Tammany men who do not believe Mr. McClellan's successor will be Mr. Cockran.

PARTING SHOT AT CLEVELAND

Bryan Denounces Former President Before Departing for Europe.

DIPS IN BITTER GALL

Compares Sage of Princeton to the Unjust Steward of Bible Fame.

SAYS HE IS STENCH IN PARTY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

Before his departure for Europe today on the steamship Majestic, William Jennings Bryan gave an interview in which he declared that former President Grover Cleveland, whom he bitterly denounced, has no chance for the nomination for president next year, and, if nominated, he could not carry a state. Bryan insisted that the financial issue is not dead and that the late elections were not significant. In his comments on Mr. Cleveland's chances for the presidential nomination, Mr. Bryan said:

"To carry out a bargain with Wall street he made the White House the rendezvous of syndicates and exploiters and administered the treasury department in a manner that makes the record of the unjust steward of Bible fame seem parsimonious by comparison.

"His record as president was such a stench in the nostrils of his party that even with the patronage of that great office and with the aid of the money magnates whose treasuries he enriched, he could not secure an indorsement from the convention. In the campaign following, when Democracy was engaged in a gigantic struggle with plutocracy, he formed the salaried officers whom he could coerce into a band of Hessians and attacked the rear of the Democratic party while the Republicans waged war from the front.

"When the election was over he was the chief figure at a high-priced banquet and gloated over the defeat of the party that raised him from obscurity to fame. Since that time he has lost no opportunity to stand in sight of the public, beat his breast and proclaim his political superiority.

"He has done more business on less capital than any man who has ever occupied so high an office. If his Democracy was capitalized at his own estimate, it would give us an example of watered stock, and then, measured by the teachings of Jefferson and Jackson, it would make the water-logged enterprises of the trust promoters seem bona fide and honorable. This is a conservative estimate of his political worth. But I am just leaving America and have not time to do the subject justice. I may enter into the matter more at length when I return."

"Then you do not seem to think that Mr. Cleveland has a chance for the nomination next year?"

"No. He has never had a chance since 1896 and he is so old now that if he repented in sackcloth and ashes, and it would pull the market on bob if he undertook it, he would be overtaken by decrepitude before he could bring forth works meet for repentance. I doubt if he could carry a state in the union.

"If he was nominated he would have such a campaign as we have never had before, one in which the influences which secured his nomination would not support him, for the money power, while it dictates as many nominations as possible, always supports the friendly candidate who has the best chance to win. He could not appeal to the Democrats on the ground of regularity, because he has not been regular himself; he could not appeal to Democrats on the ground of Democracy, for his Democracy is a misnomer.

"Oh, no. He could not carry enough of the party with him to amount to a piece."

"Will the Democrats go to the polls next year as a united party?"

"I think all Democrats will be united at the polls but not, of course, those who are not Democrats. Those who are not Democrats will not be with the Democrats."

SOUTH AFRICA IN AWFUL PERIL

BLACKS HAVE RIFLES

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Nov. 11.—News reaching here of the uprising of natives in South Africa causes grave apprehension. It is known that during the Boer war the blacks secured many rifles and much ammunition, which have been carefully hoarded.

It is also known that the chiefs of the great Zulu nation have been sending emissaries throughout the country, especially among the wild tribes on the outskirts of the colonies, urging a general uprising against the whites and the restoration of the great negro empire which was founded by Tchka and which the overthrow of Cetewayo ended.

If the outbreak in Damaraland is the result of this Zulu propaganda it may mean serious trouble before it is overcome. One thing which makes against the probability of any connection between the two is the fact that the Hottentots who are now in the revolt and the Zulus have never been particularly friendly. If the Hottentot movement spreads, however, the Zulus may take advantage of it for their uprising. The Zulus are without question the most formidable of fighting savages. The peace since the overthrow of Cetewayo may have hurt their splendid discipline, but it is doubtful if it has impaired their fighting qualities.

The British military authorities in South Africa are making ready to meet any conditions which may arise.

WARLIKE TALK IS HEARD FROM GERMANY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

THE HAGUE, Nov. 11.—In today's discussions before the Venezuelan arbitration tribunal, Herr Buenz, for Germany, declared that if the peace conference "gave birth to a new gospel, rendering the former gospel of international law of no account, the nations would rather have recourse to extreme measures than to arbitration which deprived them of their rights."

Solicitor General Finlay commenced his reply in behalf of Great Britain. It maintained that Britain had been forced into war after exhausting all peaceful methods to bring Venezuela to admit the justice of her claims, and said the statement that the blockading powers had abandoned their claim to preference by submitting it to the tribunal was entirely erroneous.

The negotiations showed, he said, that Venezuela made a tardy endeavor to evade fulfilling President Castro's promise to provide an adequate guarantee of payment of the claims of the blockading powers on condition that they raised the blockade.

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—Richard Strauss, the composer, has received permission from the directors of the Royal opera to go to the United States next month.

AGED EAST END RECLUSE LEAVES LARGE FORTUNE

Lived Alone for a Number of Years—Seldom Seen on the Street—Natural Heirs Are Nephews and Nieces.

In a cottage in Kirkwood street, where he had lived the life of a recluse, Andrew Reimer, one of the oldest citizens of East Liberty, died yesterday afternoon, leaving a fortune variously estimated at from $250,000 to $400,000. He is survived by a number of nephews and nieces, who will probably claim his large estate, as it is believed that he died intestate. His fortune consists principally of large real estate holdings in the Nineteenth and Twenty-first wards.

Andrew Reimer was born in East Liberty October 10, 1822, of Prussian parents. His father was a pipe maker and by thrift accumulated a small fortune and much real estate. This he left to his three sons, George, Aaron and Andrew. Aaron died many years ago. Andrew and George, both being single, decided to live together, and for years they occupied the house at No. 6629 Kirkwood street, where Andrew died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock of old age and a hemorrhage of the brain.

About 12 years ago George, who was a physician, died, leaving his estate to his brother. From that time on, it is said, Andrew rarely associated with anyone. He kept no servants and was seldom seen on the streets. The only relatives connections he is known to have had were with a real estate firm of the East End. Sometimes when the weather was good, despite his 80 years, the old man would hobble his way on foot to Pittsburgh and back, getting home sometimes as late as 10 o'clock at night. He is known to have taken such a trip about two weeks ago. Nothing was seen of him for several days when one of the nephews upon investigation, found that his uncle was quite sick. A physician was summoned, who pronounced the case serious and a nurse was engaged.

Late last night the remains were removed to the residence of Casper Reimer, a nephew, at No. 100 Park avenue, East End. They will be taken to Uniontown for interment in Prospect cemetery, perhaps on Saturday. The nearest surviving relatives of the deceased, all of whom are nephews or nieces, are: Casper Reimer, Abraham Reimer, John W. Reimer, Mrs. Annie Barter, Mrs. Caroline Baker, Isabella Rolf, Sadie J. Reimer, Mrs. D. Ewing, Mrs. Ida Ewing, Lloyd and Clara Ewing.

CHARGES AGAINST GEN. WOOD; SENATE HOLDS UP APPOINTMENT

RATHBONE HAS EVIDENCE

Ohio Official Convicted of Posial Frauds Is Supported by Hanna—Wood Is Roosevelt's Personal Friend—Many Petitions for Expulsion of Smoot.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 16, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.

A sensation leaked out of the executive session of the senate today. It was the holding up of the confirmation of Gen. Leonard Wood's appointment as major general. Gen. Wood is the close personal friend of the president and his rapid advancement in the army has been the cause of much comment, friendly and otherwise. When his appointment as major general came up in the senate today it was held up at the request of Senator Teller, who said that time was desired in which to present charges against Gen. Wood with which to sustain the argument against his confirmation.

Senator Hanna also asked that no action be taken at this time, and this was agreed to. But a faint inkling of the nature of these charges has been divulged but it is supposed that they are the same that have appeared from time to time in the newspapers and include alleged permits issued to gamblers in Cuba, extravagance in the expenditure of the public funds there and general charges of favoritism while Gen. Wood was acting as military governor of that island.

It is announced tonight that Maj. Rufus G. Rathbone is on his way here from Ohio with documents to support the charges against Gen. Wood, and that the charges will be contributed to by Senator Culberson of Texas and others. As to Senator Hanna's part in the opposition, his friends claim that he has no desire to embarrass the president in the matter, but that he feels that no action should be taken toward confirmation until the charges against Gen. Wood had been heard and disposed of, giving him a clean bill of health. Maj. Rathbone is the man who was sentenced to prison for complicity in postal frauds in Cuba, and he owes his conviction, to a large extent, to Gen. Wood. Senator Hanna has always believed in Maj. Rathbone's innocence, and he has stood his friend, and he will now insist that Rathbone be given a chance to prove his assertions against Wood.

Army officers were much chagrined at the appointment of Brig.-Gen. Wood to be a major general. He was a captain and assistant surgeon in 1891, and when the war with Spain broke out he secured a commission as colonel of the Rough Riders. That was in 1898, and to be advanced within five years to the rank of major general is such an unprecedented promotion that the grizzled majors and colonels, who have grown old in the service, were discouraged at seeing him skip past them. This accounts largely for the opposition that has met his appointment.

How Criticises Petitioners.

Petitions asking for the expulsion from the senate of Senator Reed Smoot, the Mormon member from Utah, are coming in from all sections of the country. A vast number of these petitions are now before the senate committee on privileges and elections, and the exact line of procedure has not been determined upon by the committee, but it is not probable that the matter will be taken up before the beginning of the regular session of the Fifty-eighth congress. Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, a member of the committee on privileges and elections, in presenting a petition from his state asking the senate to expedite the consideration of the Smoot case, took occasion to state that the sending of such petitions is improper and irregular. He said that the determination of Mr. Smoot's rights would be a purely judicial proceeding and upon the laws and Constitution of the United States.

"With all due respect to the signers of petitions of this character," he said, "I want to say to them that their petitions are as much out of place when addressed to this high court as similar petitions would be if addressed to the supreme court of the United States in any case pending before that tribunal."

Senator Smoot was present in his seat and listened with interest to the remarks of the venerable senator from Massachusetts.

Quay Presents Petitions.

Senator Quay today presented petitions from the following, asking for the expulsion of Senator Smoot: Saturday club of Wayne, Delaware county; citizens of Glenside, Montgomery county; the Rev. J. M. Wallace of Huntingdon valley, Cross Creek Presbyterian church of Washington county, Mt. Prospect Presbyterian church of Washington county, Research club of Oxford, Chester county; 25 citizens of Philadelphia, 25 citizens of Beaver Falls, Women's Missionary society of the Ford Presbyterian church of Washington, Pa.; officers of the Reformed Presbyterian church of Philadelphia, Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, Third Presbyterian church, Washington, Pa.; Lawrington Presbyterian church, Roxborough, Pa.; 58 citizens of Beaver Falls, Young Ladies' Missionary society, Third Presbyterian church, Washington, Pa.; eight citizens of Philadelphia and the North Philadelphia Women's Christian Temperance union.

Veteran Wants Lost Rank.

Senator Penrose today introduced a bill for the relief of William Ensley of Philadelphia, who was a sergeant in company A, One Hundred and Sixteenth Pennsylvania volunteer infantry. Toward the end of the war Sergt. Ensley received a commission from the government as lieutenant, but he was never mustered in with that rank, the hostilities stopping before he could be assigned. Consequently he appears on the records with the rank of sergeant. Ensley is not particularly ambitious to wear the title of lieutenant, but he would like to join the Loyal Legion, and he is not eligible unless he has served as a commissioned officer.

To obviate this difficulty the bill introduced today directs the secretary of war to place him upon the records as mustered in as second lieutenant on June 1, 1865, and mustered out on June 7, 1865, giving him just two days of service in the higher office and entitling him to two days' pay by that rank. It is not likely that Ensley, who is successful business man of Philadelphia, will collect the pay, but he will be gratified if the bill passes.

Lincoln Promised Him $10,000.

Another bill introduced in the senate by Senator Penrose today was for the relief of Joseph Orton Kelley of Cumberland county. In 1861 Mr. Kelley was sent south as a spy, and he was located in Montgomery, Ala. He was a telegraph operator, and one day he heard a message going over the wires that showed a plan was on foot to surprise and capture Fort Pickens, in Florida. He immediately started for the fort to warn the commander, and on the way his errand was discovered by the Confederates, who fired upon him, and he had a narrow shave of it. But he was successful in reaching the fort in time to give warning and defeat the plan of the confederates. For his service, he alleges he was promised $10,000 by President Lincoln, and he now would like to have the money.

Quay Back from Hunting.

Senator Quay was in his seat today, having returned from a hunting to the southwest. As soon as he entered the chamber he walked up to the rostrum and greeted the president pro tem. His greeting from his colleagues was general and kindly. Republicans and Democrats gathered about and shook his hands, taking occasion to remark upon his healthy appearance and to hope that he would have many more birthdays. A few weeks ago Senator Quay celebrated his 70th birthday, and today he is apparently in good health. He introduced a number of bills and petitions today, one of the former providing for a public building at Nome, Alaska, to cost $150,000; another was for the appropriation of $75,000 to buy additional land for the Gettysburg National park. He also put in a bill making it a misdemeanor to unlawfully use or wear the button or insignia of the Spanish War veterans, or the insignia of the military and naval order of the Spanish-American war.

Hanna for Chairman.

There is a report in circulation that the objections of Senator Hanna to serving as national chairman next year because of his uncertain health are to be met with a plan that will likely secure his acceptance to the place. This plan is to make Hanna chairman with two vice chairmen, one in the east and the other in the west, and they to take upon themselves the details of the campaign work, Mr. Hanna merely supervising the business and looking after the financial end of it. The men suggested for vice chairmen are Gov. W. T. Durbin of Indiana and ex-Gov. Murray Crane of Massachusetts. There are many people who believe that such a plan would meet the approval of Senator Hanna and induce him to take the chairmanship.

Pennsylvania Members to Caucus.

A call was issued today for a caucus of the Pennsylvania delegation in congress to be held next Tuesday. It is understood that two matters are to come up for consideration, the project for a 35-foot channel in the Delaware river at Philadelphia and the contest of William Connell for the seat of George Howell from the Tenth (Scranton) district. On the face of the returns Howell beat Connell by 361 votes, but a contest was instituted and it is the desire of the delegation to get the case disposed of by the house as soon as possible.

Acheson Presents Bills.

Representative Acheson has introduced a bill raising the appropriation for the public building at Washington, Pa., to $125,000. The site has been acquired, and if this bill can be put through at the regular session, work on the building can go forward during next summer, if the treasury department can get the plans out in time. Another bill put in by Mr. Acheson provides for an appropriation of $25,000 to establish a fish hatchery in Pennsylvania.

More Carriers for Pittsburgh.

Representative Dalzell was today notified by the postoffice department that an increase of five carriers had been allowed the Pittsburgh postoffice. Postmaster Holliday had asked for an increase of 10, but the allowance of half the number requested will be of some help in relieving the situation here. A number of increase in salaries are also allowed.

Homestead Delivery Extended.

An order was issued from the free delivery division of the postoffice department today extending the free delivery at Homestead, Pa., to Minehall borough. Two additional carriers will be appointed to begin service December 1.

The comptroller of the currency has approved the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, as reserve agent for the First National Bank of Conport, Pa.

New Postmaster Appointed.

John M. Carson was today appointed postmaster at Homer City, Indiana county, Pa.

POLICE WERE REMOVED FOR POLITICAL REASONS

Asst. Supt. T. D. Malone Declares That an Injustice Has Been Done.

Politics figured in the removal of several officers by the police trial board yesterday. Of the officers arraigned for hearings, eight were dismissed from the force, two were reduced to the ranks and two were ordered to pay fines.

The dismissal of Clarence Forbes, driver at the Center avenue station house, is not approved by Assistant Superintendent T. D. Malone. This official says it was purely a personal political grievance that effected the dismissal of Driver Forbes.

"Forbes lives in the Fifth district of the Eleventh ward," he said, "and because he lost his district he has been deprived of his job. It is wrong. Forbes has been on the force for nine years. Several years ago he was shot by a colored man whom he attempted to arrest. His wounds kept him confined to a hospital for nine months and he partly lost the sight of one eye. He was charged with sleeping on duty. I suppose he was asleep in the stable waiting for a call. That did not interfere with his work. If he were on a beat it would be different. The police board did wrong when they dismissed Forbes."

Talman Hughes, colored, of the same police station was also removed for political reasons, it is said.

Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety said all these officers were dismissed for cause, and politics was not considered in their removal. He will take up the reorganization of the South Side police force at the meeting next Wednesday.

are cabling here regarding the secession of Panama. Everything is promised the Isthmians to induce them to return to the paternal country. Far more than Panama ever dreamed of is now freely offered if the new republic will give up the movement. Even "eternal heavenly happiness" was the promise in one dispatch from a high authority at Bogota. It is needless to say that the appeals have been ignored and there is not the slightest possibility that the new republic which is now so firmly established will listen to any overtures from Bogota.

COLON, Nov. 11.—This was the anniversary of the declaration of independence of Spain made by Simon Bolivar in 1811 and elaborate preparations to celebrate the event have been on foot for weeks; but the celebration was doubtlessly dampened by the occurences at Panama.

Samuel Boyd, brother of Federico Boyd, of the junta, who is now on his way to the United States, has been appointed postmaster-general of Panama. The appointment has been well received, as Senor Boyd has been one of the principal promoters of the independence of Panama.

Of late the general has been in poor health.

TRYING TO SECURE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Mayors of Three Cities and Members of Organizations to Meet.

The movement to bring the Republican national convention to Pittsburgh is on in earnest. Thomas J. Bell, chairman of the county Republican committee, yesterday had a talk with Mayor Hays, and it was decided to call a meeting of the mayors of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and McKeesport, the Pittsburgh councilmanic committee appointed to aid in the project, representatives of the chamber of commerce, the East End board of trade and other bodies in Mayor Hays' office on Monday at 2 p. m.

The Republican national committee will meet next month in Washington to decide upon a place to hold the convention. Before any city can secure the convention it will be necessary to guarantee $100,000 to the national committee for the expense of holding the gathering. Chicago and Cincinnati want to be selected, and Chicago is considered the more formidable candidate against Pittsburgh.

STABBED WIFE TO DEATH.

Husband Then Fled to the Woods and Hanged Himself to a Tree.

HUDSON, N. Y., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—In West Taghanic, not 10 miles from where the Van Wormer brothers killed their uncle, Peter Hallenbeck, Reuben Coons, a farmer, twice stabbed his wife in the back and left her there until she died to death. The tragedy occurred on Tuesday night when Mrs. Coons was preparing supper and her 6-year-old daughter was playing by her side. Two men called on Mrs. Coons during the afternoon and the husband had heard of it. Insanely jealous he went at once to the house.

A posse of officers were dispatched from Hudson to find Coons. At daylight his body was found in the woods suspended by a rope from a tree. He had two gashes in his throat and a razor lay on the ground. He had been dead for several hours.

SUFFOCATED INSIDE VAT.

Brewery Employe Killed by Carbonic Acid Gas in Peculiar Manner.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Frank Kratovitch was suffocated with carbonic acid gas by a peculiar accident at the brewery of Koehler & Co., at Twenty-ninth street and First avenue today. Kratovitch was found dead by Frederick Schwab, a fellow-workman, who found the body lying at the side of a large vat on the third floor. The vat has a capacity of 8,000 gallons and is used to ferment beer.

Beer that had been fermenting for two days was drawn off from the vat this morning. In fermenting beer always leaves a quantity of carbonic acid gas which is allowed to escape by means of a small pipe that is opened from a manhole in the side of the vat near the bottom.

It is supposed that Kratovitch opened the manhole and reached in to turn the valve of the escape pipe, and, upon finding that the valve would not turn, put his head inside and was suffocated by the gas.

SURRENDER OF OLD SEA FIGHTER

LONG CAREER OF BATTLES

Acquired First Experience in War With Chinese When Youth—Daring Capture of Confederate Vessel in Civil War.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Rear Admiral Lester A. Beardslee, who died suddenly in Augusta, Ga., was one of the most interesting characters in the United States navy. He was born in Little Falls, N. Y., February 1, 1826. He was appointed acting midshipman on March 3, 1850, and from May, 1851, to January, 1856, he was attached to the sloop Plymouth, which cruised among the East Indies.

While attached to the China station he participated in one battle and several skirmishes with the Chinese army in Shanghai. Returning to this country in the spring of 1855, he entered the naval academy the following October and graduated until June, 1856.

After being promoted to a passed midshipman, June 29, 1859, he was detailed for special service on the steam frigate Merrimac. His promotions to be master and lieutenant followed soon afterward. On July 16, 1861, he was made lieutenant commander and was attached to the monitor Nantucket. He participated in the attack of the iron-clad fleet upon the defenses of Charleston harbor on April 7, 1863, and in the capture of the rebel steamer Florida at Bahia by the United States ship Wachusett.

After the Florida's capture Lieutenant Commander Beardslee was detailed to take the prize to Hampton Roads. When the Wachusett was abreast of the Florida, Beardslee called out to one of the seamen:

"You tell your captain to surrender without any fuss, or we'll end your damned craft down among the sharks. Understand?"

From 1867 to 1868 he commanded the steam gunboat Aroostook, and after that in succession, commanded the steamer Saginaw of the Pacific squadron, and the steam sloop Lackawanna on the same station. He was commissioned commander June 12, 1869. For a year after that he was attached to the hydrographic office at Washington. From May, 1872, to April 1, 1875, he was in command of the Washington navy yard. During the next four years he was a member of the United States board for testing iron, steel and other metals.

In November, 1880, Commander Beardslee got his captain's commission and with it a leave of absence for two years. He commanded the receiving ship Franklin during 1883 and 1884, when he was transferred to the steam frigate Powhattan. Later he was stationed at the torpedo station and on the receiving ship Vermont. From 1891 to 1894 he commanded the naval station at Port Royal, S. C. He was made commodore June 27, 1893, and rear admiral March 1, 1895, being retired some years later.

OREGON TO HAVE AN EXPOSITION

Government Asked for $2,125,000 to Celebrate Lewis and Clarke Expedition.

REFORM OF TIMBER LAWS

Bill Introduced in Senate to Withdraw Public Domain from Entry to Correct Scandal—Democrats to Fight Sugar Tariff.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—In a bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Mitchell, the government is asked to appropriate $2,125,000 to aid in the celebration of the exploration of the Oregon country by Capts. Meriwether Lewis and William Clark. The Lewis and Clark exposition will be held in Portland, Ore., commencing May 1, 1905, and ending November 1, 1905.

Senator Mitchell said in reference to the bill that the exposition had received the support of the state of Oregon through an appropriation of $500,000 and a contribution by the citizens of Portland amounting to $400,000. Another $100,000 is now being raised in Portland, and nearly every state as far east as Minnesota has pledged itself to assist financially in making the enterprise a success.

Senator Hansbrough introduced a bill which, by implication, repeals the timber and stone act, under which land is now acquired at $2 50 an acre regardless of its real value. The measure is intended to cure defects in existing laws, put a quietus upon speculation in public timber lands and an end to the frauds which recently have grown into a national scandal.

The secretary of the interior is authorized under the new bill to make examination and estimates relative to the quanuty and value of the timber and stone on the public lands and to sell the right to dispose of the same, in such quantities as may seem advisable, to the highest bidder. If Senator Hansbrough's measure becomes a law all the timber land on the public domain will be withdrawn from entry.

The Democrats are determined to make a fight to have refined sugar taken off when the Cuban treaty comes before the house. The Republicans, in order to prevent the matter coming up, will bring forward a rule that an amendment to the reciprocity measure will not be in order.

On the adoption of this rule will center the first great fight of the Fifty-eighth congress. With the Michigan and California Republicans, 16 strong, lies the decision of how it will go. The Republican leaders, fully alive to the situation, are attempting to get the prospective insurgents in line.

WORSE THAN REPORTED.

Hottentot Uprising Grows More Serious Daily and Germans Are Fleeing.

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—(Special Cable.)—Private dispatches corroborate the fears that the uprising in German Africa is more widespread and dangerous than announced by the government. It is said there is danger of the entire German population being massacred by the Hottentots. The number in revolt is growing by the thousands every day.

Dispatches from Kenhardt, Cape Colony, state that skirmishes are taking place and a battle is expected. Foremost among the native revolutionists are the Bondelz Warts, who a short while ago massacred the German garrison at Warmbad. German colonists are fleeing to Cape Colony in large numbers.

ANSWER IN TARIFF SUIT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The bureau of insular affairs has filed answer to the suit of Warner, Barnes & Co., an English corporation, to recover $102,253 import duties collected in Manila and Iloilo on goods brought from the United States into the Philippine Islands between the signing of the treaty of peace and the passage of the Philippine tariff act. The government insists that the insurrection created a condition of war which carried with it the power to secure revenue by levying custom duties and other taxes. It is further contended that the custom duties collected were authorized by congress. The court also challenges the right of an English corporation to maintain a suit in the court of claims against the United States.

FAVORS PAY FOR DRILLS.

Col. Frank S. Rutledge Approves Recommendation of Gen. Hall.

The recommendation of Acting Adjutant General Hall of the United States army, that the members of the National guard be paid for drill attendance at the rate of 43 cents per drill, has the approval of Col. Frank I. Rutledge of the Eighteenth regiment, N. G. P.

"I regard it as a move in the right direction," he said. "It will require the men to attend more drills per month, and those who do not do so will be dealt with by the summary courts. In this way that loss will be more than merely the 43 cents a drill. If the recommendation is followed I believe it will result in the betterment of the National guard."

"NOT A CANDIDATE" SAYS SENATOR HANNA

Angry Over the Alabama Boom Story, He Reiterates That He Is Not After Nomination.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—A story which aroused Senator Hanna's ire was printed in a Washington newspaper this morning. It was a dispatch from Birmingham, Ala., to the effect that literature boosting Mr. Hanna for the presidency was being sent to that and other southern states from Ohio. One circular, according to the dispatch, announced that "his friends, who are in charge of affairs, desire that the boom take life and form outside of Ohio."

"There is absolutely no truth in that story so far as I am aware," said Senator Hanna this evening. "I do not believe any such literature is being circulated, but if I am mistaken on that point, it is being done without my authority. Moreover, any such course would be idiotic, especially in view of my attitude in regard to the presidency. I announced right after the Ohio election last week that my attitude on that point was not modified by the outcome of the campaign. I was not a candidate before the state election, and am not a candidate now, and will not be."

Mr. Hanna confirmed a statement made in New York yesterday by Governor-elect Myron Herrick, that he had no vice presidential aspirations. The colonel has been mentioned in connection with second place on the ticket next year, and it was believed that he was pleased with the suggestion. But he now declares that he expects to serve out his term as governor, and in no sense is a candidate for vice presidential honors. Senator Hanna said tonight that Mr. Herrick's statement could be and should be adopted as final.

Senator Hanna's secretary is preparing the call for the quadrennial meeting of the Republican national committee, of which the senator is the chairman. The meeting will be held at the Arlington in this city December 11 and 12. The committee will then determine the time and place of the next national convention.

CHICAGO TROLLEY MEN DECIDED TO STRIKE TODAY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A general strike of the 5,000 employes of the Chicago City railway was decided upon tonight at a mass meeting of the men. They will quit work at 4 o'clock tomorrow morning.

This decision was reached after a controversy that has lasted for over two weeks between the representatives of the union and the management of the railway. The demands of the union were for a wage increase of 25 per cent, recognition of the union, and several other minor concessions. The company requested a postponement of hostilities until Saturday, when a final answer would be given, but the men refused to delay action any longer and decided to quit work to enforce their demands.

The company, it is said, has several hundred men in readiness to take the places of the strikers and will endeavor to run the cars with non-union men. The Chicago City railway controls all the surface lines running on the south side of the city, making a total of over 230 miles of track.

Bido will co-operate with Great Britain against the Mullah and in the effort to prevent the landing of contraband arms along the coast.

NEW DIRECTOR ARRIVES TODAY

Dur- e forenoon he will meet several if ll the members of the technical ols committee of the Carnegie insti- board of trustees, and the practical nuing of his work as director will be de.

Mr. Hamerschlag, when seen at his of- e in New York yesterday by Frank A. arker, staff correspondent of the Ga- ette, said:

"I have not been officially notified of my election, and until I am I cannot dis- uss the matter. I was informally noti- ied of my selection over the long-distance telephone by a Pittsburgh friend this morning. More than that, I know nothing except what I see in the papers. I can- not say whether I will accept the posi- ion or not until after I am officially noti- ied. It will be a great work and will equire all the time and thought of any an who takes the management of the hool. That would, of course, necessi- te the giving up of my large practice in ew York and elsewhere, and that point equires some consideration.

"The honor comes as somewhat of a rprise to me," Mr. Hamerschlag con- inued. "It was only two days ago I arned that my name was being con- idered. I had indorsed the name of an- other gentleman for the position, and it comes to me, if it comes at all, unsought."

Mr. Hamerschlag is a man of remark- ably youthful appearance. While he is 37 years old, he appears much younger.

THE LORENZ OPERATION IS PERFORMED HERE

Congenital Dislocation of the Hip Treated Bloodlessly at the West Penn Medical College.

The Lorenz operation for the cure of congenital dislocation of the hip was per- formed at the West Penn Medical college yesterday afternoon, the operator being Dr. S. L. McCurdy. The patient was a girl 8 years old, the daughter of a family named Miller of Overhill street, Eleventh ward.

The operation was entirely bloodless, the whole being conducted in precisely the same manner that Dr. Lorenz, the Aus- trian surgeon, made famous in America, first in his treatment of Lolita Armour, daughter of J. Ogden Armour, the Chicago millionaire, and then in many other cases throughout the country.

By strong and quick manipulation the dislocation was reduced until it was evi- dent that the femur had been brought close to the normal position.

The success of the operation can not be decided for some time. The little girl had been lame on account of the dislocation of the hip since she was born, one limb being longer than the other. When the opera- tion was concluded the two limbs were of equal length. Her hip is now in a plaster of paris cast to keep it in the right posi- tion. She will be required to lay still for about two weeks, and will then be allowed to walk on crutches. At the end of two months the success of the operation will be known.

CARNEGIE ART GALLERY MAKING NEW RECORDS

Visitors This Year Outnumber Those at Any Former Regu- lar Exhibition.

The attendance at the art galleries of Carnegie Institute, where the annual exhibition is now in progress, is breaking records for the regular exhibition. On Monday there were 11,808 persons in the galleries, and each day the number shows increase over the corresponding day of preceding years. In these comparisons last year is omitted on account of the fact that the exhibition in 1902 was a loan exhibition, and, therefore, in a differ- ent class from that of 1903 or any other year since the galleries were opened. The remarkable collection made at that time, joined with the fact that over half of the pictures were from Pittsburgh and Alle- gheny and were viewed by thousands of friends of the owners, brought the at- tendance up to figures not to be reached by a competitive exhibition.

Director John W. Beatty of the depart- ment of fine arts is greatly pleased with the interest this year has shown.

"There are between 3,500 and 4,000 visit- ors at the galleries each week day," he said yesterday, "and there is no doubt of this year breaking all past records for similar exhibitions."

BANQUET PLANS PREPARED.

Prominent Speakers to Attend the Chamber of Commerce Function.

The committee on banquet of the cham- ber of commerce met yesterday afternoon, Chairman William M. Kennedy presiding. Reports from the sub-committee on ar- rangements indicate that the annual ban- quet, to be held in the Hotel Schenley on Thursday evening, November 24, will be- come most successful and interesting ever held by the chamber.

William H. Keech of the committee on speakers, reported that several distin- guished gentlemen have been invited to be present and that acceptances have been received from Samuel W. Pen- nacker, United States Senator J. B. Kelker, Attorney General P. C. Knox Assistant Postmaster General W. S. Shoemberger.

John B. Barbour, Jr., chairman of the committee, reported that all ar- rangements have been completed for the lights and decorations.

COUNTY BOND ISSUE WILL PAY FOUR PER CENT

County commissioners will be com- pelled to advertise again for bids for the $500,000 road bonds. The readvertisement to float the issue was ordered several unsatisfactory bids and county officials decided that the 3½ per cent interest which the bonds bore was insufficient to command a satisfac- tory price for the bonds. The new issue will be 4 per cent interest.

Gazette Room-Renting Bureau.

Why business grows by careful adver- tising. Why should you wait? You have a good house—too big. Why don't you rent a few rooms and cut down the expense of running it? There is a big demand for rooms—good large rooms that will give one a sense of comfort when the snow begins to fly. Don't be always rushing out of poor rooms and applying to our Rooming Exchange for better ones. If you will try an ad in The Pittsburgh Gazette, stating where you are and what you have to rent, you will be surprised to see how fast the applicants will come in. It's cheap, only a few cents, and you don't need to repeat the dose often. It does the work.

St. Louis World's Fair Bureau.

Every ticket office of the Pennsylvania lines is a free information bureau of the St. Louis world's fair at St. Louis in 1904. CONSUMPTION WAS FEARED.

(Two Beautiful Women Restored to Health By Pe-ru-na.)

Don't Neglect That Cold.

Get a Bottle of Pe-ru-na.

Take It According to Directions.

You Will Be Surprised How Quickly Pe-ru-na Will Cure It.

A Beautiful Girl's Experience.

MISS AMELIA WEYMER, Appleton, writes:

"Early last summer I contracted a cold which seemed to hang on to me and could not be shaken off. From the head it went to the throat, and then affected my lungs. My mother felt very anxious and as we had used Peruna in the family before, she ad- vised me to try it. I was somehow very opposed but was persuaded to try Peruna. Using it one day convinced me that it was no ordinary medicine, within a week I was much better and in two weeks I was well, and I felt much stronger and in much better health generally. I was perfectly sat- isfied with the results from the use of Peruna."—Miss Amelia Weymer.

Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way:

A person catches a cold. The cold is not properly cured, and they quickly catch another one. This cold is dilly- dallied with by no treatment, or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues.

Then they catch another cold and be- gin to cough. Then they take cough syrups, but they do no good.

By and by they get tired of taking medicine, and give up in despair.

Their cold continues, and their cough grows worse. Then they apply to a doctor, only to discover that they are in the first stages of consumption.

At any time during the progress of the catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to check the progress of the catarrh. Sometimes after a diagnosis of consumption has been made by competent physicians Peruna has permanently cured. We have testimonials from many people who have been given up to die of consump- tion, who claim to have been cured by Peruna. We do not recommend Peruna as a consumption cure, but we do claim that it will prevent consumption if taken before the disease is thoroughly estab- lished. It is only the cases of incipient consumption that we feel confident that Peruna will cure.

Miss Minnie Palmer, 75 Austin Ave., Atlanta, Ga., writes:

"Last winter I caught a severe cold which developed into catarrh of the head and throat. I tried sprays and other remedies, but nothing gave relief. Then I tried Peruna and after the use of four bottles I am entirely without a trace of catarrh, have a splendid appe- tite and am in fine health."—Minnie Palmer.

Congressman George Henry White, of Tarboro, North Carolina, writes the fol- lowing letter to Dr. Hartman, in regard to the merits of the great catarrh cure, Peruna:

"I am more than satisfied with Peruna and find it to be an excellent remedy for the grip and catarrh. I have used it in my family, and they all join me in recommending it as an excellent rem- edy."—George H. White.

If you do not derive prompt and satis- factory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable ad- vice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

It's There, All the Same.

Napoleon crossing the Alps was being exhibited in panorama, and as the scenes passed no picture of the Little Corporal appeared. Finally, just as a scene unwound in which there were great rocks, sev- eral voices in the audience demanded to know where Napoleon was. "He's there, all right," calmly re- plied the lecturer, "only you can't see him—he's hiding behind the rocks."

Our fine big Soda Fountain is lost to view at Main Entrance to East Store owing to screens hiding unfinished departments—but it's there. Every sort of drink worthy of the largest fountain in the State.

Our Diligent Pursuit of Fine to Finest Hosiery for Women and Children.

We ignore all methods of selecting hosiery, first, by sending our buyers each year to the greatest factories of Europe; second, by purchasing direct from most noted makers of hosiery; third, in not depending upon importers; fourth, by throwing the import- er's profit, a considerable item, to the side of each customer who buys at our Hosiery Counter.

Every woman who selects a pair of stockings here, of whatsoever grade, pays much less for that grade than its counterpart sells for elsewhere.

That is easily understood. The store that has to depend upon the importer or the jobber necessarily has to pay more for its goods than we who import direct.

We bring over direct from Paris and London our Silk Stockings.

We bring over direct from England and Germany our Lisle Stockings.

We bring over direct from Ireland, France, Germany and England our Cashmere Stockings.

And from Balbriggan, Ireland, our Balbriggan Hosiery comes direct from the firm which orginated it over a century ago.

Our Winter lines are completely ready, and reference is here with had to underprices.

Women's French Silk Hosiery in various effects, lace ankles in white and black and black with self-em- broidery, lace ankles and solid black embroidered in assorted colorings, blac with colored clocks, white with black clocks, white lace, white embroidered in pink and blue, black with lace medallions in black and white, and stockings with lace insertings, ranging in price from $3.00 to $18.00 a pair.

Plain Black Silk Stockings for women, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00 and up to $3.00 a pair.

Women's real Irish Balbriggan Stockings, plain black cotton, plain black cashmere, as well as embroidered, black cotton embroidered in assorted colors, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and up to $4.00 a pair.

Women's plain black Stockings of Maco cotton, black with white feet and soles, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c a pair.

Women's black Lisle Stockings with lace ankles, or black embroidered in colors, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and up to $2.00 a pair.

Children's fine French Stockings, corduroy and one one rib, 60c to $1.30 a pair, according to size.

Children's plain Black Cotton Stockings, some with linen knees, and reinforced feet, 18c, 25c, 35c, 50c a pair.

Great News for Women.

We wouldn't waste many words over an ordinary $5 hat, but these hats being totally dissimilar to those usually sold for $5.00, are worthy of the best words we can say of them. We are willing to go on record that they are fit to grace the head of any wom- an, no matter what her idea of finery may be. They are stylish to the latest decree, there are more varied ways of trimming than we can recount, there are velvet hats, there are cloth hats, and each one is the biggest $5.00 worth of hat beauty women were ever asked to see and judge.

We are making a special feature of this $5.00 hat, not to the detriment of our very numerous lines, but simply because it is the most perfect hat we ever had for the even $5.00.

In Untrimmed Hats we are showing all the Winter shapes at 50c worth $1.00, at $1.50 worth $3.00, at $2.00 worth $4.00 and a very special number in an untrimmed hat of fur beaver at $2.50, formerly priced very low when sold for $4.00.

Trays of Flowers, Wings, Quills and Birds from which you can choose your own trimmings for the small sum of 25c each.

Special Sale of Women's Coats.

Today we place on sale a collection of gar- ments for women which we conscientiously be- lieve to be the best offer, each of its kind, of the season. Stated the reason for the remarkable underpricing on such handsome Coats and Wraps at the height of the season in last evening's papers, i. e., weather conditions which militated against the manufacturer and against the retailer. Ex- tremely large stocks, the result. Extremely low prices for you, the customer, is another result, and, we should add, a most pleasing one.

In this assemblage will be found every model that has found favor this season, among them de- signs which are exclusive to us alone, modeled after Paris and Vienna creations.

For $10.00—we show three styles which are specially priced and specially interesting. One in fine Ly- manaville cheviot, half-fitted back; another in light weight kersey, 30-inch length, with wide band trim- ming and heavy satin lining; another 30-inch de- sign, of kersey in black or tan, with cape. Any of these were formerly priced at $15.00.

For $15.00 you will see some handsome three-quarter length new model coats of imported zibelines, broadcloths and kerseys. Both black and colors, whichever you desire. Elegant garments these, lined throughout with guaranteed satin and elab- orately trimmed with braid and jeweled buttons.

For $20.00—a price that seems to be popular with so many women—there are some very beautiful crea- tions, among which are full length and three-quarter length coats that are especially admirable for even- ing or dress wear. This line is a very attractive one—but one of each model in the group.

Special Sale of Women's Suits.

It began last Monday, it marked the opening of our new suit section to the women of Pittsburg and environs. It has proven the most satisfactory, the most successful sale we ever held. It deserved all of the success meted out to it.

Suits of such materials, of such beauty of de- sign, so late as to style and fashion, surely never before were offered thus early in the season for such remarkably less prices. For those who missed the first days of the sale, we repeat prices—

For $19.00, suits of handsome all-wool cheviots, either in solid colors or black, in fancy men's wear tweeds in several combinations; with trottuer skirts and skirted coats; plainly tailored or with jeweled but- tons and velvet ornamentation. Some of these coats have the stylish cape. Suits that we know are unapproachable at less than $25.00.

For $25.00, new models included in a purchase we made last week—black or colors, plain cloth or fancy mixtures, elaborate or plainly tailored ef- fects; many are sample garments which, bought regularly, would cost you $35.00.

For $35.00 there is a very good selection—some are $50.00 garments, bought much under regular price and to be sold the same way. Every seasonable cloth, modeled in every desirable shade of recent design. Long or short coats, skirted blouses, or long coats in corset or fly front effect.

For $50.00—a group reduced from $60.00, $65.00, $70.00 and $75.00, made up of imported and American models, among them some of the handsomest crea- tions that were displayed in our booth at the Ex- position.

Thursday, November 12, 1903.

Having successfully asserted his right to act as the executor of the Bennett will which he drew up, Mr. Bryan is off for Europe, but in leaving he fired a parting shot at ex-President Cleveland, denouncing his administration and impugning his personal integrity with the fluency of vituperation which Mr. Bryan always exhibits in dealing with that subject. The time is about past when Mr. Bryan had power to help or hurt any man in the public esteem, but his rancorous attacks upon Cleveland have undoubtedly contributed to the marked revival of popular regard for the last Democratic president.

The compensation fixed by Bellevue council as a consideration of the franchise desired by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, is defective in that it is not proportioned to actual use but simply fixes a lump sum. The better plan would be to make the charge so much a foot of single track so that increased trackage in the future would yield a proportionate increase of revenue. But even as the matter stands the Bellevue council sets a good example to Pittsburgh council, for at least they are affirming the principle of public compensation for public property, while here the rule of private compensation is still tenaciously adhered to.

It is peculiarly unfortunate that at a time when the obvious policy is to encourage business activity a general suspension of building operations should be threatened. The old mischief maker, the sympathetic strike, is at the bottom of the trouble, although the present difficulty may be described as a sympathetic lockout. A strike on a declining market must necessarily be a failure, and it needs no argument to show that now that there has been a general laying-aside of building plans until conditions improve, it is dead against labor interests to throw further discouragements in the way of enterprise. Capital and labor in quarreling over the stakes are knocking over the table and breaking up the game.

The German cruiser Panther, which sunk a Haitian war vessel during the last ructions there, has arrived at San Domingo. Another German cruiser, the Gazelle, is also on the scene, and landed marines. The right of Germany to take such action for the protection of her interests is sustained by international law, but the United States should not allow any occasion for it to exist. Our government acted with becoming energy in sending vessels to San Domingo to prevent breaches of international law, but we should have constantly on duty in the West Indies a sufficient naval force to perform promptly any police duty that presents itself. That is our sphere of influence and Germany is as much out of place there as our cruisers would be in the North sea, in case of a revolutionary movement there.

In presenting some petitions yesterday against Senator Smoot, Senator Hoar took occasion to remark that the senders of such petitions ought to know that such action was as improper as similar petitions should be if addressed to the supreme court of the United States in any case pending before that tribunal. This is a novel constitutional doctrine which could hardly occur to anyone not accustomed to breathe the atmosphere of prerogative which fills the senate chamber. It has been always supposed that the senate was a law-making body and not simply a law-interpreting body like a court, and as such there could be no breach of propriety whatever in petitioning it about anything. The petitions may not deserve consideration but the right to present them has been regarded as incontestable. It might be mentioned that the Constitution expressly forbids any abridgment of the right of the people to petition the government, but the senate has long since thrown off the trammels of the Constitution and has become a law unto itself.

The police department is resuming discharge of a duty which has been much neglected, in starting out to clear the streets of professional beggars. Some years ago Pittsburgh was notably exempt from this nuisance, as it was known among people in this line of business that no police indulgence could be expected and they had better keep away. But in the general letting down of the standards of administration which has taken place, the professional beggars have been accorded opportunities of which they have taken advantage. Even so prominent and crowded a corner as that at Fifth avenue and Wood street has been made a stand for their trade. There is absolutely no excuse for street begging. There is provision for people who really are unable to care for themselves, but as a rule street beggars are frauds who make a good thing out of the readiness of people to sympathize with apparent distress. Like every other gainful occupation beggary flourishes in proportion to the patronage it receives, so that those who give to street beggars are promoting the spread of beggary.

If facts had any relation to Senator Morgan's views upon public affairs the news from Bogota would disturb him. He has predicted a heroic war by Colombia against the United States; he has had visions of other Central and South American states joining with Colombia to drive the United States from Panama and thus force the adoption of the Nicaragua route, the advantages of which as set forth by Senator Morgan are so great that they fill several volumes of the Congressional Record. But Colombia appears to have more than she can manage merely to hold herself together. Two of the largest states are in revolt against the central government and according to the latest advices a mob paraded the streets of the capital shouting execrations upon the government. The Bogota politicians have so far overreached themselves by their knavish greed that the loss of Panama may become the least of their troubles. Even the unwearying aid of Senator Morgan can no longer promote Colombia's obstruction of the isthmian canal. That matter has passed forever from her control, but if she could get a decent government she would profit greatly by the construction of the canal insured by Panama's independence of Bogota rule.

Trouble for the Treaty.

There is trouble ahead for the Cuban reciprocity measure. The first fight will probably be made by the Democrats to put refined sugar on the free list. This may come on the proposition of a rule to prohibit amendments of the treaty, instead of on the direct question, and it is intimated the California and Michigan Republicans may hold the balance of power. It is a notable fact that nearly all of the members of congress who made records against Cuban reciprocity, before the election of 1902, were left at home by their constituents, the Californians being conspicuous exceptions to the rule. The Michigan men were defeated, though it has been claimed they were not retired on this issue. The provocation for the fight on the refined sugar scale is the provision, unnecessarily inserted by the senate, that no change shall be made in the sugar tariff during the life of the treaty. This provision probably has no force in any event, except it could be considered as a sort of pledge. The courts have decided clearly that no legislative body has the power to pass retroactive legislation, or a measure in restraint of the constitutional power of its successors. In other words any law may be amended or repealed.

There are interests hostile to Cuban reciprocity. That is well known. It is equally well known the mass of the people support President Roosevelt's attitude on the question. Congress must choose between the special interests and the people and if it chooses wrongly, it can only charge to itself any radical change in its membership that occurs in next year's elections. Cuban reciprocity ought to be indorsed without opposition.

Education as a Force.

Alfred Moseley and his education commission arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday and began an investigation of the American school system as exemplified in this industrial center. Mr. Moseley is well remembered as the gentleman who was here sometime ago with a commission studying the labor question. That commission reported adversely on the American workman, but very favorably upon the American employer. As workingmen, imbued by the tenets of English unionism, the members of the labor commission appeared not quite able to divest themselves of certain prejudices. Their tour was probably of very little benefit to them or to British industry, though there may be unconscious results in the future.

Mr. Moseley's education commission is composed of a variety of material, from Oxford and Cambridge professors to ordinary teachers and workmen. It should be able to see better through Mr. Moseley's eyes than the labor commission. But whatever opinions are entertained by the members there is no doubt that Mr. Moseley himself has grasped the truth. "What we are doing for the favored few," said he. "You are doing for the many. In England there is practically no free education for persons over 13 years of age, while in America there is free instruction for all." That goes very near to the heart of the difference between the two nations, for it infringes upon the matter of class distinction. Popular education is the hall mark of democratic equality.

It remains for the future to determine just what men like Mr. Moseley may be able to do for Great Britain to close the gap between the two nations in educational and industrial matters. Surely Mr. Moseley is on the right track. He understands what put the United States in the forefront of nations, whether or not he can get his fellow countrymen to understand as he does. Not only has popular education done much for the United States, but compulsory education of thorough character has laid the foundation for German commercial progress. The United States has achieved results commensurate with its marvelous natural resources; Germany has wrought miracles out of adverse conditions. Both of these things have been made possible only by educated craftsmen.

Ousting of Councilmen.

After many delays and some expert dodging, the cases of Councilmen Platt and Donahoe have been passed upon by the supreme court and the expected has happened. Both are ousted on the ground that they do not reside in the wards to which they have been accredited. Meantime they have been able to assist in the hold-up of legislation that has been aggravated since the Democratic-Citizens ring has been in control.

There are other gentlemen sitting in councils and serving the Democratic-Citizens machine who are ineligible to their seats on the same ground. They should take the hint and retire. These men, like those ousted by the court, live in the East End, but pretend to represent down-town wards. Under the foolish system of electing select councilmen by wards, the down-town district is given a representation out of all proportion to its resident population. To make the matter worse it is represented by non-residents. Possibly the East Enders who get in for the down-town wards are merely trying to equalize the East End representation according to population, but the method is not satisfactory to either the East End, South Side or Lawrenceville.

Some of these non-resident councilmen were elected on the Republican ticket in the ring days, just as were the majority of those in the air-tight combine. But the moment the new machine secured control of the administration and the old machine was routed, the whole kit and caboodle went over to the support of the Democratic-Citizens bosses. The air-tight combine which had practiced a mild species of mercenary hold-up in its earlier days, is now engaged in a more vicious obstruction of public business at the behest of the new political control.

By virtue of the legal ouster of non-resident members and the coming election the people of Pittsburgh ought to be able, for once, to get city councils that will give some intelligent consideration to public business with an eye to the public welfare. They are certainly aware that the re-election of any member of the air-tight combine, now discrediting the name Republican, will not assist to that end. It is equally certain the re-election of those Democratic-Citizens members who have voted with the combine for adjournments and other obstructive measures will not help the cause of genuine reform. And it is no less apparent that those Democratic-Citizen members in the common branch, who have had no motive other than the orders of the bosses, cannot be trusted. The late county election has shown that the people are able to place responsibility where it belongs; that they resent the assumption that they can be fooled all the time by promises that are never redeemed, and that they know how to punish duplicity.

Murphy as the People.

The latest returns from the election in New York City are that there is no McClellan boom for the Democratic nomination for president. The people are fooled again, especially the good government Democrats who were induced to vote for a Tammany Hall candidate for mayor on the representation that the mayoralty was merely to be a step in his progress toward the presidency. But it seems that there was nothing at all in it, except that this is where the laugh occurs, and that it is Mr. Murphy's turn to laugh. It is explained by Mr. Murphy's friends that he has all along believed Judge Alton B. Parker to be New York's strongest man for the presidency, and that they knew it all the time, but didn't feel at liberty to say anything about it until now. Of course not. If they had mentioned it before Tuesday of last week it might have injured Mr. McClellan as a candidate for mayor, and it was for mayor that Mr. Murphy was really running him and it was to be mayor that he wanted him elected. He is elected, and there you are. The next thing is something else, and as the story goes, it is Parker. The Democrats who thought that a vote for McClellan for mayor was almost the same as a vote for president, and who but for this thought would have voted for good government for New York and against Tammany may now do some more thinking. They find that what they really voted for was Murphy's little game, and they don't know what that is, except that it is something to make Mr. Murphy feel good. Of course, a part of the game is the graft of a great city, and undoubtedly more of it is the tribute that must be paid by the state and national politicians to the man who owns the town and knows its asset value.

This announcement that Murphy is not for McClellan for the Democratic nomination, and that he thinks Parker is the one man who can get New York's electoral vote, is the first notice that Murphy is in control, and it is notice to the Cleveland men and to all others that they must see Murphy. The announcement by the same people that the boss doesn't think well of Gorman as a presidential possibility is likewise notice to politicians outside New York that Murphy is the man who has the Democracy of the Empire state in his vest pocket. It is not sure that Murphy will be for Parker to the end, nor is it sure yet for whom he will be. He has not committed himself. His "friends" are doing the talking, which leaves him free to do as suits him when it suits him. What it really means is that Murphy wants it understood that he is the people, and that as the people he is not to be counted out when stock is taken.

If it be true that Mr. Rockefeller and his friends have obtained control of the United States Steel, people who have parted with their shares at a sacrifice will find that it is another case of blessings brightening as they take their flight and becoming positively gilt-edged after they have gone beyond recall.

Colombia is now willing to put canal concessions on the bargain counter.

Now it is J. P. Morgan who refuses to accept his resignation. This might be considered final were it not that others have done the same and later thought better of their refusal.

Since the election is over in New York it is said that Mr. Murphy has been for Judge Parker for president all the time, and was only pretending about McClellan. Dear, dear!

People who have been worrying about how to pronounce the name of the former Miss Goelet will now pronounce it duchess of Roxburghe. Or, how would it do to forget it?

Two hundred policemen couldn't control the crowd that wanted to see the Goelet-Roxburghe wedding. This sets a new pace in the history of the four hundred.

Director Scandrett's prospectus of the great moral reform that is to overtake Allegheny city by April 1 reads as well as any heretofore issued just before election.

Influence of Army Posts.

It should be the policy of the government to place army posts at as many points in the country as possible, as there is no better way of giving the people a continued personal interest in the army, and in this way making them feel that it is part and parcel of them and not separate and distinct, something they seldom see and do not understand, as is now very frequently felt to be the case. The reflex action of this interest of the people in the army would, too, have a beneficial effect on the army, and officers and men would have a kinder feeling and more direct interest in civil affairs and in the industrial progress of the nation. It certainly is not well to set them apart, and keep them away from the turmoil of commercial and civil life, the toil and anxiety of those by whose efforts the army is maintained. In this way the sentiment would be mutual, people would learn to appreciate more the value of the army in time of peace as well as war, and officers and men would learn to better appreciate and know their fellow-citizens.—Nashville American.

Turkish Diplomacy.

Apparently the sultan thinks that the Austrian-Russian proposals respecting the reforms in the administration of Macedonia were merely submitted for approval. He has caused his ministers to prepare counter-proposals and is preparing for a long diplomatic campaign. Unfortunately the European concert has so often exposed its internal weakness in its dealings with the sublime porte that the red-handed assassin in Constantinople has some excuse for believing in his sublimity. There are indications of a complete understanding having been arrived at for once by the powers in the matter of the Macedonian program, but the advance of winter having made operations in the Balkans impracticable the sultan is likely to be spared from coercive measures until the spring. Meanwhile the surviving victims of Turkish "pacification" are perishing from cold and hunger. As usual the creaking and lumbering machinery of the European concert has been set a-going too late.—Philadelphia Record.

Applying a Good Law.

The law which Secretary Cortelyou has for the first time invoked to exclude an Anarchist from this country reflects public opinion, and the action of the secretary will be approved. There are enough Anarchists in this country now to spread the poison of their theories without borrowing from the Old World the teachers of revolution and social disruption. The knowledge of the legitimate fruits of Anarchism has been too dearly bought by the people of the United States to be disregarded, and those who are disposed to defy public opinion upon this point should be given to understand that there will be no more temporizing, no more misinterpretation of the term "freedom of speech," no more weak toleration of a propaganda that counsels the use of the torch, the bomb, and the deadly weapon.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Garbage Disposal.

The most recent illustration of the unsatisfactory conditions of garbage disposal in this country is afforded by a paper presented at the meeting of the American Public Health association at Washington on October 28. The authors deserve commendation for their persistent attempts "to collect a certain amount of first-hand information as to the condition of garbage disposal practice in the United States in the year 1902." The statistics show that most cities are still employing primitive means of garbage disposal, or even neglecting the service altogether, and emphasize anew the lack of accurate comparable figures from cities where any method what ever has been adopted. —Engineering News.

THE WOODEN INDIAN.

Behold the wooden Indian,
Who stands outside the door,
And guards, with frown and hatchet,
The old tobacco store.
He never beat a grocery bill,
He never told a lie,
He never took a longing look
At bourbon, fizz or rye.

Behold the wooden Indian—
A mass of oak and paint;
He never made a crooked move,
In faith, he is a saint.
He never bought a stock of chips
And sat into a game;
He never rushed a chorus girl,
Or flirted with a dame.

Behold the wooden Indian,
Who, on the other hand,
Was never known to help the poor
That fill this glorious land;
Who never heard the piteous cry
Of him who starved alone—
Who never gave a hungry dog
So much as one small bone.

Behold the wooden Indian
(And clay is much like wood),
Who never did a bit of harm,
Nor yet a bit of good.
His family is not extinct—
In fact, one often meets
A lot of wooden Indians
A-walking on the streets!

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"When a man has spent
His very last cent,
The world looks blue—you bet;
But give him a dollar,
And hear him holler
There's life in the old world yet."
—J. Skiggs.

You bet!

So what's the use worrying? If you haven't a dollar today you can afford to feel blue; but if you hustle around and get one tomorrow you will feel brighter than if you hadn't been blue today.

You know, or at least some folks do, how good a plain, but plenteous meal tastes after a day's fast, or a week on short rations.

It isn't nice to have things go wrong, but how much nicer they seem when they come around all right again!

You know how good a boil feels after it has burst; also the restfulness that follows the extraction of a bealed tooth; also the pleasurable after-sensations associated with a smashed finger nail.

Yes, this is philosophy, natural philosophy, and may be thus summed up: Any hurt feels good after it has quit hurting.

This philosophy is self-teaching. It never tires of repeating itself, but keeps right on until you become wise—that is, until you take the teachings seriously and stop repeating the things that hurt.

* * * * *

This philosophy is very helpful, especially to those who do the best they can to make life pleasant for all with whom they associate. They may not succeed as well as they might desire, but they are a whole lot happier than those who strive for their own success regardless of the welfare and comfort of others.

Have you ever known a man who had tried to do the best he could that wasn't happy, or at least contented, even if he hadn't grown rich?

It is speculation that causes so much discontent in the land.

You know how it is yourself, for you have often got to speculating in your mind as to how you could make money without working very hard, or not working at all. And you have kept on figuring and thinking in a speculative way until you felt that you had discovered a sure thing.

But—that's the word—but, your sure thing proved to be sure failure.

If you were a philosopher you would go over the whole thing in order to find where failures butted in. If you take no stock in philosophy you stopped only long enough to catch your wind, and then started on another line of speculation.

Your philosophic neighbor having made a like tour once upon a time, stopped right where the wreck occurred, counted the other wrecks aright, inquired into their causes and then returned to base loaded with wisdom and able to give valuable pointers on speculation.

* * * * *

But then there is speculation and speculation—that is, speculation based on facts and figures, and speculation based on suspicion.

If you have a few plain facts, and are able to figure correctly you may make something by speculating; but if you merely suspect there is something hidden somewhere and not being able to figure the probabilities of your suspicions materializing, your chances of failure are right good.

Some species of speculation are both harmless and entertaining. For instance: How many people have lived and died on the face of the earth since Adam's appearance in the Garden of Eden, say 6,000 years? This problem comes to the front every once in awhile, but never has been settled definitely.

The most interesting feature about the results of speculation on this problem is the wideness with which they differ. Indeed, the difference between the figures of so-called authorities, often exceed the probable number of all the people who have ever lived.

This brings to mind a letter bearing on this matter which happens to be on the desk awaiting an airing:

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer:—There appeared in your column some weeks ago a statement concerning the number of people this old earth would contain, providing they were all living, who have ever been born.

The person whom you quoted is made to say, that not only would they be packed together as close as they could stand, but would also be piled five persons high or something to that effect.

You know the article I refer to. I had thought of writing to you concerning the matter at that time, but decided I wouldn't.

However, I read in today's Gazette, the statement made by the Rev. Dr. Eaton (according to Mr. Russell), that if the world's population has doubled every century (which he thinks probable) they would make a solid mass 4,000 feet high, if they were all brought to earth again.

Foolish statements like the above have been made by men years ago. Figures upon figures have been used to prove them, and also to disprove them.

Not one calculation; not one figure is necessary to disprove such statements. Common sense alone will prove them false.

If such a vast population has lived, so have they died.

Is this earth a vast graveyard? Are we walking over the bones and dust of our ancestors?

According to the brilliant figuring of some, millions are buried on the inaccessible mountain tops, in the deserts; and in the frozen lands of the north. For they have used the entire land surface of the earth as a basis for their calculations.

Otherwise the parts of old mother earth occupied by man is nothing but a vast mass of human dust.

Once there was a man who said: "No wonder God won't take all to Heaven, for I don't think Heaven would hold all the human beings that have ever been on this earth."

"God bless your heart," said an old Methodist preacher, standing by, "all the human beings on this earth, or who ever have been on it, could find room in the one state of Texas."
T. J. A.

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer:—I have often thought that while it certainly must keep you busy going into detail on each subject that you treat of, and still beyond or above that the thing of having a good subject every day to write about must also be a task. Partially with that thought in view, and also to read how you treat of two subjects on which I have put a great deal of thought I write you this note.

The first subject is a stanza taken from Tennyson's "In Memoriam," and to quote from memory, runs in this way:

"Oh, yet we feel that somehow good
Will be the final goal of ill,
To pangs of nature, sins of will,
Defects of doubt, and taints of blood.

"That nothing walks with aimless feet;
That not one life shall be destroyed,
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete."

"Not enjoyment and not sorrow,
Is our destined end or way,
But to live that each tomorrow,
Finds us farther than today."
—Longfellow.

We would like to read your ideas on these subjects whenever you care to treat on them.
—J. K. MILLARD.

* * * * *

There is a widespread impression that topics to write on are scarce.

Don't people find topics to talk on every day in the year? If these are interesting enough to talk on, why not to write on?

Indeed, it is quite reasonable to conclude that the public would rather read about the things that are interesting enough to talk about, than about things in which they take no lively interest.

The reason so many find it difficult to write pieces for the papers is that they try to write about things that are not being talked about by the public, and with which the would-be writers are not sufficiently familiar to talk on them interestingly to their friends and neighbors.

The topics suggested above are all right, but what is the matter with the gentleman from Coraopolis writing on this? His views would be as interesting as those of anyone else and more so than of those who have not taken enough interest in this to commit the quoted lines bearing on them to memory.

Having made the break, our correspondent will be expected to make good.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—New York is eager for more duchesses. The report from London that an American widow, said to be from Illinois, will soon become a duchess, has set this city to wondering whether the lady is or is not Mrs. Frank Morris Avery. It did not take long for Mrs. Avery to be picked out as the future duchess. She is living in this city at present, and before she had taken her breakfast coffee today there were reporters at her hotel asking her if the rumor was true. Mrs. Avery would not affirm or deny. This in itself was enough to satisfy the gossips that the report was correct, and it is to be feared Mrs. Avery will have to deny it strenuously if she means to keep her fair head out of a coronet. The people of this city are inclined to jump at conclusions in such matters. Having settled it in their collective mind that this lady will accept a duke as a husband, there was a general hunting through Burke's Peerage to find out the eligible dukes in England. Only two were found. They are the duke of Norfolk, born in 1847, a widower, and the duke of St. Albans, born in 1570, a bachelor. There may not be anything in all this, but certainly it has afforded a pleasant subject of discussion in New York. The air is full of matrimonial rumors, all the consequence of the joyous ceremony in St. Thomas' church yesterday.

Courted Under Another's Name.

How easily it is for a man to make love to a girl under another man's name in New York, to say nothing of doing other things under a false cognomen is well illustrated in the case of the young fellow who has been posing as Ogden Goelet, and is supposed to be James Abeel. The detectives are said to know where Abeel is, but do not arrest him. The father of a girl who says she was deluded by this young man wants him arrested, and judging by the fuss made over the matter for a week past, it was supposed he would be taken into custody as soon as he could be found. But all there is about it is a great deal of talk, including bloodthirsty threats which come to nothing. It is a comedy now, although it threatened at one time to be a tragedy.

Policeman on Rampage.

A man possessing a policeman's badge and a revolver made himself somewhat conspicuous in Park Row this morning. He fired two shots from his revolver, one of the bullets going through a restaurant window, and created a disturbance which stirred up the whole population. The man, who said he was a policeman, was arrested. It is only a few days since there was a similar case uptown. These affairs suggest the truth of the complaint heard frequently in New York, that the ordinary citizen sometimes finds himself in danger from the very men who should be his protectors. There are only a few policemen who ever go on a rampage, but that there are some has been evinced unpleasantly several times of late.

City Employes Expect Removal.

It is a question whether there is not a general laxity in the various departments of the municipal government consequent on the result of the election last week. Everyone in public service is doubtful of the course of events after the first of January. While all the clerks and other employes are doing their work steadily, it is with a perfunctory air that suggests the possibility of changes which may be not to their advantage. In the police department this spirit is to be noted. The inadequate police arrangements at the Roxburghe-Goelet wedding yesterday affords flagrant example.

Many New Hotels Opening.

Hotels are opening as numerously as theaters in the uptown regions of Manhattan. Two or three have opened within the last month, and only one has closed. It is noted that there is not such a rush to get rooms in the new hotels as was seen a few months ago. There is no question that business is not so good as it was. The list of arrivals at hotels from other cities is not so large and one can usually get a room at a moment's notice, especially at the newer, and therefore less known hostelries. Still, the horse show will soon be over and then there will be a rush, followed by the general coming of people from outside cities for the weeks preceding Christmas. Most of the hotel managers profess to be entirely satisfied with the outlook.

Jerome's Hobby Is Mechanics.

"One of our best customers is Mr. Jerome, the district attorney," said a hardware and tool merchant in Center street to me today. "You would hardly believe how many tools and materials for mechanical work he buys in the course of a month. Although, when in the criminal court building he appears to think of nothing but law business, when he gets to his home in the country he is always busy making something with steel or wood, or brass, or other material. He knows how to use tools as if he never did anything else. Anything new in the way of a mechanical appliance that we may get we bring to his attention and generally he will buy it. Mechanics are his relaxation, and when he is at his bench or lathe, in overalls, you would never know the quiet-looking man for the same individual as is known to many people as the 'Demon district attorney.' There is nothing like a machinist's workshop for a safety-valve when you live at high nerve pressure.

Rolled Peanut Around Block.

The fat man who rolled a peanut around a block in payment of an election bet last night, is resting easily this evening. He says the next time he makes a similar bet he will provide for the rooting of a sardine trunk. It would be easier for him then a peanut.

Device to Save Ships.

Mechanics, seafaring men and people generally have been besieging the big steamer Deutschland, over in Hoboken to inspect the new automatically-closed bulkhead, which she tested on her last trip from the other side. The appliance was found to work perfectly. The Deutschland and all the other vessels of the Hamburg-American line will be fitted with the invention. It may save a ship some day.

Jersey Mosquitoes Still Active.

Although snow has been falling heavily in some towns near New York and frost can be seen on the fences and meadow grass every morning and night, Jerseyites say mosquitoes are still active, while a truthful-looking commuter from Nutley declared to me this morning that buttercups and daisies are blooming in his village, while Jack-roses are growing on a bush in his garden in the open air.

Our Duty to Cuba.

The best-equipped senator who could successfully answer the appeal or satisfactorily refute the argument of the president's message asking congress to ratify the treaty with Cuba would have to be a very skilful and extraordinarily able speaker. The message of President Roosevelt is an almost perfect statement of reasons which should impel congress to favorable action upon the treaty. We do not see that he has omitted any essential point, nor has he in any respect overstated the case in which the country stands toward the proposition. He is careful not to say that we are bound in honor to ratify it. Doubtless it would be a fault to prove that we have made such a reserved engagement. But he assures us that "a failure to enact such legislation would come perilously near a repudiation of the pledged faith of the nation." This is the truth of the matter. It is accepted as such by every friend of the treaty. It cannot be denied by the enemies of it.—New York Times.

\+ \+ \+ \+ \+

There is no answer to the presidents arguments for the passing of the Cuban reciprocity treaty. That is the nation's plain duty. The national honor is involved in the matter, as the president says, Cuba has acted in good faith with us; we must act in equally good faith with her. The treaty is to her economic advantage, but it is to our economic advantage also. The Cuban market, already large, is destined soon to become of very great importance as the country grows and thrives under its new self-government. We cannot afford to permit Cuba, disappointed in us, to make an exclusive reciprocal arrangement with England or Germany or some other country eager for the trade. That trade belongs to us by natural right of geography, and we should be fools to throw it away.—Chicago Journal.

\+ \+ \+ \+ \+

The president's message to congress on Cuban reciprocity is of exemplary brevity, pointing out in a few words the mingled considerations of honor and interest that require congress to pass the act enabling the treaty to become effective. He dwells upon the peculiar bonds between Cuba and the United States; recalls that we are held to magnanimity, both by our record as liberator and by the frank way in which the republic of Cuba has granted us naval stations, trusting that we would not abuse the privilege and would in some fashion pay for it. We believe the president does well to emphasize the possibilities of profitable trade under the treaty. Morally the least of argument, it is practically one that may be made to appeal strongly to recalcitrants of the house and senate. The tone of the whole paper is somewhat less ringing than that of the shorter recommendations in the annual messages of 1901 and 1902, but this, probably, only means that the president feels more confident that his case is won. Two years ago, for example, we think he would have omitted the qualifying words in his final appeal: "A failure to enact such legislation would come perilously near a repudiation of the pledged faith of the nation." But caution of statement is refreshing in Mr. Roosevelt, and his message points a very plain issue of honor and expediency.—New York Evening Post.

Cuba has renounced the right of independent action and has bound herself against any foreign entanglement that might imperil our interests. She has granted us no coaling stations which strengthen our national defense. She has given us preferential rates by which we will gain the undisputed mastery in her market. All this rightfully calls for the reciprocal proffer which the treaty embodies. It is as much to our advantage as it is to the advantage of Cuba. We already have a large trade with the island, and it is capable of great expansion. By building up the industrial interests and prosperity of Cuba, as the reciprocity treaty will do, we shall make a constantly improving customer for our own products.

But, conclusive as is the argument of self-interest, even more commanding is the obligation of good faith. We have pledged ourselves by our deliberate interposition in Cuban affairs, by the assurances of our representatives, by our special demands and requirements, to enter into mutual commercial agreements. It was this that carried the treaty, and with the ratification of the treaty it would be an intolerable violation of faith not to pass the legislation which is needed to put it in operation.—Philadelphia Press.

\+ \+ \+ \+ \+

The president points out that we are relieved under moral obligations to grant this measure of relief or advantage to Cuba. By requiring Cuba to accept the Platt amendment, which gives us a certain control over the foreign and financial policies of the Cuban republic, we assumed unique relations toward that country. We virtually pledged ourselves to give it preference in our markets. The president does well to place the emphasis on the moral argument in favor of prompt ratification of the treaty, which indeed does not grant any great concessions as Cuba expected.—Indianapolis News.

\+ \+ \+ \+ \+

So far as Cuba is concerned the president has said all that is necessary, and has said it with ample force. We are in honor bound to grant Cuba such commercial advantages as those provided in the reciprocity treaty. We are so bound partly because we separated Cuba from Spain and radically altered her commercial relations with Europe, and partly because we have undertaken to control the foreign policy of Cuba within certain limits. In abridging her power to seek the best bargains she can make we have assumed a solemn moral responsibility to see that she shall suffer nothing by the result of our assertion of our own interests over what might be her interests. But in addition to this, we need better outlets for our goods, and the reciprocity treaty with Cuba will prove of quite as much advantage to us as to have paid too little attention, but it is safe to say that we, as he president, and he is entitled to some credit for putting the matter before congress and the country so frankly when there is considerable opposition to the treaty from a few powerful interests in this country.—Philadelphia Record.

Politics and Trades Unions.

Labor organizations throughout the country will do well to heed the warning conveyed by President Mitchell, of the Mine Workers. "Labor unions," he says, "must be kept strictly apart from politics, and just as soon as they become political machines they must die." These wise words are particularly timely now that demagogues, in the effort to further their own ends, are striving to secure a dominating influence in trades unions and but too many labor leaders are advocating their active and immediate participation in politics. As to the bills which Mr. Mitchell declares the Federation of Labor is going to insist upon—"the eight-hour measure and the anti-injunction bill—there is a wide difference of opinion. Injunctions, for instance, can be and have been used against employers as well as employed. Among intelligent men, whether capitalists or toilers, however, there can be but one opinion as to the danger to society and to labor organizations involved in attempts to convert the latter into political machines.—New York Herald.

The Canteen.

In the matter of the army canteen it would better for congress to follow the practically unanimous advice of the officers of the army and the American Health association, and be guided by persons who mean well, but have no practical knowledge of military affairs.—Minneapolis Times.

MET DEATH AS HE RODE HOME

PROMINENT IN REAL ESTATE

Principal Promoter of Ambridge Was Returning There When Thrown from His Horse—Was a New Boy.

Frederick Howard Boyles, of Sewickley, died at his home at 2 o'clock yesterday morning from injuries received Tuesday evening by being thrown from a horse he was driving.

Mr. Boyles was one of the leading real estate men of Pittsburgh, being the head of the department of sales of manufacturing plant sites of the Real Estate Trust Company. He had been connected with the company and the two partnerships which preceded it, Black & Baird, and Black & Gloninger, for the past 15 years.

Frederick Howard Boyles.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. Boyles was busy looking after the land interests of the Real Estate Trust Company at Economy, he having had charge of the laying out of the town of Ambridge, and also of the Economy tract. He telephoned to his man at Sewickley during the afternoon to send down his riding horse, as he preferred riding home on horseback. He left Economy about 5:45 o'clock and rode at a rapid gait to Leetsdale, along the beaver road. At Leetsdale, almost in the center of the town, the horse suddenly sailed to one side of the road. The saddle became loosened, and turning, threw the rider to the hard road on his head. Several persons who witnessed the accident rushed to the assistance of Mr. Boyles. He was conscious when picked up, but complained of intense pains in his head. He was carried into a physician's office where it was discovered that he was suffering from cerebral hemorrhages. He remained conscious until about midnight when he commenced sinking and died two hours later.

Mr. Boyles was the youngest son of George V. Boyles, a millionaire retired oil producer of New Castle. He was born April 13, 1870, and was graduated from the New Castle High school in 1887. He entered Duff's Business college and, after graduating from there became associated with Black & Baird. He was married October 9, 1895, to Miss Nettie Yonce, of Mundo, who survives him. Mr. Boyles formerly resided at Avalon, only recently locating at Sewickley, where he was a very active member of the Sewickley Presbyterian church. He is also survived by his parents and one brother and one sister, David Boyles and Mrs. Wolf B. Clendenin, both of New Castle. His parents are prostrated, as they have recently suffered the death of two other members of their immediate family, Mrs. Buela Boyles Foltz, wife of Samuel Foltz, cashier of the First National bank of New Castle, who died this fall, and a son-in-law, Edward Ward of New Castle, who met death in a railroad collision in Kansas, while returning home from a western trip. Mr. Boyles' remains will be taken to New Castle for interment.

SCHOOL SQUABBLE ENDED.

Ralston Plumbing Dispute Ended by New Board Awarding Contract.

The new school directors of Ralston borough, recently appointed by Judge Ferguson to supplant the old board, settled the contention as to the plumbing contract by declaring A. S. Schenle of 1356 Penn avenue the lowest bidder and awarding him the work.

There were three bids in all, Schenle's being for $750, or $500 lower than that of the plumber to whom three members of the original board wanted the contract to go. None of the first bidders, however, entered the last competition.

BRITONS IN PITTSBURGH TO GET AMERICAN IDEAS

They Are the Guests of and Accompanied by the Diamond King, Alfred Moseley of South Africa—Views on Education.

"What we are doing for the privileged few, you are doing for the whole nation," said John Whitburn, one of a party of 80 English educators who are now in this country at the expense of Alfred Moseley, a South African diamond merchant, for the purpose of studying American educational methods with a view to applying them in the schools of the United Kingdom.

So great is the belief of Mr. Moseley in republican principles and the free school system that his guests in America are restricted to no class, there being among the visitors Oxford professors, schoolmasters, labor leaders, etc. Out of the party of 80 there arrived here yesterday morning with Mr. Moseley eight educators who are in search of industrial and commercial information. They are, in addition to Mr. Moseley, his daughter and secretary, Harry Coward, president of the National Association of Teachers; the Rev. T. L. Papillon, a fellow of the New college, Oxford; Joseph R. Heaps of Rochdale, chairman of the technical schools of Oxford; John Rhys, professor of Celtic, Oxford; John Whitburn, member of the town council of Newcastle-on-Tyne and general secretary of the Northern Engineers' association, a labor organization; W. Ripper of Sheffield and Magnus MacLean of Glasgow, who are identified with educational matters in their respective cities.

Mr. Moseley modestly admits that he is not a rich man, although his wealth is said to run into the millions, almost all of which was made in South Africa. In that country he met and later became a close personal friend of Cecil Rhodes. Both were deeply interested in educational matters, although they differed materially as to the relative value of English and American methods. Rhodes upheld the British schools and universities, while the "Diamond King" was inclined to favor the American system, particularly the free schools. At any rate, while on South African soil these men planned to interchange or exchange ideas, and so they determined to engage in the wholesale business of giving away American thoughts or practices in exchange for British ones, and vice versa.

Rhodes accordingly established free scholarships at Oxford for American scholars, while Mr. Moseley is bringing English educators and workmen to this country to absorb ideas. Last year he was in Pittsburgh with a party of workmen that visited the Carnegie plants.

The party with Mr. Moseley is traveling in a private Pullman car, and has been in this country since October 10. It arrived here yesterday morning from Dayton, registered at the Lincoln hotel, and an hour afterward the Englishmen were the guests of the Carnegie Steel Company, being taken to the Homestead works. Today Prof. E. N. Rynearson of the central board of education will take the visitors in hand, and many of the public schools will be visited. The party will leave for New York tonight.

This city was visited not only on account of its commercial activity, but to give the Englishmen an opportunity of seeing the workshop of Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Moseley, although a Tory, greatly admires American things and principles. His estimation of the schools of this country is so firmly rooted that two of his sons are now at Yale, "getting what they cannot get in England," as their father expressed it last night.

One of the most interesting of the party here is Mr. Whitburn. He is one of England's leading labor agitators. He preferred to speak on educational lines rather than labor matters, because, he explained, he was brought here as a member of the educational committee of the Newcastle council. Continuing, he said:

"In England we have no free education after 12 years of age. We are doing for the privileged few what you are doing for the nation. There is no doubt but that the great commercial and industrial success of this country is due to the educational system, which brings out the best that is in one. You people always get practical and definite results from everything you do."

LARKIN LEFT IN HOLE BY BIGELOW

TALKS AFTER MONEY IS PAID

Head of Public Works Department Preparing Data Which He Is Accused of Withholding Months Ago—Officials Trying to Steal Each Other's Thunder.

Director E. M. Bigelow is accused of trying to steal Controller John B. Larkin's thunder over the new Highland reservoir. Director Bigelow now says he is opposed to paying any more money to the contractors who built the reservoir, although all of the money has been paid with the exception of a small percentage which was retained for one year after the completion of the job, according to the contract.

Controller Larkin alleges that when he appealed to Director Bigelow for help in his former suits, it was not forthcoming. He is now asking the director for data concerning the supply and leakage of the new reservoir, which he says has been promised him by Mr. Bigelow. Mr. Larkin also says he asked for this same information months ago, when his suits with the Mercantile Trust Company were pending in court, and he did not get the information from Director Bigelow.

The leaks were discovered November 1, 1902, by an employe of the water bureau, J. Gray McCandless was director of public works at the time, but the employe who found the leaks informed Mr. Bigelow. At that time Controller Larkin was contesting the payment of the money for the reservoir on the ground that the contractors had not complied with the specifications. When the leaks were discovered he used them as an additional argument for refusing to pay for the job. He fought the case twice to the supreme court and lost both times.

In the midst of the battle Mr. Bigelow had again become director of public works and he was appealed to by the controller for information about the condition of the reservoir. Mr. Bigelow persisted in refusing to give the controller or the newspapers any such information from the time he went into office last April until a few days ago, when he said he was opposed to paying any more money on the contract.

The controller claims that the leakage is worse now than when first discovered, and he is gathering what data he can to make another fight in court against the payment of the balance on the contract. If the controller finally gains a point, he will be strengthened politically, and director Bigelow believes that if he can give the reservoir a black eye he will gain some benefit for the administration, particularly his own department. Therefore, he is willing now to give out information that the controller accuses him of withholding months ago when it might have prevented the payment of several hundred thousand dollars.

BOARD OF HEALTH WILL MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

State Officials' Regular Meeting Scheduled for Thursday, November 19.

The state board of health will hold its next regular meeting in Pittsburgh on November 19. While the place of meeting has yet to be decided upon, it is thought the members will get together at the Lincoln hotel. At this meeting is probable the future action of the board regarding imputations made against it by Allegheny politicians during the recent smallpox controversy on the North Side will be determined upon.

The last meeting of the board was held at Lancaster at which smallpox conditions existing in Allegheny at that time were considered. It is expected all the members of the board will be present at the coming meeting. This includes Dr. Samuel T. Davis, Lancaster, president; Dr. Benjamin F. Lee, Philadelphia, secretary and executive officer; Dr. George H. Groff, Bucknell university, Lewisburg; John Fulton, Johnstown; Dr. Charles H. Harvey, Philadelphia; Dr. Milton A. Embick, Boiling Springs, and Dr. J. H. McClelland, Pittsburgh.

In addition to considering the charges made against the board, the status of the smallpox epidemic in Allegheny county will be thoroughly discussed. The disease is more prevalent here than in any other county in the state, and the members of the board will remain here several days looking into all the matters pertaining to health in the section.

Dr. Wilmer R. Batt, quarantine officer-at-large will take the members to the various points where smallpox exists, and explain to them the work done and the effort needed in their health work in this section.

ORPHANS LAUNCH ANOTHER PARTY

Issue a Manifesto Calling on All Independent Citizens to Unite for Reform.

OFFICERED BY COUNCILMEN

Say Main Object of Their Organization Is to Elect Right Kind of Men to the Councils—True Blues' President Writes to The Gazette.

The "Orphans'" political party has been launched. Just what its name shall be has not been decided, but its platform is the Citizens' platform of 1902; its sponsors are the "Orphan" members of councils and Controller John B. Larkin.

The new political babe was formally brought forth last night, but where the birth occurred has not been disclosed. On the subject of its exact locality the parents, godparents, doctors, nurses and other attendants are exceedingly close-mouthed. Its advent has been expected by the public, and as it promises to be a lusty infant the effect of its progress upon the Orphans party will be watched with interest. Its growth will be sedulously cared for by W. H. Stevenson, president; William C. Reitz, vice president; Charles S. Crawford, secretary, and Dr. George W. McNell, treasurer. All are members of common council. Controller John B. Larkin has no official connection with the guardianship, but his hands hovered prayerfully and he gave the child his blessing upon its appearance in the world of politics.

Call to Independent Citizens.

This is the natal card, issued as soon as the accouchement was successfully accomplished:

"In order to further protect the interests of this city and that the passage of the proper reform legislation may be effected from time to time, and in view of recent political developments, we urge upon independent citizens in each and every precinct or voting district, in every ward of the city, to come together at as early a moment as possible for the purpose of perfecting independent ward organizations, having as one of the principal objects the election to councils of competent, trustworthy, independent men, who are not obligated to any political combine or clique, and who will pledge themselves to act for the best interests of the people.

"We hereby tender our assistance in the work of perfecting such organizations, and will aid in every honorable way possible to bring about the election of thoroughly independent and reliable men who will stand upon the Citizens' platform of 1902.

"P. D. SHAW, Sixth ward.
CHARLES C. SCHAD, Thirteenth ward.
W. H. STEVENSON, Fourteenth ward.
THOMAS O'BRIEN, Sixteenth ward.
C. CRAWFORD, Twentieth ward.
GEORGE W. McNEIL, Twenty-first ward.
JOHN E. WYMARD, Twenty-first ward.
W. B. WOLFE, Twenty-second ward.
FRED BECHNER, Twenty-third ward.
JOHN F. MALONE, Twenty-seventh ward.
GEBHART SAHNER, Twenty-seventh ward.
JACOB SOFFEL, Thirty-second ward.
J. F. SHEARER, Thirty-seventh ward.
JOHN B. LARKIN."

Mr. Reitz's name is not on the list of signers, but as he was named vice president, it is presumed that he was not at the meeting but is with the "Orphans" in spirit.

Platform of the True Blues.

Hardly had The Gazette received the news when the following letter was brought into the office:

East End, Pittsburgh, Nov. 11, 1903.
To the Editor of the Gazette:

The Gazette contains an announcement of the organization of the "True Blues." You are right. We are organized as a political body under the best leadership in Allegheny county for the nomination of men for councils and good government. I want to say, positively, that Director James W. Clark is not a member, and that neither Charles S. Crawford nor any person who is connected with the so-called "Orphans" is associated with the True Blues. The True Blues are composed of men who will stop at no front door organization to endeavor to secure public office, and I question very much whether any of the so-called Orphans would fill the qualifications required by the True Blues. Mr. Crawford is not in possession of the secret work of the order, and we intend to be very careful not to permit any politician to become a True Blue for political profit. Any person desiring information regarding this order can get it by applying to

HUGH WILSON, President.
No. 514 Lowell street, Pittsburgh.

Thus, on the very threshold of life the Orphans' offspring is met by one who promises to be a rival, although ostensibly intended for the same end.

Fixing a Councilmanic Slate.

As if to furnish food to fatten the Orphans' progeny, the leaders of the Citizens-Democratic party yesterday met in private conclave to discuss the probable candidates of their organization for membership in city councils. Mayor Hays, Thomas S. Bigelow, Murry A. Verner, James W. Clark, director of the charitable department, and Harry Moore, director of the department of public safety, met in Mr. Moore's office yesterday afternoon. None of them would say what their talk was about, but that it was their purpose when they met to discuss councilmanic candidates is told by some of their adherents.

Verner and Hays also called on County Commissioner James A. Clark, the Democratic leader, to talk about filling the vacancy on the board of assessors caused by the death of Daniel O. Burg. John Lawley of the Twenty-first ward is a candidate for the place. Gebhart Sahner, common councilman, has been mentioned, but Mr. Sahner's name is on the Orphans' manifesto of last night.

BANKER DEPARTS AND DEPOSITORS ARE RUINED

Carried Away Valuable Securities and Much Money—Bank Is Closed.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MUNICH, Nov. 11.—The police have been unable to locate Hugo Ellenreider, chief of the large banking firm of H. Ellenreider & Company, who mysteriously disappeared from this city more than two years ago, and it is supposed that he has fled to New York with his wife. The last news of the banker came from Berlin, from where he telegraphed that he had been successful in closing up several important affairs.

Today the bank was closed and the vaults and safes of the firm, which have contained over a million marks in securities, were opened but only a few thousand marks in securities which could not be readily disposed of, were found. It is however proved beyond a doubt that the banker carried cash with him. Many prominent Munich families and a large number of small depositors are ruined by the failure of the banking firm which is one of the oldest and richest in the city. Word has been sent to the police of New York as well as to all the large ports of South America and Canada to arrest Ellenreider should he attempt to land. Several of his friends are of the opinion that the banker has gone to Smyrna, but is hiding somewhere in London.

IN THE SUBURBS.

SHARPSBURG.—Frank Gill, of Pleasant Valley was held for court yesterday by Justice of the Peace R. A. Shiler. It was alleged Gill store articles of clothing from the Commercial hotel.

The death was reported to the coroner, who found it was from natural causes. The birth of this child was reported to President Roosevelt, who sent $100 as his acknowledgment. William Signet, the father, has been married three times and has been the father of 20 children, six of whom are still living.

BOY AND GIRL VICTIMS OF THE TRACTION CAR

One Is Run Over and the Other Falls Off—Both Are Now Dead.

While going to school yesterday morning Sarah Greenleaf, 8 years old, of No. 7068 Kelly street, was killed by car No. 3186 of the Hamilton line in front of the Homewood school. The dense fog was responsible for the girl's death. She was unable to see the street car until it was almost on her. Motorman H. D. King was arrested, but released on $1,000 bail.

Carl Otto Schaffer, aged 14 years, of No. 2316 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, fell from a crowded car as it was turning the curve at Jackson street, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. He died a few hours later at the Allegheny General hospital.

Anton Perda, a Swede, dropped dead in a saloon at Chestnut and South Canal streets, Allegheny, early yesterday morning. He was 25 years old and boarded at No. 879 Chestnut street. Death was due to heart failure.

John B. Leahy, a brakeman of the Monongahela Connecting railroad, was killed in the yards of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, near the Eliza furnaces, at noon yesterday. He was 30 years old and lived at No. 26 Griffith street. He is survived by a widow.

Michael Haddock, 23 years old, died at the Homeopathic hospital last night from burns received by an explosion of gas in the plant of the American Reduction Company at West Newton.

Charles Eberman, 10 years old, only child of Mrs. Ida Eberman of No. 3201 Elsinore square, a teamster for the A. E. Snyder Sawmill Company at Wilson station, on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, yesterday afternoon stumbled and fell against an emery wheel, which cut him so badly that he died almost immediately. Eberman was a member of the Boys' Brigade of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church.

DR. CLAY TO LECTURE.

Man Who Made Researches in Abraham's Land to Speak Here.

The Pittsburgh Auxiliary of the McAll mission has secured Dr. Albert T. Clay, assistant curator of the Babylonian Antiquities in the University of Pennsylvania, to deliver an illustrated lecture at the Carnegie Institute next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Recent Discoveries in the Home of Abraham," and it will be given for the benefit of the contingent fund of the McAll mission.

Dr. Clay assisted Dr. Hilprecht in his recent excavations at Nipper and appeared last year before the Pittsburgh Academy of Science and Art. This will be the first opportunity for the general public to hear him tell the story of the wonderful discoveries which have been made in Asia Minor and in lands of biblical history.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Thief Captured While Attempting to Rob Safe in a Downtown Store.

While in the act of robbing a safe Joseph Williams of Hastings station, on the Pennsylvania railroad, was arrested yesterday in the commission store of A. & S. Sinseri, No. 620 Grant street. Williams said he was 17 years old and had been living in Allegheny.

The clerks in the store were working in the rear of the place. The office is in the front of the building. The safe was closed but unlocken. Williams noticed the front part of the store was unprotected and slipped into the office. In turning the knob of the safe the lock clicked. This sound was heard by the clerks and they hurried to the front of the store and caught Williams.

Parents of the Hypnotized and Abducted Girl Cannot Fathom Strange Story.

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Coffin, parents of Miss Josephine Coffin, who arrived in Omaha last Friday, after an exciting experience, came to this city today and will take their daughter to East Orange, N. J., as soon as she is sufficiently recovered to travel.

Mr. Coffin said that his daughter's disappearance was still a mystery to the family, and would not express an opinion on the strange story of the hypnotizing of the young lady, until he had learned more of her experiences.

Killed Trying to Escape Arrest.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Nov. 11.—(Special)—A stranger was ground to pieces near the Pennsylvania railroad station this afternoon while trying to alight from a train to avoid arrest by railroad officers who were pursuing him.

At the morgue the pockets of the man were searched and a small testament inscribed "Presented to W. F. Thompson, by the W. C. T. U. of Canton, O." was found. A letter addressed to W. H. Reed, superintendent of the Stark county workhouse, was signed by Mrs. W. F. Thompson, whose address is given as lock box 29, Force, Pa.

He was then brought back to his home here.

Yesterday was the second day of the work, and it is estimated that over 600 Masons were at the hall during the day. Today the work will go on and is expected to be completed by tomorrow at noon. Tomorrow evening will bring the end with an entertainment and luncheon at Duquesne garden.

Out of Thousands—

here is just one case of Rheumatism

"I am nearly 80 years of age and have been troubled with Rheumatism for many years. I tried almost everything to ease my pain, until I concluded I could not be cured. My daughter induced me to try Paine's Celery Compound. From the first bottle I had great relief. The cure was almost complete by the second or third bottle. I am now completely free from the torments of rheumatism." Mrs. Martha Alter, P. O. Box 95, Crafton, Pa.

—the case of Mrs. Martha Alter—80 years old—hale and healthy today because, at last, she stopped trying to cure the pain, and cured the cause of the pain. We print the story of Mrs. Martha Alter's cure of rheumatism—(not because it is Mrs. Alter—but because it was rheumatism—just as real and just as painful as the rheumatism that You, perhaps, are suffering today.) Thousands of cases of rheumatism have been cured by Paine's Celery Compound, precisely as Mrs. Alter was cured—and we have the letters to show for them. Rheumatism, Lumbago, Gout, and many other diseases are caused by the blood being loaded with acids and other impurities. It is not the fault of the blood. The organs that should make and purify the blood are not doing their work right. But that is not their fault either. They cannot work unless the nerves give them strength to work.

The Nerve Force that is absolutely necessary to keep all the organs working properly, is too weak. This chain of health or sickness is not mere argument or theory.

It is recognized by science—in no other way can you become sick—in no other way can you become well. In your body—for sickness or health—the Nerve System is King.

The real cause of your rheumatism is in weak nerves. And there can be no real cure of rheumatism unless you cure the real cause.

Mrs. Alter's cure, and our thousands of letters written by old and young, are proof of this. Paine's Celery Compound feeds and rebuilds the worn-out nerves.

It makes no difference how the nerves were worn out—by hard work or anxiety, by sorrow, or sickness.

And it makes no difference how the weak nerves cause trouble—whether in the blood, or the stomach, the bowels, or the liver, or the brain—Paine's Celery Compound gives the nerves new vital force to make the system do its work—to make you Well in every part of your body.

Paine's Celery Compound

PLATT-DONAHOE FIGHT IS ENDED

...FIRMS THE LOWER COURT

...illics Made Bedfellows of Two ...gislators Originally Belonging to ...e Factions—Law's Delays In... Evade Just Decision.

...onahoe and James W. Platt ...ger members of Pittsburgh ...ell. The decision of the lower ...sting them from office was af... yesterday by the supreme court. ...erms would not have expired until ...1906.

...history of the Donahoe-Platt ouster ...edings furnishes an interesting ex...ple of the truth of the old saying that ...tics makes strange bedfellows. Short...after Platt, as a Republican, was elect... as a select councilman from the Sec... ward, the committee of 25, that at ...t time ruled the Citizens party—be... the age of its decrepitude and before ...become the tool and plaything of a one... boss, brought ouster proceedings ...ainst Platt, alleging that he was a resi... ...ent of the Third ward, and, therefore, ...ot entitled to represent the Second ward ...n select council. Charles A. O'Brien was ...the attorney and the proceedings were ...in quo warranto before Judge S. A. McClung.

The select council "combine," of which Platt is a member, thereupon threatened the Citizens committee that if it did not withdraw the suit against Platt, Peter J. Donahoe's seat in select council would be contested on the ground that he had not lived in Pittsburgh long enough to be eligible. The committee of 25 refused to be intimidated and pressed the suit. Then Attorney John S. Weller, acting for Platt and his friends, brought suit to oust Donahoe, a Citizen-Democrat. Both cases were tried before juries and both juries were declared to have forfeited their seats. Both applied for new trials. By various delays the hearings on the applications for new trials were put off from time to time. At last Attorney William M. Rodgers and Weller appeared in court before Judge McClung and asked to have both cases taken off the argument list, which was done.

Change in Sentiment.

That by mutual consent two men could retain their seats in councils, although a jury had declared against them, aroused indignation. The chamber of commerce appointed a committee to try to have the cases put back on the argument list and Attorney O'Brien, claiming that Mr. Rogers' motion was without his consent and even knowledge, succeeded in having the cases opened up again. The applications for a new trial were heard and refused and Platt and Donahoe then took appeals to the supreme court.

About this time it seemed to be evident that the one-man management of the Citizens party, all control having been wrested from the committee of 25, was hand in glove with the select council combine, and the apparent decision of the one-man power was that Platt was too useful to be lost and that Donahoe must be saved. It was then that the attorneys, exclusive of O'Brien, asked the supreme court for a supersedeas, which, being granted, kept Platt and Donahoe in their seats pending the appeal to the higher court. The chamber of commerce committee asked of the supreme court that the case be advanced on the Philadelphia list, and the court decided to hear the appeal on May 22. In Philadelphia some one—the chamber of commerce committee does not know who—moved to have the case taken off the Philadelphia list and put on the Pittsburgh list, which was done and thereby caused more delay. Recently the supreme court came to Pittsburgh. The Platt-Donahoe appeals headed the Pittsburgh list, and two weeks ago Mr. Rodgers moved that they be put at the bottom of the list. Again the supreme court was accommodating, and there was 10 days' more delay.

No More Delay Possible.

Yesterday when the cases were called Platt and Donahoe threw up their hands. They had succeeded in staving off the appeal proceedings to the last minute. They had retained their seats in council despite the lower court's judgment and public opinion. They decided to fight no more. So yesterday, when the cases were called up motions were made that they be non-pressed. Mr. Rodgers gave no reasons; Mr. Weller, moving that the Donahoe case be non-pressed, said the paper books had not been furnished as the rules provide. The court assented and in non-pressing the cases affirms the decision of the lower court and ousts Platt and Donahoe, who, it was furnished, have now no further left in them.

The fight put by Donahoe and Platt in contradistinction to the way in which William E. Sankey has acted. Mr. Sankey recently moved from the Twenty-seventh ward to Baldwin township, outside the city. Had he so desired, he could have easily retained his seat in select council until the expiration of his term, next April, by claiming his new residence as a winter or a summer home and sleeping once or twice a month in the city. But not being built that way, Mr. Sankey ceased attending meetings of select council as soon as he moved. His absence has been noted and wondered at, only President John S. Lambie of select council and Mr. Sankey's intimate friends knowing that he had given up all claim to his seat.

How Mr. Sankey Acted.

Last night Mr. Sankey confirmed the report. "As soon as I moved I quit going to select council meetings," he said. "I knew it was not right to hold a seat which I had forfeited by transferring my residence outside the city limits. Mr. Lambie knew that. It is true that Mr. Lambie recently appointed me on the committee to boom the Republican national convention for 1904, but I suppose he thought that I could help that movement as a citizen of Greater Pittsburgh, and therefore out of courtesy put me on the committee. Of course, I will do all I can to secure the national convention, not as a councilman of Pittsburgh, but as a citizen of Allegheny county.

"It remains to be seen whether the conviction of the Donahoe-Platt ouster proceedings and Mr. Sankey's conduct will be a quickening effect on Thomas Dolan and George K. Fleming. Delaney is a common councilman from the First ward, but he now lives in McPherson st. East End. Mr. Fleming is select councilman from the First ward, but the telephone and city directories give his address as Oakland. Delaney's and Fleming's entire terms expire next April. Mr. Sankey did not formally resign from council, because, as he said last night, under the charter his successor could not be named anyhow until the next council election, so that his failure to resign does not of itself deprive the ward of representation. But for the same reasoning and Delaney need not resign. It remains to be seen whether they will remain away from future council meetings and thus prevent Sankey's example from being cast up to them.

CONNER OWES HIS COMMISSIONS

HE WAS PROPERLY APPOINTED

Incumbent Expects His Predecessor Now to Hand Over the Profits on Taxes Collected by Him—Exhaustive Opinion Accompanies Decision.

Samuel P. Conner, the former county delinquent tax collector, was beaten yesterday in his appeal to the supreme court from the decision of the lower court in ousting him from his office. Robert G. Mattern is declared to be the delinquent tax collector, legally appointed by David J. Collingwood, the county treasurer. Mattern has been collector in name only.

When he appealed Mr. Conner gave bond for $15,000 as security for the commissions on any delinquent taxes he might collect between February 28, the date of Mattern's appointment, and the decision of the supreme court, on condition that the supreme court should decide in favor of Mattern. Mr. Conner's commissions on taxes collected since February 28 aggregate $8,000, which amount Mr. Mattern expects him to part with. Conner's books will first be audited to determine the amount of commissions he has collected, and if he refuses to turn the sum over to Mattern, the latter will sue on the bond.

A few days after Collingwood went into office he appointed Mattern to succeed Conner, the appointee of a former county treasurer. Conner, saying he was under bond to collect taxes then delinquent, refused to give Mattern possession. Mattern entered quo warranto proceedings and common pleas court No. 2 gave judgment against Conner and ousted him from office. Conner took an appeal to the supreme court and that tribunal yesterday affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the following opinion:

"Under the act of 1891 the county treasurer was charged absolutely with the whole amount of the tax duplicate, from which he could only be exonerated to the extent and in the manner provided in the act. There is much reason, therefore, in the view that when he appointed a collector of delinquent taxes he was appointing a personal agent to perform the duty for which he was himself in all events personally liable. But when by the act of 1891 the treasurer was relieved from this absolute liability and the taxes, if previously charged, were credited back to him and charged to the collector who was required to give bond to the county, the collector ceased to be the personal agent of the treasurer to perform the duties incumbent on the latter, and became the agent or officer of the county, with whom alone the people have to do, whom he was directly to account. The underlying intent common to both statutes is that the officer responsible for the money shall have the appointment and control of the agent of collection.

"It is true that under the act of 1891 the collectors are to be appointed or elected in the manner now approved by law in each county, and therefore the precedent was properly appointed under the act of 1861 by the treasurer in office at that time, but the treasurer could no longer be considered as in the position of an individual appointing a personal agent. He was clearly acting virtute officii in the appointment of a subordinate county officer and under the constitution, the power of removal passed to his successor with the succession in office.

"The appellant is in no danger of the hardship that his argument appears to anticipate. However direct and absolute the charge of the amount of the tax duplicate to him under the statute, his responsibility attaches by reason of his occupancy of the office of collector, and will cease when that passes to his successor. His liability to account will not extend to anything not arising from his administration of the office while he occupied it.

IN THE THEATERS.

Several New Productions Along With the "Hold Overs" Promise Another Entertaining Week.

"The Spendlers," William H. Crane's new play, will have production at the Alvin theater next week, it coming here from St. Louis, where its hit is said to be very emphatic. The production is much interest attached to it, for it will show a story in play shape that was very popular in book form, and it will introduce Mr. Crane in a new character. This new character is a rugged old miner from Montana, whose appearance and manner would denote that he is a man of very modest means, while in reality he is a millionaire. Seat sale this morning.

The sale of seats for "Hedda Gabler," which Mrs. Fiske will present at the Duquesne beginning next Monday, opens this morning. It is unusual for dramatic companies to stay in Pittsburgh for more than a week, but the demand for seats for "Hedda Gabler" has been such as to indicate the wisdom of Mrs. Fiske's bookings. The engagement has remarkable brilliancy and variety, as it shows Mrs. Fiske in two famous roles that stand in radical contrast to each other. "Hedda Gabler" will appeal particularly to lovers of the modern drama, if it is a powerful story of present day life and ranks as one of the greatest plays of the time.

Paul Leicester Ford's dramatized story, "Janice Meredith," familiar to Pittsburgh theatergoers through its presentation here by Miss Mary Mannering, will be the attraction at the Grand opera house next week, when every member of the stock company will be introduced in the cast, including Hugh Ward. Scenically, the production will be one of rare beauty, while the atmosphere of colonial times will be portrayed to the life. "Janice Meredith" had a long run at Wallack's theater, New York, and was afterward equally successful in the principal cities throughout the country.

In "The Two Little Waifs," coming to the Empire next week, Stanley and Lolita Lamb will essay the parts of the "waifs," and are said to be the cleverest of child artists playing the very difficult roles with an interpretation worthy of professionals of years of experience. The story is one of interest, with a broad vein of refined comedy, intermingled with pathos, sentiment and tears.

Chauncey Olcott begins his second week at the Bijou next Monday afternoon in his new play, "Terence," which seems to have won the heart of the popular actor's people. Edition of his former triumphs. Indeed, it might be said he has gone a step further, for this play calls on his powers as an actor and he does more than merely rely upon his ability to please. In "Terence" he has shown that he is a good actor, and he has entertained big audiences at every performance.

Miss Mary Norman, who has scored a big hit with her artistic impersonations of society girls as she has met them, will head the fine refined vaudeville sets at the Avenue family theater next week. Other features of the program arranged by Manager Davis will be Mlle. Adgie's educated lion, Leniarz and Nelson, Julian Rose, Cook and Sentee, the Brothers Sloan and others.

We are to have the peer of all the burlesque shows at the Academy next week. It is the old reliable "Vanity Fair" Burlesque company, an entertainment which has no equal in any land. This season there are 35 people in the company, 25 of whom are beautiful maidens of the ...ger variety. There are two new burlesques and a grand ...olio introducing that premier, Ant. the Queen of the Air, whose wonderful act has never been duplicated.

The Burton Holmes lectures on purely American subjects, which are attracting large audiences and so much favorable criticism, will be given in Pittsburgh at Carnegie music hall, commencing Monday, Nov. 16, and in Allegheny at Carnegie hall, November 20. Seat sale opens at Meller's today.

McKees Rocks Woman Held for Court.

Lulu Posthwaite of No. 31 Hyland avenue, McKees Rocks, was held for court in $300 bail yesterday by Alderman James V. McMasters on a charge of false pretense on the information of Walter Morris of No. 315 Fourth avenue, an agent of the William Penn Fire Insurance Company. It is alleged that the defendant secured more money for insurance than was due her by swearing that a quantity of clothing, which had been destroyed by fire, was worth much more than it really was.

Resolutions of Sympathy Adopted.

Resolutions conveying the sympathy of the Western Pennsylvania Humane societe to the relatives of the late Miss Effie Wilson, who died recently, were adopted at the regular weekly meeting of the board of managers yesterday. Miss Wilson was the daughter of the Hon. George Wilson, who was president of the Humane society at the time of his death. A report of the national convention at Cincinnati was read by Miss Frances R. Morry, the secretary.

Discussed Wives And Were Arrested

Each claiming his own wife to be the best looking, John Zovack and John Perlok, both of Cabot, way, South Side, stood arguing in South Fifth street last night. Their loud talk attracted a crowd and both men were locked up on charges of disorderly conduct.

WILKINSON DISAPPEARS; RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

Mt. Washington Baptist Church Is Now Without a Pastor. Congregation Acts.

By a vote of 27 to 6 the resignation of the Rev. J. C. Wilkinson was accepted by the congregation of the Mt. Washington Baptist church last night. There were about 50 members present, many refusing to vote. Mr. Wilkinson and the Rev. C. A. McFall were excluded from the Pittsburgh Baptist Ministerial association about 10 days ago. Mr. McFall left Sewickley, where he had a charge, some weeks ago, and is now in the Indian territory.

The report of the advisory committee, composed of the deacons and trustees, which was appointed one week ago to look into the matter, when it was found that the congregation was loth to allow their pastor to go, made its report through Secretary William Girwood. The report merely stated that the committee had investigated and recommended that the resignation be accepted. The report of the committee was accepted and then the vote taken on the resignation.

Mr. Wilkinson left for the west last Monday night, and his wife and child went to Mr. Wilkinson's parents' home in Washington, Pa. Several of the leading members of the church declared that the whereabouts of the pastor were unknown. There was nothing left for the congregation to do, it is said, but to accept the resignation after his sudden disappearance.

The Rev. J. V. Stratton, formerly of the Fourth Avenue church, will occupy the pulpit of the Mt. Washington church this coming Sunday. A pulpit committee was appointed last night to see that a preacher is supplied for each Sunday. The Young Peoples' society will have charge of the Wednesday evening prayer meetings when a preacher is not present.

BUSY HONEYMOON.

Duke and Duchess of Roxburghe Claim Much Attention at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 11.—(Special.) It is doubtful if the Duke and Duchess of Roxburghe, who were married in New York on Tuesday and have begun their honeymoon at Newport, were ever more busy than they were today. From morning till late in the evening telegrams and cablegrams of congratulations were arriving at Ochre Court.

This afternoon the duke and duchess went for an automobile ride. They made a dash around the ocean drive, and, passing through Newport, they went far into the country. The air was just keen enough to heighten the color in the young duchess' face and, guiding the machine herself, she made a very interesting picture.

This evening the duchess had a few of her most intimate friends to dinner at Ochre Court and it is probable one or two dinners will be given for them before they leave.

EGG FAMINE IN NEW YORK.

Hen Fruit Brings Forty Cents a Dozen and It Is Not Very Fresh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Prosperity has caused a scarcity of fresh eggs, with a consequent rise in the price to 40 cents a dozen, and it is almost impossible to obtain strictly fresh eggs today, even at that price. The supply has been growing less every day for two weeks. The shortage in the supply is not caused by any organized strike on the part of the hens. The trouble locally is caused by the fact that the demand has spread all over the country.

As there are no poultry yards in New York the city is at the mercy of the country. With the freezing today almost an unknown quantity in the local market, the cold storage supply has also become scarce. Today the stored supply is 27 per cent less than a year ago today.

COPPER PLANTS RESUME.

Amalgamated Company Has Again Started Operations at Its Mines.

BUTTE, MONT., Nov. 11.—Work was resumed today in all the properties of the Amalgamated Copper Company in the state. The work of lowering mules, horses and tools in the mines was begun this morning and before 24 hours the three shifts will be working as before.

The Butte miners' union has adopted resolutions thanking Governor Toole for his action in calling a special session of the legislature. Amalgamated officials say the other properties of the company in Idaho and Wyoming will be started at once. Directly and indirectly nearly 21,000 men will return to work.

West End University Extension Center.

The first lecture of the West End university extension course of lectures will be given in the Thaddeus Stevens School hall, Main street, West End, at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. The subject of the course is "Representative Government in the United States," to be given by Prof. S. D. Fess. The first lecture is on "Growing Sectional Differences Between the North and the South," and compares the governments and institutions of the southern states with those of the northern states, and the bearing of these on the questions of the day.

Three Civil Service Examinations.

The civil service commission announces the following examinations for December 9: Teacher of agriculture, Indian service, at the Haskell institute, of Arkansas, salary, $1,000 per year; farrier, quartermaster's department-at-large, Fort Riley school, Kansas, salary $1,440 a year; assistant steam engineer for the office of the secretary of war, salary, $720 a year.

DRIED UP

Coffee Was Drying Up Her Blood.

"Coffee had the peculiar effect on me of thickening the blood and lessening it in quality, in other words drying it up," says a young lady of Shelton, Neb., "and so long as I used the drug, coffee, I had terrific headaches frequently accompanied by sour stomach and a very bad breath.

"My condition was serious and I knew something had to be done, so I decided to quit coffee and drink Postum.

"A few days after I quit drinking coffee and started to Postum I felt much better and continued to improve on the Postum until I am now entirely free from headaches and stomach trouble, and steadily gaining in flesh and health and feel happy and full of rich, pure blood.

"My parents were ailing as long as they were coffee drinkers. They were certainly great coffee fiends and claimed that they could not get coffee strong enough for them, and my father in particular was a regular slave to coffee, drinking many cups of it daily although he had terrific headaches about once a week, while my mother complained of her liver and took different liver remedies, but all to no avail.

"Then I persuaded them to quit coffee and drink Postum Food Coffee, and the result was all that I had hoped for, and both are now healthy eaters and are strong and well. I know of many other cases where leaving off coffee and drinking Postum has resulted in wonderful changes in health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

BIG DECREASE IN METAL IMPORTS

Seventy-Five Per Cent Reduction in Foreign Iron and Steel Material Last Month.

FITTSBURGH THE MAIN BUYER

Majority of Material Received from Europe Is for Local Consumers—Scrap Imports Exhibit a Decrease of 35 Per Cent from Total of September.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

The imports of foreign iron and steel material, pig iron, scrap iron, old iron rails, crop ends, bar iron, structural iron, steel billets, steel beams, steel wire rods, scrap steel, old steel rails; also iron ore, iron pyrites, manganese and chrome ores brought in through New York and other eastern seaboard ports last month show a decrease of nearly 75 per cent when compared with similar imports in September.

The shipments to this side in October represented 82,534 tons. The independent Pittsburgh steel plants and those of the Westinghouse interests will consume a big portion of the material and practically all the pig iron, which, by the way, shows a falling off in amount of no less than 14 per cent compared with September imports. This pig iron has been ordered by Pittsburghers.

The scrap iron, old rails, etc., etc., aggregate about 35 per cent less than the tonnage imported in September. The iron ore, iron pyrites, manganese and chrome ore imports in October were upwards of 40 per cent less than in the previous month.

The October imports of pig iron amounted to 7,218 tons, 5,117 tons coming from Great Britain and 2,010 tons from continental Europe. The shipments from British ports were as follows: West Hartlepool, 2,500 tons in one lot; Liverpool, 2,402 tons in 11 shipments; Swansea, 425 tons in one parcel; Glasgow, 150 tons in three lots and one shipment of 100 tons from Hull. There were no shipments of pig iron last month from Middlesboro, from which place the major portion of the British shipments have hitherto been made. On the continent, Amsterdam was the largest shipper, 1,400 tons coming from that Dutch port in one lot. The balance of the pig imports from the continent last month came from Antwerp.

The imports of scrap iron, old iron rails, structural iron, steel billets, steel blooms, steel wire rods, scrap steel and old steel rails aggregated in all 8,456 tons. The bulk of last month's imports came from Canada, Germany and Belgium.

The iron ore, manganese and chrome ores imported in October represented a total of 66,690 tons. The iron ore aggregated 56,500 tons, as against 96,571 tons for September and 113,365 tons for August. Last month's imports all came from Cuba, 42,500 tons coming from Daiquiri, 7,850 tons from Santiago, while 6,000 tons were sent through Havana. The manganese ore imports in October represented 3,610 tons. Similar imports in September made up a total of 23,932 tons.

Last month's cargoes came from South America and India, 4,300 tons coming from Rio de Janeiro and 5,310 tons from Bombay. The chrome ore arriving on this side last month amounted to but 570 tons, which came from Liverpool. September figures were about the same. Iron pyrites to the amount of 3,200 tons were imported in October from Pilleys island, Newfoundland.

MOLINEUX MUST STAY ON RECORD AS CONVICT

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The appellate division today affirmed the order of Justice Howard, denying Roland B. Molineux's application for a mandamus to compel the return to him of photographs and Bertillon records taken when he was under sentence of death for murder. He was given a new trial and acquitted and now seeks the convict records held at Sing Sing.

Acid Sour Tired Painful Starved Craving Enlarged and Nervous Stomachs Are All Caused by Indigestion

When the digestive organs are impaired, or the process of digestion incomplete, one or more, and sometimes all of these symptoms prevail. Or, if the food becomes the least tainted, poison is absorbed along with the nourishing fluid and poured with it into the veins. The blood becomes correspondingly impure; and every portion of the body becomes more or less disturbed. The walls of the blood vessels, throughout the entire body become diseased.

As every organ of the body receives its strength from the blood it is plain to be seen that if the food we eat is imperfectly digested, the blood feeds disease to the various organs of the body.

Repeated attacks of indigestion, which is too often caused by an overloaded stomach, inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach. This exposes the nerves of the stomach, and causes the glands to secrete a poisonous solution instead of the natural juices of digestion. All of the supplies of the body are absorbed into the blood through the glands along the digestive tract. We do not require to be told how important it is that these glands should be kept pure and clean and sweet and healthy. We do not need to be told that if this is not done, the blood becomes so impoverished that it not only fails to supply the various organs of the body with the nourishment necessary to keep them strong and healthy, nor that it deposits the poison it receives from decaying food in the various organs, and instead of their receiving strength from the blood, they receive disease.

The nervous system is usually the first to show the evil influences of such a condition. It causes unsound sleep, and rest that is not refreshing. We get up in the morning feeling tired, languid and our temper is uncertain. We lose that natural cheerfulness so much appreciated by our friends when we meet them. We have a headache or aches in other parts of the body.

What else can be expected when the nerve cells are continually feeding on tainted blood. The brain, heart, lungs and all the lesser organs of the body look to the stomach and depend upon the stomach, not only for food and strength, but for health and life. The kidneys are given double duty to perform by reason of the extra amount of impurities which they must filter out of the blood, and like the other organs they too are damaged and impaired for want of proper nourishment. Impurities which should be filtered out of the system by the action of the kidneys are retained in the blood, redoubling the amount of poison it receives from poor digestion, thus increasing the poisonous deposits made by the blood in the tissues of the various organs in the course of its circulation, back and forth through the body.

CHEERS FOR "JOE" GREETED HIS FOES

Forty Thousand People Had Surrounded the Meeting Hall in Birmingham.

CAVE VOTE FOR FREE TRADE

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 11.—There was no fulfillment of the serious trouble expected at the meeting addressed here tonight by Lord Hugh Cecil and Winston Churchill, M. P., in opposition to the fiscal program of Joseph Chamberlain. It is estimated that the crowds surrounding the town hall during the progress of the meeting numbered 40,000 persons. A few stones were thrown and some windows broken, but it is believed that the prevention of more serious disorders was due to the earnest appeal of the supporters of Mr. Chamberlain, supplemented by the advice of the local newspapers to give the free traders a fair hearing, as well as to excellent police arrangements.

The meeting was attended by 5,000 persons. Mrs. George Cornwallis-West, formerly Lady Randolph Churchill, and mother of Winston Churchill, was in the audience.

Mr. Churchill devoted his speech to denunciation of Mr. Chamberlain's proposals and urged the continuation of the free trade policy of Great Britain, which, he said, had done more to maintain the peace of the world than had been done by 500 foreign ministers and colonial secretaries during the last thirty years. Every mention by Mr. Churchill of Joseph Chamberlain's name was greeted with cheers and counter cheers. His statement that Great Britain was prosperous and her trade good was received with both hisses and cheers. "Canadian and Australian loyalty," said Mr. Churchill, "had already been proved on veldt and kopje. It could not be bought at two shillings per quarter." Lord Hugh Cecil followed Mr. Churchill, delivering a speech in a similar vein.

A resolution denouncing the proposed new tariff and admitting the right of the government to impose retaliatory duties in special cases was carried by a large majority. At the close of the meeting the great crowd outside the town hall dispersed good naturedly, singing national songs and cheering for Joseph Chamberlain.

Though the visit to Birmingham of Lord Hugh Cecil and Mr. Churchill did not result in any breach of the peace, it was feared by the police that an outbreak would occur similar to the riotous proceedings which marked the pro-Boer meeting at which Lloyd George, M. P., denounced Mr. Chamberlain and the South African war. During the day a band of men paraded the streets with placards reading "Shall the Radicals be allowed to oppose our Joe?" and inviting the workpeople to attend. Strong barricades were erected around the town hall, but their employment was found to be unnecessary.

Commission Favors the Countess.

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—The commission appointed by the court, which is trying the Countess Isabella Westerska Kwilecka, charged with presenting a false heir to an estate at Wroblewo, to decide if any resemblance existed between the countess and her supposed son, has reported that there are strong physical resemblances, and that there is no resemblance between the Kwilecki boy and the son of Cecilia Meyer, the reputed mother of the countess' child.

CARNEGIE'S GIFT IS A CLUB HOUSE

More Than One Million to Be Spent on Building for Engineers.

PLANS ARE NEAR COMPLETION

Committee of Fifteen, Headed by Pittsburgher Is Preparing Details of Project—Two Buildings Will Be Ten Stories High.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

Andrew Carnegie's plan to make New York one of the great engineering centers of the world and to give to all branches of the profession a splendid building that would be to it what the University club is to the colleges, is fast nearing realization. It will cost more than $1,000,000. Mr. Carnegie has said: "You may draw on me for $1,000,000, but I will give more should it be needed."

The building plan under consideration contemplates two 10-story buildings, one for the Engineers' club, at Nos. 32 and 34 West Fortieth street, and the other the home for the four national societies of the engineering profession, at Nos. 29 and 31 West Thirty-ninth street. Mr. Carnegie's offer to the engineers was made at a dinner he gave to six men representing the several organizations on last Valentine's day.

William A. Redding of the Engineers' club, who has been prominent in adjusting the legal and other details of the project, said today that so much progress had been made that he believed that before the end of the year the formal acceptance of Mr. Carnegie's gift could be announced.

"The various organizations," said Mr. Redding, "have named a committee of three each, of which Charles F. Scott of the Electrical engineers is chairman; F. R. Hutton of the Mechanical engineers, secretary, and John Kafer of the Engineers' club, treasurer.

"This committee of 15 has been hard at work and has solved many of the problems that at first seemed difficulties in our way. The committee is harmonious and so far as the Mining engineers, the Mechanical, the Electrical, as well as the Engineers' club, have decided favorably on the project.

"The general idea is to have our new clubhouse according to the most modern ideals, with bachelor accommodations for 50 members. The other building, for the headquarters of the different organizations, will be fitted up according to the needs and ideas of each, with a big auditorium for general worship and a library. Each will be 10 stories high."

FRANK A. PARKER.

Mr. Crane and His New Play.

Considerable interest is being taken in the forthcoming presentation of the adaptation of "The Spenders," which Charles Frohman has to give at the Alvin theater next week, with that genial comedian, William H. Crane, in the chief role. One of the charms of the book from which the comedy is taken was in its contrasts. These, together with the breeziness of the narrative, are all retained. The character in Mr. Crane's keeping is that of Peter Bines, a miser, owner of a sturdy, rugged, honest old man, whose heart is all bound up in his relatives. Two love stories run through the story. There are four sets and the settings are picturesque.

SMALL REDUCTION IN PUDDLERS' PAY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 11.—The settlement of the bar iron scale for the next two months proved more in favor of the men than was generally thought would be the case. The reduction on the puddling rate was but 25 cents a ton, while it was feared that it might be as much as 50 cents.

On the 1.5 card rate which the sale sheets showed puddling was reduced to $5.70 a ton. The rate for bar mill heating and rolling is 68½ cents, a reduction from 70 cents. The guide mill rate is 10 per cent above the base, or 2 per cent lower than it was for the two previous months.

John Pierce, assistant to President Theodore J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated association; John Nestor, Michael Ward and R. G. Howells represented the Amalgamated association, and James H. Nutt, secretary of the labor bureau of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, and R. R. Lawson of the American Steel Hoop Company represented the manufacturers.

LIVELY TIMES FOR DISTRICT BOARD

Saltlick School Directors Hustled Day and Night Hunting for Two Teachers.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 11.—Scarcely had the sun risen when the directors of Saltlick township met in special session to fill two vacancies in the township schools and thus save the state appropriation, which they were to lose had not the schools started this week, and thus have been months of sessions before June 1. Candidates were scarce as wages are only $28 and $32.

A young man named Orr of Pittsburgh was visiting his uncle at Dawson and the two drove into Saltlick township to buy buckwheat and honey. Mr. Orr graduated from the Pittsburgh High school in 1900 and is by occupation a mechanical draughtsman. He had never dreamed of teaching school but the sight of a young man who looked intelligent enough to teach was too much for the Saltlick people and they insisted that he must teach one of the schools. He was hurried off to take the examination before County Superintendent Carroll at Dunbar and passed successfully.

With one vacancy filled the president of the board then rode 20 miles over the mountain, starting before daylight, and in Stewart township, Reuel Fitch was prevailed upon, and he, too, was hurried to Supt. Carroll for the examination. With the two vacancies filled the directors met shortly after daylight Monday morning and the state appropriation of $1,600 was saved.

SICK CAT ATTACKS A SLEEPING BABY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Nov. 11.—Clyde, the 18-months-old child of Mrs. Emma Frout of this city, was attacked by a cat last night and may die as a result.

The cat stealthily crawled upon the bed on which the mother and child were lying and buried its teeth in the lower lip of the child and started sucking its blood.

The child awoke and its cries aroused its mother. The baby was gasping for breath and blood had saturated its clothing. The cat fought desperately when torn from the child. The cat was diseased and it is feared the child may not recover.

OFFICERS TOOK BOY AWAY FORCIBLY

Child and His Aunt Fought When Truant Officer Came—School Board Sent Lad to Polk.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

KITTANING, PA., Nov. 11.—The school board has disclosed a curious case of a twelve year old boy. Some one informed the principal that a grandson of James McDanald, had not been allowed to go out for two years. Today Truant Officer Hensley in company with Constable Richardson visited the McDanald residence.

Gaining an entrance, they found the boy, but when they attempted to move him, the lad and an aunt put up such a forceful resistance that it required the united efforts of both officials to secure the lad. He was taken to the school house where a special meeting of the board was held and three physicians were called in to examine him as to his mental capacity. They decided that he was weak minded, but would not say whether it was caused by his confinement. It was decided that the little fellow should be sent to the Polk Institute.

FORMING PLAN FOR THE PITTSBURGH EXHIBIT

Chamber of Commerce Committee Outlines Arrangements of Views at St. Louis Fair.

A meeting yesterday afternoon of the chamber of commerce committee on the Pittsburgh exhibit at the coming St. Louis World's fair developed to a considerable extent the plan of arrangement of this city's contribution to the big show.

Particular attention is to be paid to the industrial element in the exhibit, as that is the recognized feature of Pittsburgh's greatness. Great photographs on glass plates will be the center of the Pittsburgh group. These photos will be illuminated by electric lights behind them to bring out the pictures distinctly.

Hanging above the exhibit will be a handsome lamp bearing the word "Pittsburgh" prominently so as to attract attention to the scenes below, while beneath the photographs will be the great relief map of the city made under the direction of the United States government.

Pittsburgh councils have already contributed $15,000 to meet the expense of the exhibit. Other contributions have been made, and it is expected that $25,000 will be raised.

REPUBLIC MAY BUY A BIG TUBE PLANT

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 11.—George D. Wick, organizer and a heavy stockholder in the Youngstown Iron Sheet and Tube Company, today practically admitted that the sale of the plant to the Republic Iron & Steel company is under consideration.

"If the plant is sold on a fair cash basis I believe that it would be a good thing for both companies. The Republic has one of the best steel mills in the country and is able to make more steel than their finishing mills can consume. On the other hand, the Youngstown Iron Sheet & Tube Company has one of the most modern plants in the country. It has a capacity of 100,000 tons per annum and is a larger buyer of steel billets."

TWELVE MURDERS ARE UNAVENGED

ESCAPE OF THE ASSASSINS

In Many Instances the Officials Do Not Even Know Who Committed the Crimes—In Other Cases the Murderers Were Allowed to Get Away.

Since the first of the year 26 murders have been committed within the city limits and the assassins of 12 of the victims have escaped the police and detectives. In some of the instances the officers know who the slayers are, and in others they have been unable to obtain the slightest clue to the murderers.

ANDREW ULEWICZ, a Polish banker, killed and robbed in Mulberry alley on January 9 by a Slav. The supposed assassin and robber, Frank Gaber, effected his escape.

HUGH LANG, assaulted by thugs at Fourth avenue and Market street January 22 and died in the Homeopathic hospital. His assailants escaped.

MICHAEL ANTONIO, stabbed to death by Syrians in Muriel street, South Side, on February 8. His assailants were never apprehended.

DOMINICO ABRIOLA, an Italian, shot and killed in Webster avenue by Pietro Vizzari on March 14. Vizzari escaped.

FREDERICK C. COLLINS, a coachman, beaten to death and his body thrown into a lot at Center avenue and Aliquippa street on April 7. No clue to his slayers was ever found.

STANKO GOJSOWICK, beaten to death at Twenty-sixth and Carson streets, South Side, on April 21. His assailants were never found.

ALEXANDER WALLACE, deliberately burned to death at No. 5811 Mignonette street on May 15 by an unknown man. The assassin has never been discovered.

WALTER C. EMERY of Chicago, assaulted while on a visit to this city and died in the West Penn hospital on July 5 from his injuries. His assailants were never apprehended.

DOMINIC CARLO, stabbed to death in Competition alley on July 18. A number of persons were arrested, but the assassin is said to be at large.

GEORGE M'DOWELL, assaulted in Diamond street by thugs on August 24 and died from his injuries in the Homeopathic hospital. His assailants escaped.

WILLIAM WYCH, shot and killed in the West End by Robert Muts on August 27. Muts escaped the police.

ALEXANDER JAZINSKA, a Polish storekeeper, shot and killed in his store at No. 3047 Wayne street, on November 9. His three assailants have so far evaded the detectives and police.

With the exception of the investigation into the death of Coachman Collins, the detective and police force practically gave up all efforts to catch the murderers after a few days' work.

During the summer months dozens of men were held up by thugs in the downtown section of the city. The victims were beaten and robbed, and four died. Several colored men were arrested, suspected of having participated in these assaults and robberies.

The murder of Coachman Collins was, perhaps, the most brutal affair that ever occurred in this city. His neck was broken, skull fractured, ribs crushed in, and after his body was kept in hiding several days, it was thrown on a lot, where it was found on April 7.

The Citizens party leaders opposed the advances in common council but were afraid to vote against the increases because the ordinance came up on the eve of the election and they feared they might lose the firemen's vote. It is proposed now to allow the bill to sleep in the finance committee of select council.

The firemen have another grievance against the present administration. Last March, when Mayor William B. Hays was appointed by Gov. Pennypacker about a week before his elective term began, he notified the firemen that his services would not be needed after April 1, unless otherwise notified.

The other notice never came but instead every one of the men in the engine houses received the tip from their superior officers that they would hold their jobs only so long as they were "all right" politically.

This club has been hanging over the firemen ever since, and drove a number of them at the last election to vote the Republican ticket. It is claimed by the firemen that the city administration, failing to reappoint them after April 1, said discharge every one of them and they cannot claim the protection of the civil service.

The civil service feature did not become operative until April 1, and every fireman who might be appointed under it could demand a trial before he could be discharged. As the matter stands every man in the fire bureau can be discharged today without a trial.

Yale Is a Strong Favorite Over the Tigers

...RANGEMENT IS ...MPLETED TODAY

...AND FARRAR NAMED

...football game between Washington ...Jefferson and State college for ...sgiving in Pittsburgh is practically ...ded. The faculty advisory board ...d a meeting last evening at Washington and agreed to the arrangements made ... Manager Tutt which he entered into ...h the state and East End representatives. ...ance Stuart, who is looking after the ...ate end of the game, was notified last ...ht of the committee's decision. ...It is now up to State to sign the agreement for the game. A meeting will be held ...n Pittsburgh this afternoon, when Manager ...tt, of W. & J. will meet the state manager. ...The East End team, which had a verbal ...greement with W. & J. for the Thanksgiving game, has been placated. Both W. & J. ...nd State agreed to give East End a bonus ...for relinquishing its claim on W. & J. for ...the day. The W. & J. faculty advisory ...board yesterday agreed on its share, and a ...telegram from State was received last night, which stated that it also had agreed to pay East End.

...State had a game scheduled with the ...Second Athletic club for Thanksgiving at ...Harrisburg, which will be canceled. East ...End will make an effort to get the date there.

...H. Young and Dr. W. S. Farrar were ...yesterday chosen as officials for the Pittsburgh High School-Shadyside Academy football game, which will be played Saturday afternoon at Exposition park. Prof. Cooper of Ridge school and Charles A. Young and Lorette of Shadyside conferred for some time yesterday before agreeing. In the event that Dr. Farrar is unable to serve, Lionel Tessar Mosse of the Western university was selected from the faculty.

Young is a former Cornell captain and ...ator of the D. C. & A. C. team, while Farrar was one of the University of Pennsylvania team that beat Harvard the last time. He also is a former D. C. & A. C. player. The selection of these men will insure the game being played without any unpleasant incidents arising up caused by incompetency on the part of the officials. Mosse also is competent, and a good selection was made when he was named as the third man.

The game promises to be one of the hardest these schools ever engaged in. Coach James has the High school eleven in the best of shape, probably better than a High school team ever was. Secret practice was again held yesterday. The work, it was said, was not as good as that of the day previous. Campbell, center, did not show up for practice and he was the only line man missing. Schmidt resumed his position at guard and "Doc" Worrell at right half.

Coach James played quarterback on the scrub team and led all the assaults against the line. There was not one touchdown made during the entire afternoon's practice. The first team could pass crossed the line, but surrendered the ball when within a few yards of scoring. Spuhler, at end, and Hahn, at left half, did some exceptionally fine work on both the offense and defense.

Signal practice was held at Shadyside. All the first team men and nearly all the scrubs were out, but the coaches did not let them in lively scrimmages. The men will be worked hard today and then today's practice will be the last. The deciding game between the Allegheny High school and the Allegheny Preps, may not be played Friday afternoon as first agreed upon as was arranged for Tuesday. Left half Evans of the Preps, leaves today for Florida, and his going leaves the Preps in a bad way for players, as there are no substitutes. Unless Evans can be played on the team next season comes out, the game will be called off by Manager Belton. It is not likely that the Preps can muster a full team now. Manager Miller of Allegheny High school would like to play a school team Friday. He can be reached by telephone today at the Allegheny High school or at 1405 Ivanhoe street, Allegheny.

Primrose will play the Crafton A. C. at the Colosseum next Saturday. Lyceum and Primrose will play at the Colosseum November 21. Of all the local teams the Primrose, Lyceum and the Pastimes have proved to be the strongest, but which team is the best of the three cannot be seen until these teams meet. To settle this matter Primrose will not only play the Lyceum team, but will also meet the Pastimes at the Colosseum Saturday, November 28. Primrose will hold practice this evening. All players are to report at the Colosseum at 7:30 o'clock.

GREAT KICKING DONE BY BOWMAN

Best Work on Yale Field Since Days of Bull and Sharpe. Three Teams Out.

PRINCETONS' LAST PRACTICE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 11.—Football practice on Yale field today was like a three ring circus during the public practice. At the same time that the first and second sub elevens were holding a hard practice, Bloomer, Hogan and Sheviln were at one corner of the field practicing starts with the turn of the ball under coaching of Murphy, captain in 1896, and Bowman and Mitchell were kicking field goals.

Eight hundred undergrads, who marched out to practice, cheering and singing, found many occasions to cheer over Bowman's goal kicking. Not since the days of Billy Bull, not even in the work of Sharpe several years ago, has better work been seen on Yale field. Repeatedly Bowman put the ball over the bar from the 45-yard line after gradually working back to the 30-yard mark.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The Tiger football players held their last hard practice this afternoon before their final match on Saturday. Almost the entire student body marched to the field and assisted by a brass band, sang and cheered throughout the goal work. The scrub eleven appeared on the field each man wearing a large "X" on his jersey. The scrub players were swept aside at will. During the entire two halves of 35 minutes each, the varsity had their opponents at their mercy. The only feature that marred the work was fumbling and this was indulged in at frequent intervals.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Harvard football began inside the new stadium today, the varsity and a long string of subs being given hard work in secret practice. Tomorrow the practice will be open, and a big crowd of students will march to Soldiers' field from the Union behind a band and, after ranging themselves about the stadium according to classes, will cheer the football team.

The sensation of the afternoon's work was a 50-yard run by Rendall, the sub left halfback. He got entirely clear of the field and it looked as though he had a touchdown, but Guild, the second's fullback, pulled up on him and brought him down with a beautiful diving tackle from behind.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Today's practice of the Cornell team did not brighten the Ithacans' prospects for the game with Columbia next Saturday. The playing was listless, at times there were frequent fumbles and the formations were loosely carried out. Team work was also sadly lacking. However, the varsity was able to score twice on the second team.

The coaches have become alarmed over the fact that the regulars do not play their best game unless close to their own goal line. There seems to be no inclination to help each other along and there are other evidences that the men have been overworked. For this reason the varsity will be given no more hard practice this week.

Coffin and Hackstaff were excused from the work today, but both will be in the lineup next Saturday. It is now practically certain that Coffin will be played at his old position at right halfback and that McAllister will be in the fullback position. The latter has been improving rapidly during the past week and is much stronger on defense. It is also certain that Hackstaff's fine practise today and the close will be repeated tomorrow, with light signal practice on Friday. W. & J. is confident of winning Saturday's game from Geneva, and already bets aggregating several hundred dollars have been made by Washington sports.

YALE THE FAVORITE.

Betting Is $10 to $1 on the Chances of the Blue Eleven.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Betting on the Yale-Princeton football game which takes place in New Haven on Saturday began in this city today in earnest. The prevailing odds were 10 to 7 and 10 to 6 on the Blue. In some cases enthusiastic Yale graduates wagered as much as 2 to 1 that their team would down the Tigers.

The largest individual bet recorded was one of $1,000 to $800 on Yale, and was made in Wall street. It is expected that fully $75,000 will be wagered on the result of the game before the eleven line up.

Indiana Preparing for Kiski.

INDIANA, PA., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The Indiana Normal football team is practicing hard for its game with Kiski, at Saltsburg, on Saturday. Pollock, left guard, has his knee in a plaster cast and may not be able to put into the game. Stevens, a new man who made his first appearance on Tuesday on the second team in the game against the Kiski second team, is making good and will doubtless get a place in Saturday's game. Normal was to play the Outing club this afternoon, but because the latter insisted on using Brallier of Latrobe at quarterback, Normal refused to play, so the game was called off. A large crowd of rooters will go to Saltsburg for Saturday's game.

BASKET BALL NOTES.

The Allegheny Reserves play the Lafayettes tonight on the latter's floor. All Lafayette players report not later than 7:30. Rebels take notice.

Metzkes put up the finest kind of a game at center for Manchester last Monday night and held big McCreight, the Indiana State Normal star, down to 99 score.

The race in the Allegheny County league will be much closer this season than ever before, as the teams are more evenly matched. This will be a good thing for the game in this section.

The champion Sterlings will be stronger than ever this season, with Tom Lowrie of Homestead and Criswell of Sharpsburg in their lineup. Both of these are top-notchers in their class.

The Western Indians of Allegheny want games with all 25 to 50-pound teams. Address Earl Bothwell, 10 Hemlock street, Allegheny. All the players are to report for practice Friday afternoon.

The crack Wilmerding Y. M. C. A. team appears at Manchester next Monday night. This will be the first game between Manchester and Wilmerding at Manchester since the season of 1901-1902.

ALL-STAR TEAM LOSES TO PITTSBURGH RESERVES

The Bluffites Have Patched-Up Eleven on Field, but Beat Allegheny Bunch, 10 to 0.

With Halfback Keating, Center Stalb and Tackles Rankin and Whalen on the side lines from injuries received Monday evening against the scrubs, the Pittsburgh College Reserves went into the game against an all-star team from Allegheny yesterday afternoon on the college grounds and came out victorious, 10 to 0. The best players from the Sophomores, Primrose, Nationals, Tigers, Labelles and Twin Citys were included in the Alleghenian's line-up, but nevertheless they were unable to score upon the Bluffites.

Allegheny won the toss. Duffy picked off to Schmidt, who was down by Whalen on Allegheny's 20-yard line. By short end bucks and line plunging Allegheny pushed the ball to Reserves' 45-yard line, where the Collegians took the oval on downs. Gaynor went through Allegheny's left tackle for seven yards. On the next play the Reserves' fullback shot through an opening made by De Kowski and Lange and went for nine more on the first down. Neilhan missed goal. Duffy kicked off to Sweeney, who was downed on Allegheny's 25-yard line by Gaynor. By persistent line plunging three shots and end runs Allegheny worked the pigskin to the Reserves' five-yard line, where their advance was checked only by time being called.

In the second half Sweeney kicked to Neilhan, who brought the ball to Reserves' 15-yard line. Dowling, Gaynor and Duffy advanced the oval to Allegheny's 10-yard line, where Gaynor was thrown out of bounds. Here two fumbles by Neilhan lost the ball on downs for the Reserves. After two futile attempts to pierce the Reserves' line, and being thrown back by Duffy and Nolan, Sweeney punted to Allegheny's 25-yard line where Arens caught the ball on a run and was downed. By repeating the bucking and a 35-yard run by Killen, who was prevented from scoring only by a brilliant tackle by Gaynor, the Alleghenians got the ball to Reserves' 40-yard line. Here time was called, just after Arens had thrown Boyle back 15 yards in his attempt to skirt the end. Line-up:

They Will Go Fifteen Rounds in Boston on December 1.

MESSAGE OF WARNING TO DESERTING PLAYERS

Larry Herrmann, chairman of the national commission has just handed down a decision which is of interest to every minor league player and manager in the country. The case in point is that of Arthur Devlin, who is alleged to have jumped the Newark club of the Eastern league.

The Newark club contended that it had a contract with Devlin when did not expire until October 1, 1903, and that it had sold his release to the New York club, to take effect on the date named, but the player deserted the club on September 19 and the club fined him $100. The commission was asked to sustain the finding on the part of the club.

In announcing the finding in the case the commissioner says: "In this case the player contends that when he signed a contract with the Newark club, in 1902, he was allowed by Mr. Burnham, manager, to leave on the 20 of September of that year, because he had signed a contract in July of that year to coach the football team of the A. and M. college from September 3 to November 28, for the seasons of 1902 and 1903, and that in the spring of 1903 he again notified Mr. Burnham's attorney to this contract, and told him he had to leave on the first of September; that that was the reason for his leaving, but that he had no idea of deserting the club. The player submits the contract with the A. and M. college in evidence. Mr. Burnham, however, states that he had never seen this contract. From the evidence submitted the commission is somewhat in doubt in this case. Were it not for the contract submitted by the player we would hold the player ineligible to play until the disposed was sold. Since being in doubt, however, we desire not to make a finding in this case.

"To establish a precedent however, in cases of this kind, the members of the commission desire now to announce that under these rules may be promulgated to club owners and players alike, that whenever any case is presented to the commission where drafted or purchased players are fined or suspended for deserting any club, or in order to maintain proper discipline in any club, the commission will uphold all such findings, and hold the players ineligible to play with any club operating under the national agreement until such fine or suspension has been lifted; provided the same is justified and warranted by the facts and evidence submitted and guaranteeing to the player in each case the opportunity of being heard in the matter.

WAS HART'S PROMISE.

Chicago Owner Did Not Speak for the Whole League.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The statement credited to Dan Johnson, president of the American league, that the foul strike rule, it unsatisfactory to the American league after a year's trial, would be abolished, is denied by President Hart of the local club of the National league.

"I promised Mr. Johnson that if his league did not like the rule after a year's trial I would vote with him to abolish it," said Mr. Hart today. "I was over-enthusiastic and had no idea they wouldn't like it. However, the National league made no such pledge."

REPUBLICANS TO HOLD BIG PARADE

FIVE THOUSAND IN LINE

Eastern and Western Divisions Will Meet at Montgomery Avenue and Sandusky Street and March Through Principal Thoroughfares.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 loyal Republicans will march in the big parade that is to take place on the North Side Saturday night. Final arrangements for the affair were completed last night by the Allegheny City Republican committee, which met at headquarters. Councilman Charles F. Kirschler will be chief marshal and many prominent Alleghenians will be his aids. The parade is to be a jollification over the victory of the Republican county ticket in the election last week.

The first intention of the party leaders was to hold a ratification meeting in Carnegie Music hall, but this was abandoned as being not so effective in all parts of the city as the parade. Throughout the entire lower part of the city the column will march, and every ward in the city will have its quota of marchers. The line is to be augmented by 400 old soldiers from the three Grand Army posts in Allegheny.

The eastern division will form at the corner of Montgomery avenue and Sandusky street, at 7 o'clock, under command of Maj. H. K. Tyler. He will have as his aids Frank S. Haller, chief of staff, and Dr. Charles A. Spicer, adjutant general of the Second division. At the same time, at Montgomery and Sherman avenues, the western division will form, under command of Brig. Gen. George N. Lacock, with John McNaugher, chief of staff, and E. Morgan McComb, adjutant general.

The two divisions will meet at Sandusky street and form in line of march, with the following counting in each ward: First ward, Charles W. Simon; Fifth, John Swan; Sixth, Norman McAfee; Seventh, John M. Remenschneider; Eighth, John Onslaer; Ninth, Dr. M. J. Geis; Tenth, Adam Heckert; Eleventh, David Morrison; Twelfth, Thomas Cummings; Thirteenth, Conrad Schmidt; Fourteenth, Edward Eckert; Fifteenth, T. J. Eggers.

Marshall Charles F. Kirschler will have as his aids the following: Chief of Staff, Frank M. Thompson; adjutant general, Joseph H. May; assistant, John H. Henderson; inspector, Edward L. Braun; assistant, Dr. James W. Dickson; commissary, ex-Senator Charles M. Muehlbronner; assistant, William Saul; surgeon, Dr. W. H. Hockenbrun; assistant, Dr. S. S. Woodburn; paymaster, Robert K. Cochrane; assistant, William Muehlbronner; judge advocate general, George J. Schad, jr.; chaplain, the Rev. John A. Jayne. The general staff is composed of Chief Engineer George Bradley, Samuel Grier, George E. Smith, John Hock, Fred Tschume and Charles O. Deverts.

The line of march will be from Montgomery avenue up Sandusky street to North avenue, to Cedar avenue, to Second street, to Market square, to Federal street, to Chestnut street, to Main street, to Madison avenue, to Liberty street, to Cedar avenue, to Ohio street, to Federal street, to Lacock street, to School street, to Rebecca street, to Chartiers street, to Franklin street, to Allegheny avenue, to Pennsylvania avenue, to Union street, to the postoffice. At the postoffice the line will pass in review and break ranks.

The city committee last night gave instructions to the chairmen of all the 88 districts to be ready to march with them on Saturday night delegations of Republicans from their districts to take part in the parade.

STILL BREAKING RECORDS.

Lou Dillon Lowers Two Wagon Marks and Now Leads the Speedway.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Lou Dillon, 1:58¼, the world's champion trotter, driven by her owner, C. K. G. Billings, captured two more records today, when she trotted a half mile to wagon over the speedway in 59 seconds and a quarter in 27 seconds. It was the fastest quarter of a mile ever accomplished by a trotter, whether on the road or track.

The performance was a special trial trial suggested by Mr. Billings just to ascertain what the mare could do if allowed to go her limit. Finding the conditions favorable, he decided to make the trial. He was accompanied by two pacemakers. Doc Turner, chief trainer for Mr. Billings, drove a speedy runner, while Fred Noble drove a pacer to sulky which in its self, could step a quarter in 29 seconds.

The champion and her pacemakers were forged down to the lower stretch and given the word. Once in her stride the mare fairly flew over the ground. Half way down she forged ahead of the runner and other pacemaker and finished the distance strong. Those who had their watches on the trial could hardly believe their eyes. Mr. Billings caught the time in 27¼, while Fred Noble caught it in 27 seconds flat. Doc Turner timed the quarter at better than 27 seconds, but was too modest to announce the figures.

"That was the fastest quarter that I have ever driven in my life," said Mr. Billings as he dismounted from the light speed wagon. "Undoubtedly Lou Dillon can go faster, and some time I drive her. There is no doubt that she is improving and will yet reduce the present record. Just what she will do is difficult to predict."

DECISION FOR CHERRY.

Outpointed Tommy Feltz, Who Objects to the Award.

DETROIT, Nov. 11.—By getting the decision over Tommy Feltz of Brooklyn tonight, Joe Cherry of Saginaw, Mich., earned the right to take a bout with Frankie Neil champion featherweight of the world. The boys have agreed that the winner of tonight's contest before the Metropolitan Athletic club of Detroit on both men fought fast and hard for the decision.

Cherry landed more often than Weltz, and though both men landed strong, Referee Edwards decided that Cherry's aggressive manner was a point in the big crowd. There was very little money put up on the fight, and the few bets that were made were at even money. Feltz after the fight declared that the decision was a robbery.

Love in Humble Cottage Said to Be Real Sequence to Ruth Bryan's Romantic Marriage—Papa Bryan Sends Check.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.—Dispatches indicate that love in a cottage is likely to be a real sequence to the romantic marriage of Ruth Bryan Leavitt. Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt are still on their honeymoon, and are at present the guests of Miss Zoe Akins at the Thomas J. Akins country residence near Humansville.

Mrs. Leavitt's friends are cheerfully suggesting that Mrs. Leavitt may have an opportunity to make a practical demonstration of her ideas on economics that she might now be teaching in Hull house but for the fact of her marriage.

It is said Mrs. Leavitt does not find the inhabitants of the Ozarks talco to art very enthusiastically and it is a long way from Humansville to Newport, R. I.

Dr. M. Dwight Jennings is a cousin of Mrs. Leavitt's father, William Jennings Bryan. When seen today he said:

"I know nothing about the reported poverty of my romantic young cousin, but presume it is not unlikely that it is true. The young lady's father is not a man who is likely to change his mind. The fact that Mr. Leavitt is poor, however, need not interfere in the least with their happiness. I hope that he is a good artist at any rate—there won't be much romance in my fair cousin's sacrifice if it turns out that her husband was originally cut out for a sign painter."

It is reported that Papa Bryan has remitted a check for $200, which comes as a life-saver.

HALLER IS IN DEMAND FOR THE COMING SEASON

Evansville, Rochester, (N. Y.,) W. & J. and Waynesburg Seek His Services.

Frank Haller, who turned out a winning independent team at Waynesburg last summer, has four offers for the coming season. The directors of the Evansville club of the Central league want him to manage that team. George Smith, of Alleghny, who will manage the Rochester Eastern league team, would like to have him with him; the Washington and Jefferson college desires him at the couch and the directors of the Waynesburg club promise to raise a purse of $2,000 for him to work on if he consents to again manage their team.

The offer that he looks kindly on is that from Evansville. It is probable that he will tie up there for the next campaign. If he goes to Evansville he will take with him Bucky Kenney, the old Pittsburgh high school infielder, who was with him at Waynesburg, and Elmer Collins, the local boy. Even if he does not go to Evansville and should return to Waynesburg he will have Kenney and Collins. Haller thinks well of Zellers as a husky right-hander who was with Rochester last season, and he would like to have him for Evansville.

Haller is a catcher and first baseman. W. and J., which will be strong next spring, is very anxious to engage him and at the close of the college season the summer team would be put under his control. Waynesburg will be in the field again next year with just as strong a team as that of last season, but an effort will be made to again have Kid Williams, who pitched about all the big games. According to Haller Manager Joe Kelly of the Cincinnati National league team thinks well of Williams and would like to get him. Williams will be graduate at the Indiana State Normal school next spring and does not care to go into any league after he is graduated. At present he is at Mt. Clemens, boiling out rheumatism.

The official averages of the Three I league just out, show that Charlie Alberman of Milwaukee was fifth among the third-basemen. He had an errorless record. Lajoie, the Cleveland with which he played, led in fielding with .959, and in batting with .376. Hines of Davenport led the league with the stick, .339, he playing the full season.

Alberman was sent to the Three I league by Burgess Ed. Hickey.

SMITH IS DISQUALIFIED.

Penn's Star Fullback Is Declared Ineligible by Faculty Athletic Committee.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 11.—A. L. Smith, the star fullback of the University of Pennsylvania team, who played in the game against Harvard last Saturday despite the protest of Captain Dunn, who claimed that he was ineligible, was today disqualified by the faculty athletic committee. The following statement was issued by the faculty committee:

A note explaining the circumstances has been sent to the colleges against whom Pennsylvania has played this autumn, expressing the regret of the committee that it had not sufficient information on which its present action is based.

Smith was a student at State college last year and played on the State college football team against Pennsylvania. Immediately afterward he entered the sophomore class in chemistry at Pennsylvania, but did not play on the Pennsylvania team because of the one-year residence rule. He played all this season. Captain Dunn protested him on the ground that he had not been at Pennsylvania one year. Pennsylvania replied that Smith's case had been investigated by a committee of prominent graduates, and that this committee had reached the conclusion that he had resided one academic year at the university. Harvard then dropped the matter.

The charges against Smith is alleged to have played on the State college team after he took out matriculation papers at Pennsylvania were with Yale and Annapolis.

HE WANTS TANNEHILL.

Comiskey Has a Line Out for the Former Pirate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—This is the time of year when baseball managers are figuring how they can trade some of their players, especially those who are known to be unsatisfied, and obtain better ones in their places, and the present is no exception.

Comiskey has more men than he can well use next year, and keep them in condition, and he is looking for trades. It is not at all unlikely that some of his men will figure in a deal for players who were Highlanders last season. Williams and Tannehill are said to be desirous of a change, and may go to Chicago.

In exchange for them Clark Griffith could have Davis, Jones and McFarland, or one of the players and cash for the others. Davis and Jones, as he well knows, are determined to play in New York, and a swap may be the only means Comiskey will have of availing himself of their value.

Sociological Studies.

The New Era club took up sociology yesterday afternoon at its regular meeting in the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association. Miss James R. Kibler was the leader, and under her direction a very interesting program was presented. Mrs. William Parrish discussed "Public Law." Mrs. Roger Aikens taking up "Enlightened Methods of Dealing with the Criminal Classes." "The Legal Rights of the Child" was the subject which Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery discussed, the three presenting in panoramic form the work which is being done by philanthropists, educators and the clubwomen together for the correction of vice in great cities and throughout the country. Mrs. Montgomery talked informally on the work of the George Junior Republic and its benefits in the education of children. A general discussion was conducted by several members of the club on "Farm Schools," another phase of the work for redeeming the children and the adults from crime.

The maid of honor was Miss May Dever of Cleveland and the best man was played by T. J. Thompson, a Pittsburgh newspaper man. Pomerene, general counsel for the Appleyard traction syndicate in Ohio.

AUTOMOBILES NOT BARRED.

Allegheny Public Safety Committee Lets Them Go in Riverview Park.

Automobiles are not to be prohibited from driving through the broad roadways of Riverview park, Allegheny. The ordinance drawn up by Director E. J. McIlvain, intended to keep automobiles out of the park, was sent to councils with a negative recommendation last night by the committee on public safety. City Solicitor Stephen G. Porter was unable to decide whether or not the measure would be legal.

Director Thomas B. Scandrett of the department of public safety was instructed by resolution of the committee to take options on sites in the Fourteenth ward on which the city will build an engine house. No lots were specified.

The committee reported negatively on the ordinances for the H. J. Heinz Company for $1,262.52, spent by the company in constructing an addition to the pesthouse. This was done by the Heinz company on condition that the city would not build its proposed addition in the Eighth ward. The understanding of the committee was that if the house was not built in the Eighth ward the Heinz company would do the work and stand the expense of the building it in the Twelfth ward.

HUNTER SHOT HIMSELF.

Both Arms Badly Wounded and His Face Almost Torn Into Shreds.

Thomas Myford, of Bellwood, a suburb of Homestead, was accidentally shot while in the woods near Bell Run about noon yesterday. He was leaning with both arms on the muzzle of the shotgun which was resting on the rails of a fence. The butt of the gun slipped and the two hammers were caught as the gun descended discharging the contents of the gun into his face.

Both arms were torn where the gun had rested and his face was torn to shreds. He may not survive. He is 23 years old and the son of James Myford, a prominent man in Mifflin township politics.

HEBERTON AVENUE FRONTAGE SOLD

A DEAL ON SQUIRREL HILL

German Church Lease May Not Be Signed—General Indignation at Sympathetic Strikes—East Liberty Will Be Be Helped by Street Improvements.

A very choice lot of vacant frontage belonging to Coll & Totten and located on the west side of Heberton avenue, Nineteenth ward, has been sold to a prominent East End realty broker for $25,000. Formerly the property was owned by Jacob and Isaac Kaufmann, who disposed of it over a year ago. It embraced 817x133 feet, extending along Heberton avenue, from Wellesley avenue to Stewart street. Adjoining it is the allottment of James J. Booth, most of which has been sold. The property is only three squares south of Highland park and in a neighborhood which is building up very rapidly with high-class houses. A building restriction goes with the property forbidding lots of less than 40 feet frontage. The new owner, it is said, will improve the property with seven $10,000 residences in the spring.

The sale is also reported of 500 feet of the H. W. Mitchell frontage, at the northeast corner of Woodland road and Murray avenue. Twenty-second ward. The plot has an average depth of 150 feet and extends along Woodland road nearly to Shady avenue. It adjoins the Joseph L. Kay holdings. The consideration was about $28,000, or $75 a front foot and the buyer is said to be a prominent local builder who will improve the sites with good residences. The growing importance of Woodland road as a high-class residence street makes this one of the most desirable vacant properties on Squirrel Hill.

Two Properties Bring $32,000

Two properties in the Nineteenth ward have been sold by William G. Herbst to Jane Armstrong for $32,000. One is a 12-room frontage of Beechwood boulevard. The other is a vacant plot, 100x160 feet, at the southeast corner of Euclid avenue and Callowhill street.

It is quite probable that the 50 years' lease for the property of the German Evangelical Protestant church extending along Smithfield street from the church line to Strawberry alley may not go through. Some time ago the lease was drawn and what it had not called presented to the proposed lessees for their signature. Five merchants, all of whom now rent from the church, compose the syndicate. They are Otto Helmond, Julius Lauth, Louis Mowry, Albert L. Stoepfer and John S. Brehm. Two other merchants in the block were included in the deal at first, but have dropped out. It is said that the church committee has made a number of changes in the lease. Frontage conditions that the merchants are not likely to accept. The syndicate will meet next week to consider the matter finally, and if the deal goes through plans will at once be made for the store building to cover the entire site.

Sympathetic Strikes Hotly Condemned.

The possibility of a general lockout of the building trades was the absorbing topic of conversation in the corridors of the Board of Trade real estate brokers joined in the discussion. That the plumbers' strike which began October 1 should end in an attempt to tie up every building trade in the city against the plumbers was declared with pronounced disfavor in business circles, for it is bound to cause further delays in building that are already costing business men thousands of dollars. Real estate brokers declare that if the situation would be still further aggravated. Aside from several large buildings downtown that are partially or wholly dependent on the plumbers for completion, there is a large amount of building over the city that has been delayed six weeks by the plumbers' strike. Over 40 houses in the Nineteenth ward alone are waiting on the plumbers, and the department of building inspection, and are all completed but the lavatories. The delay has been most costly to house builders who expected to have their houses finished and dried by November 1, so that they could be rented in short order. Now they will not be thoroughly dried before January 1 or later, and this means that dozens of prospective purchasers are going to wait until spring to select a home, for they will not care to put on one house and carry a mortgage on another.

A Worker Who Will Be Missed.

The untimely death of Frederick H. Boyles of the Real Estate Trust company by being thrown from a vicious horse at Leetsdale, Tuesday night, caused profound sorrow in realty circles yesterday. During his 10 years' service with the Realty company, the Carnegie and for the Real Estate Trust Company. Mr. Boyles had made a host of friends all over the city and in the suburbs which he was foremost in developing. Aside from being a very capable business worker, Mr. Boyles had a personality that made him friends and kept them for him. He will be missed in his field of work as much perhaps as any other man of his age in the real estate business of Pittsburg.

P. F. Boyle, president of the Homestead Realty Company and also of the Duquesne Land Company has resigned his position with both companies and will shortly locate in Pittsburgh. In real estate circles, although only a comparative newcomer, Mr. Boyle in his three years' experience in Homestead has been instrumental in putting through some of the largest deals in the Mon valley district and has organized several realty companies. He is at present a director in the First National bank of Homestead and the Monongahela Trust Company.

Street Improvements in East End.

East End real estate men are taking a lively interest in the proposed extension of Hamilton avenue to Penn avenue, together with the street car project for which an ordinance is now pending in councils. By making Hamilton avenue a 60-foot street, as proposed, they say it would soon become as good a business thoroughfare as Frankstown avenue. To East Liberty it would bring a large amount of trade. It is claimed, for it would afford a route through East Liberty to the city for the extreme East End residents, as well as hundreds in the outlying districts who now come in by way of Fifth avenue without stopping. Hamilton avenue as extended would cross Negley, Highland, Eastern, Dallas and Pinkie streets, and thence run on Loudon street to Lambert street. Beyond this it would cross Berlin street to Station street and from Station street along the railroad to Penn avenue. Frontage in Loudon street, which would be widened for the improvement, is worth from $100 to $150 a foot, and on the cross streets from $75 to $100 a foot. If the extension and street car line were secured, most if not all the property lying on the south side of Hamilton avenue and extending back to the Pennsylvania railroad, about 125 feet, would be available for warehouse and wholesale purposes, owing to the excellent switching facilities and the frontage on a leading street. For this reason values are likely to be advanced considerably when the improvement is assured. This project, with its widening on Frankstown avenue, which will begin by December 1, is sure to mean much to East Liberty in a real estate as well as a commercial way.

LOCKOUT INEVITABLE.

Builders Exchange League Trying to Break Up Sympathy Strike Method.

The Builders' Exchange league is determined to break up the practice of sympathy strikes. The threatened lockout seems inevitable, and as one of the assertions of both sides either the Building Trades council or the Builders' Exchange league will have to go out of existence. Notices were sent out to contractors yesterday notifying them to stop all contracts in the event the trades council call off all sympathetic strikes. This the workmen claim they will not do.

The trouble arose over the strike of the plumbers and the stone cutters. In buildings where non-union men are working at either of the two trades mentioned the trades council has requested their members to quit. The dispute reached a climax Monday when work on several buildings was stopped.

Wind Storm Did Little Damage.

A wind storm visited this section last night, and although many small particles of dust and other things in the Pittsburgh atmosphere found their way to unguarded eyes otherwise the damage was slight. Some of the telephone wires on the South Side were blown down and the service connected with the police station was useless all night. The general telephone service was also slightly interfered with.

In Two Minutes

There will be another car. But the man can't wait. He chases the car and swings on, panting and hot, but satisfied. He keeps this gait up all day. He works that way, he lunches that way. He continues this until his stomach "breaks down" and nature compels him to "go slow."

Business men who have impaired their digestion by hasty eating will find in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a cure for dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It does not give mere temporary relief, but it effects a radical cure. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and purifies the blood.

"For six long years I suffered with my liver, kidneys, and with indigestion, which baffled the best doctors in our country," writes E. L. Kassell, Esq., of Woolsey, Prince William Co., Va. "I suffered with my stomach and back for a long time. After taking a certain of medicine from three doctors, I grew so sick I could hardly do a day's work. Would have death-like pains in the side, and blind spells, and thought life was hardly worth living. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' as advised. Before I had taken half of the second bottle I began to feel relieved. I got six bottles and used them, and am happy to say I owe my life to Dr. Pierce and his medicines."

SPARK CAUSES BIG LOSS AND INJURES TWO MEN

Allegheny Mattress Company's Plant Is Badly Damaged by Fire.

A spark from a picking machine in the Allegheny Mattress Company's plant, No. 1126 Brown street, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon caused a property loss of $2,000 and resulted in the injury of two men. The injured are:
The fire started at 2:20 o'clock on the third floor and spread rapidly because of the combustible nature of the material in the building. Finley and Mangold, who were working on the third floor, found their escape by the stairway cut off and slid down the outside of the building on a dust pipe. Their descent was made the more dangerous by the flames that were shooting from the windows. Both managed to reach the ground without falling and were taken to a nearby drug store, where a physician dressed their burns.
It would spread on all sides, and for this reason the second alarm was sent in. The department succeeded in confining the flames to the building and extinguished the fire after it had burned from the third down through the second floor. The building is a three-story brick. The greatest damage was done in the mattress department. Almost 100 employes escaped from the burning building without injury.
George W. Davy, general manager of the Allegheny Mattress Company, said after the fire that the loss was entirely covered by insurance.

GUANTANAMO PASSES OVER TO UNCLE SAM

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Without any formality the United States has come into actual possession of the coaling station at Guantanamo. Although the flag raising has not taken place it was learned at the navy department today that the transfer was effected in a quiet manner several days ago. Under the arrangement Cuba will pay the owners of the property.
It was explained that the moving factor in the transaction was the knowledge that Cuba was without a navy and as the United States has undertaken the protection of the island against a foreign foe and desires the station as a naval base to protect its own interests, the transfer was made in order that this government might complete its plans mapped out some time ago.
In furtherance of these plans, a board of inspection, consisting of Maj. Gen. Chaffee, assistant chief of staff; Gen. Gillespie, chief of engineers, and Capt. Dayton of the navy, left today for Norfolk, where they will board the cruiser Buffalo, now fitting there for a visit to Guantanamo and Bahia Honda, the other coaling station granted to the United States under agreement with Cuba.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECK.

Policeman Discovered Ties on Track Barely in Time to Save Passengers.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—A dastardly attempt was made by unknown friends to wreck the west-bound passenger train No. 37 on the Lake Shore railroad, due in Cleveland at 5:25 o'clock this evening.
About the time the train was due, a park patrolman was passing through Gordon park, which adjoins the railroad in the eastern part of the city, when he stumbled over something on the tracks and discovered that the obstruction consisted of a number of railroad ties.
Realizing that the west-bound train was due in a few minutes, the patrolman sounded his whistle and was answered by two other park officers. The three men went to work with a desperation and while working on it, a pony engine appeared. With the assistance of the crew they got the obstruction off the track just as the passenger train's headlight was in sight.

RAILROADS MAY TAKE DWELLINGS

WABASH CASE IN THE ISSUE

All Railroads of State Interested in Decision, Which Will Settle Their Right to Condemn Homes Owned by Occupants, Burial Grounds and Churches.

After years of discussion and many costly settlements being made by the railroads of Pennsylvania, the question of the constitutionality of the law exempting dwellings occupied by their owners, and burying grounds and places of public worship from a railroad company's right of eminent domain was yesterday passed up to the supreme court of Pennsylvania, by A. M. Neeper, general counsel for the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western railroad, the Wabash extension. The case is that of David Weigold who has lived for 35 years in a house in Ferry street, a few doors from Second avenue, and directly on the line of the proposed Wabash elevated tracks from the Monongahela bridge to the passenger station at Ferry street and Liberty avenue.
It was testified when the case was first tried in common pleas court No. 1 that Weigold had offered to sell his property for $8,500, but upon learning that the railroad was the purchaser, placed a price of $18,000 on it.

Question Very Important.

Every railroad in Pennsylvania has faced just such conditions. Property other than those especially excepted in the act of 1849 can be taken by railroads upon filing a bond to cover its value, and the settlement is made on a basis established by a board of viewers appointed by the court. When the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western filed the bond in this case to take the property, Weigold was granted an injunction restraining the railroad company from taking his property.
The tenth section of the act of February 19, 1849, is the statute under which the injunction was granted. It provides:
The president and directors of such railroad company shall have power and authority to survey, ascertain, locate and fix, mark and determine such route for a railroad as they may deem expedient, not, however, passing through any burying ground or place of public worship or any dwelling house in the occupancy of the owner or owners, without his, her or their consent, and thereon to lay down, construct and establish a railroad between the points named in the special act incorporating such company, etc.

Constitution's Provision.

Against this act of 1849 Mr. Neeper quotes section 1, article 17 of the constitution, adopted in 1874, which is as follows:
All railroads and canals shall be public highways, and all railroad and canal companies shall be common carriers. Any association or corporation organized for the purpose shall have the right to construct and operate a railroad between any points within this state and to connect at the state line with railroads of other states.
In support of his claim that the constitution does away with the provisions of the act of 1849, extracts from the proceedings of the convention that formulated the constitution of 1874 are offered, showing that the formulators of the constitution were well aware of the fact that the clause adopted would do away with the old statute.
A the last session of the legislature a bill was passed specifically removing the restrictions, but it was vetoed by Gov. Pennypacker.

Turtle Creek Burglars Changed Underwear in the Robbed House

"Our Turtle Creek burglars are original," proudly boasted a resident of that valley as he told last evening the latest performance in the burglary line there. Early yesterday morning the house of Mrs. Mary Freeze in Brown Avenue was entered and two suits of underclothing belonging to her son and son-in-law were stolen. In place of the clean and freshly-ironed underclothes two old suits were left, and the presumption, based on the coolness of the early morning, is that the burglars had the nerve to take time enough to change underclothes while the family in the second floor slept secretly on. There were evidences also that they helped themselves from the cupboard to a generous meal, and to top it off they went away with all the available silverware.
Police Officer William Langham of Turtle Creek arrested two negroes shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday morning, while attempting to force open the doors of a number of stores in Penn avenue, that borough. The men gave their names as Henry Johnston and William Morris and claimed Philadelphia as their homes. They were unable to explain their actions satisfactorily and were given 30 days in the workhouse by Burgess E. E. Jobe. It is not known whether they are connected with the underwear robbery.

MOLTEN STEEL EXPLODES, BADLY BURNING TWO MEN

In an explosion that was heard for several miles up and down the Monongahela valley, two men were seriously burned yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock at No. 2 open-hearth plant of the Homestead works of the Carnegie Steel Company. The hurt men are:
JOHN CLARICE, aged 32, Whittaker, dangerously burned all over head and body; may die.
CLARENCE GERTHUNE, aged 30, Homestead, badly burned on head and body, but expected to recover.
Both men were given attention by the company's surgeons and then taken to Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh.
Fully 30 other employes at the plant had narrow escapes in the explosion, as they were standing near when it occurred. The cause of the accident was the dropping of a large amount of molten steel from a ladle into a pit partially filled with water. The instant it struck the water great volumes of steam burst forth, scattering the white hot metal in all directions. Clarke and Gerthune were standing at the edge of the pit and received the full force of the explosion.

BRILLIANT CLIMAX TO THE CONFERENCE OF THE DAUGHTERS

ATTENDED BY 800 GUESTS

Many Sons of the American Revolution Were Present—Tea at the Twentieth Century Club—Visiting the Block House—Address of Mrs. Fairbanks.

The reception at the Schenley last evening was the brilliant climax of the seventh annual state conference of the Pennsylvania Daughters of the American Revolution. Yesterday morning was given up to business, but during the afternoon and evening the social features arranged for the visit of the Daughters held sway. The reception last evening was given by Mrs. James Ross Mellon, vice president general of the national society, who received in honor of the president general, Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, and the Pennsylvania Daughters.

The reception was one of the most delightful affairs ever conducted at the Schenley, and was attended by nearly 800 guests including the members of the Pittsburgh chapter, the visiting daughters and a large number of the members of the Pennsylvania Society, Sons of the American Revolution, who accompanied their wives and daughters.

The reception was conducted in the drawing rooms upon the second floor, while the library and adjoining rooms on the first floor were reserved for the use of the daughters.

Decorations Were Profuse.

The decorations were very elaborate. The staircase leading to the parlors on the second floor, lined with southern smilax opened into the reception room through wicker portals overhung with vines. Though the general effect was yellow and white against the deep background of green, the American colors appeared conspicuously. Large flags draped about the white pillars.

The chandeliers in the principal reception rooms were sheathed in smilax and the lights were daintily shaded in yellow. The flowers were huge yellow and white chrysanthemums. In the second room, where refreshments were served informally, the table, with its candelabra with tall candle covered with silver filigree shades, bore a large centerpiece of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns. Yellow mallne with yellow chrysanthemums was draped about the chandelier.

In the smaller room beyond an immense palm stood directly beneath the chandelier, which seemed embedded within its spreading leaves. A circle of chairs surrounded the palms. Palms also filled the corners of all three apartments.

Down stairs in the periors reserved for the occasion there was a wealth of tropical plants and rush screens covered with southern smilax concealed the musicians stationed at the middle entrance.

The Receiving Party.

The receiving party included Mrs. Mellon and Mrs. Fairbanks, the vice president and president generals; Miss Susan Frazer, Pennsylvania state regent; Mrs. Julia K. Hogg, honorary state regent; Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, regent of the Pittsburgh chapter; Mrs. Wilbur F. Reeder, state vice regent; Miss Crowell, conference secretary, and Mrs. Enoch Stanford, treasurer. In the long line of assisting ladies were the officers of the Pittsburgh chapter, several of the visiting regents and chairmen of local committees, including Miss Julia Morgan Harding, Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, Mrs. Edward B. Scull, Mrs. William S. Fesler, Miss Pauletta Guffey, Mrs. Dexter J. Thayer, Mrs. William H. Baltzell, Mrs. Charles B. McLean, Mrs. S. Jarvis Adams, Mrs. William D. Hamilton and others.

In the afternoon the president and officers of the Twentieth Century club gave a tea at 4 o'clock at their clubhouse in Duquesne way. The house was handsomely decorated and the officers received in the assembly room, while tea was served informally across the hall. The members of the club and members of the Pittsburgh chapter acted as guides to pilot the visitors from the club to the blockhouse in Fort street, which few of the visiting Daughters have failed to see during their stay in Pittsburgh, registering in the book of visitors. Miss Matilda Denny and the directors of the Allegheny County Daughters of the American Revolution received during the afternoon at the blockhouse, which was prettily decorated with garlands of southern smilax.

Luncheon at the Kenmawr.

The morning business session of the conference was immediately followed by a luncheon which Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, regent of Pittsburgh chapter, gave at the Kenmawr for the regents of the Pennsylvania chapters, the state and national officers and the members of the local committees. The luncheon was served at small tables with individual decorations of yellow chrysanthemums and small American flags. About 50 women were Mrs. Ammon's guests.

The luncheon was followed by a conference of the regents, at which various subjects, which will be introduced for discussion this morning, were taken up, and other matters pertaining to the welfare of the individual chapters.

The sessions of the conference this morning and this afternoon are expected to be of special interest. This morning Mrs. H. C. Pennypacker of the Chester county chapter will make an address on "Valley Forge, the subject of state organization will be brought up, together with subjects to be presented by the chapters and three-minute reports of the chapter regents. This afternoon discussion will be on the following subjects: "Which Division of Historic Work Will Best Yield Interest of Chapter—Local, State or National?" "Are Social Entertainments Necessary in the Work of Chapters of the National Society, D. A. R.?" and the discussion of amendments to the constitution.

Only Session of Conference.

The only session of the conference yesterday was opened at 10 o'clock in the morning with prayer by Mrs. W. A. Heitsu, chaplain of the Donegal chapter. Mrs. Florence Casey sang "Divinite du Fe." The secretary, Miss Emma Crowell, then read the minutes of the previous day.

A resolution was adopted, presented by the Declaration of Independence chapter, seconded by the Meadville chapter, thanking the Pittsburgh orchestra for the concert which was given under the auspices of the Pittsburgh chapter, D. A. R.

A wave of enthusiasm swept through the hall as Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, the president general of the National society, D. A. R., ascended the platform and was introduced by Miss Frazer, the state regent. Every woman in the house rose to her feet to greet her.

Mrs. Fairbanks made an address on the "Memorial Continental Hall." Happily, in opening her address she likened herself to a pilgrim returning to her home in Washington from a long and sometimes wearisome pilgrimage, which since October 8 has embraced five states.

Project Dear to Her Heart.

She addressed the Daughters in Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Colorado and Ohio, always speaking on the subject which is very dear to her, the project of the Daughters of the American Revolution to perpetuate the virtues of patriotism and the memory of the gallant heroes who fought for American independence and the noble women, the grand reserve corps of the American army, by the erection of the Memorial Continental hall.

In the course of her address Mrs. Fairbanks said:

"The American flag is not only the emblem of our country, but also the emblem of progress and civilization for all people. In foreign lands and in alien homes the sight of the American flag stirs the hearts of wandering Americans and stands for the cause of right and liberty. Honor your flag, protect your flag and educate your children to cherish your flag. Teach them the lessons of remembrance of the heroes who made this country free—Washington, Revere, Jefferson. And we must also educate in patriotism and American principles the foreigners who come to this land.

"The Daughters of the American Revolution have done a great and mighty work in perpetuating the memory of those who made this country noble and great. Other peoples are coming to this land to escape the exactions of other governments. Their thoughts are poisoned against our laws and government. Teach these people through their children that they must follow in the ranks of those who upheld its principles before they can be true American citizens. This country and the mighty who break the laws will be punished just as much as the poor and feeble.

"Here and there over this great land stand monuments marking the site of a blockhouse, of a fort, where the revolutionary heroes fought to gain their liberty. A slab, a tablet or a monolith marks the site of a battlefield where independence was gained. This has been the work of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The Daughters of this state have stood grandly for their historic relics. A great, a momentous undertaking now confronts the Daughters throughout the country. They gave money when only a few months organized, to preserve the remnant of Jamestown, the first landing place of civilization in this country, from the depredations of the sea. During the Spanish-American war their work for the hospital service commanded unstinted praise.

"The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution is the eldest daughter of the American republic, because it was the first to receive its charter from the United States. It is a society devoted to the preservation of the spirit of liberty, the preservation of the relics of revolutionary times, the perpetuation of the memory of the heroes of the revolution and the dissemination of the knowledge of the principles of liberty among the poor and downtrodden who come to this land with the seeds of malice in their hearts. As you have honored in the heroism of the men of the revolution, the bravery of the women, and as an administrative building for its executive officers, the society has planned the Memorial Continental hall.

Plan of Memorial Hall.

Of white marble in the renaissance style, the colonial classic, this building somewhat resembling the Pittsburgh court house and recorded of Jobson's, will be the work of the 48,000 Daughters throughout the United States. The foundations will be started in the spring in Washington City, and on April 19, 1904, the cornerstone will be laid. It is proposed that each of the 13 original states erect a monolith on the side facing the Potomac river. The ground was purchased at a cost of $20,000. The national society has $85,000 invested in bonds and an additional $34,000 in the permanent fund which is yet unInvested."

A circular letter was distributed at the close of the morning session which was addressed to the Pennsylvania Daughters, calling their attention to the need for money for the Memorial Continental hall and asking their further support of this object. The letter was signed by Mrs. F. H. Gelchell, No. 1432 Spruce street, Philadelphia, and written by order of the committee of ways and means, Memorial Continental hall.

A Parliamentary Tangle.

A parliamentary tangle developed near the close of the morning session the subject under discussion being the presentation of the gift of the Pennsylvania Daughters to the new cruiser Pennsylvania.

The state regent, with a babble of voices assailing her on every side, called to her assistance Mrs. David Kirk. But Mrs. Kirk was also hopelessly at sea, until a little woman from the floor, supported only by the courage of her convictions, solved the problem and order was restored.

At the close of Mrs. Fairbanks' address on the Memorial Continental hall Miss Susan Frazer, the state regent, brought up the question of a gift from the Pennsylvania Daughters to the new cruiser to be named after the state. A motion was made by Mrs. McCartney of the Wyoming chapter that the Pennsylvania Daughters favor such a gift. This was passed.

A motion was then made that this gift take the form of a flag. Nearly every woman in the house wished to speak on this question, and when a motion was made that the debate be closed the parliamentary tangle occurred. When the difficulty was straightened out the vote resulted in a tie. The debate continued with spirit, and was still in progress when the motion to adjourn was made and carried.

Flag or Tablet.

In the discussion over the character of the gift few seemed to favor silver, the question being chiefly between a silk flag with a silver plate suitably inscribed, and a gift of more permanent quality, such as an inscribed bronze tablet, suggested by Mrs. W. H. Baltzell of the Pittsburgh chapter, a portrait in oil or bronze of William Penn or his son, Admiral Penn, a suggestion of Miss Harding, which was objected to by some who thought early distinctively American admirals would be better.

Mrs. R. B. Kelm of Reading (Berks county) chapter made the suggestion that the matter of the gift be left wholly with the Pittsburgh chapter, which first broached it, and will be the largest contributor to its cost. The Pittsburgh chapter has placed itself on record as willing to give $100, and would make a gift even if the Pennsylvania Daughters had not expressed themselves in favor of it.

For Mrs. Durand.

Mrs. Leonard Hamilton Durand of Jackson, Mich., was honor guest at the card party given yesterday by Mrs. Alan Kirk Gillespie and Miss Katherine Kellogg, at the home of the former in Walnut street. The decorations were white chrysanthemums, the flowers being arranged about the rooms in vases. The game was six-hand euchre, the prizes being won by Miss Ruth Campbell, Mrs. William Wishart, Miss Meskimmen and Mrs. William McCullough.

Farms.

MUST SACRIFICE.
I have the finest location in the east for a poultry or truck farm; we spent ten weeks inspecting the country before selecting this location, and know it is an ideal place for anyone to raise poultry, truck or fruit or who should live in the country for his health. Good gunning, creek and salt water, fishing, etc. The locality is inhabited by business and professional men and up-to-date farmers, and affords social and other advantages of the most select suburban neighborhood. It is noted for its county and is surrounded on all sides by the land of my husband it is impossible for me to make the quarterly payments and pay the small balance due on the property. It contains 20 acres and cost me $800, of which has been paid. I will sell all or part or will exchange for building lot or any other property if other party will make reasonably quarterly payments, or I will pay liberal interest to anyone who will lend me enough to pay the balance due on property. This is a chance for some one to get a nice property very cheap, as this place is now worth $1,000; will only sell part if I had a little time, but I must sell at once, as I will lose all I have paid if quarterly payment is not made soon. I will consider any reasonable offer for sale or exchange if made at once. Address G 68, The Gazette.

SELLING OF PENNSYLVANIA WEAKENED THE MARKET

Transactions Were Enormous and the Stock Declined to 112¼—U. S. Steel Issues Closed Unchanged—More Gold Coming Here.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Pennsylvania Railroad stock overshadowed everything in the eastern market during the greater part of the session yesterday. The transactions were on an enormous scale, the sales for the day aggregating 260,000 shares out of a total for all stocks of 762,000 shares. For a time nothing less than a thousand-share selling order seemed to receive attention, and frequently 2,000-share blocks changed hands. The price opened ⅜ lower at 114½, rallied to 114⅝ and then declined sharply to 113½. Here the selling power seemed to be exhausted, and there was a recovery to 114. For an hour or so the fluctuations were narrow, but late in the session there was a fresh outpour of stock and the price declined to 112¼, the lowest for five years and nearly 8 per cent below the subscription price to $75,000,000 worth of the stock floated a few months ago. There were no new developments to account for the weakness in the stock, and the street was divided in its opinion as to whether the movement was the result of genuine liquidation, or whether manipulation did not play an important part in the market. The individual transactions were too large to represent ordinary liquidation on the part of the public. They might have been the result of liquidation of large bank loans, but they were hardly due to fright on the part of investors who own the stock outright.

Wide publicity was given the story that the Rockefeller interest had acquired control of United States Steel, or was in a fair way to acquire control, and that one of the first steps would be to divert the traffic of the corporation from the Pennsylvania to Gould-Rockefeller lines. If the story should prove to be correct, and if the feeling between these interests is half as bitter as represented, it would be years before facilities could be provided for diverting any considerable percentage of the iron and steel tonnage from lines now handling the same. Everybody knows that one of the main drawbacks to the manufacturing interests of Pittsburgh has been the inadequacy of railroad transportation facilities, and this despite the expenditure of millions of dollars in improving the service hereabouts. It has required years of hard work and planning to bring these facilities up to the present mark, and by the time they are duplicated the growth of this manufacturing community will be sufficient to keep all the lines, old and new, busy.

It therefore sounds absurd to attribute the decline in Pennsylvania stock to a threat of a diversion of traffic to lines which have not yet been completed. There are other more plausible reasons for some decline in the stock. One is that the amount of capital outstanding is 33 1-8 per cent larger now than it was a year ago. The company has received the money for the increased stock issue, but this money is not yet revenue-producing, because the improvements which it was intended to provide have not yet been completed. It is very natural that some doubt should be felt as to the ability of the company to maintain net earnings and dividends on this increased capital at a time when there appears to be every probability that the volume of traffic will fall off, temporarily at least. There is still another reason why some of the large holders may have been forced to sell, and that is the shrinkage that has taken place in nearly every kind of investment security, as well as in the more speculative issues like United States Steel. It is not an unknown thing for good stocks to be sold to take care of stocks that are not so good. There may have been some selling of Pennsylvania on this account also. The bear party has not been slow to take advantage of the situation, and it will be only a case of history repeating itself if good stocks sell as much too low as they formerly sold too high.

It looked as if advantage were being taken of the weakness in Pennsylvania to cover short sales of United States Steel. The latter opened firmer for all issues, and while Pennsylvania was being depressed, United States Steel common advanced to 10⅜, the preferred to 52¼, and the new bonds to 67. The remainder of the industrial list, with a few exceptions, as well as the general railroad list, held steady to firm for a time after the opening, but later shaded off. Late in the day when the fresh attack was made upon Pennsylvania the whole market declined, and the lowest prices of the day were made in the closing hour. Steel common declined to 10⅛, the preferred to 50⅜ and the bonds to 66, and all closed at the lowest, but the prices were unchanged compared with the close on Tuesday. Reading declined to 41, Baltimore & Ohio to 73⅝ and Norfolk & Western to 55⅝, and all closed at or near the lowest. St. Paul declined 1¾, Union Pacific 1½ and Missouri Pacific 1⅛. The losses in the remainder of the railroads did not average more than 1 per cent. Amalgamated Copper sold off from 89½ to 87¼ on the report that the metal market had declined on the announcement of a resumption at the Amalgamated mines in Montana. United States Realty and Construction preferred was weak, declining 2½ per cent to 30¼. The tone of the general market at the close was heavy.

Call loans ruled firm around 5 per cent during the greater part of the day, but declined to 4 per cent at the close. Sterling exchange was lower and, despite a further advance in bar gold in the London market, there were additional engagements of gold for shipment to New York. The National City bank engaged $800,000, and $1,250,000 was reported to have been sold by the Bank of England, presumably for shipment hither. Rumor says that the time current of the engagement of $5,000,000 gold for import, but this was not confirmed.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday the only decidedly weak stock was National Fire Proofing. The common sold off to 10, the lowest ever noted, and the preferred declined 1¼ points to 22½, which is within a fraction of the lowest quoted last month. Crucible Steel was a little more active, but the only net change was a slight advance in the preferred. United States Steel closed at 10⅛ for the common and at 50⅝ for the preferred. Pittsburgh Coal was a shade firmer at 19 and the preferred unchanged at 60. River Coal preferred recovered to 28 bid. Manufacturers Light and Heat was firm, rallying to 26½ at the close. The Westinghouse stocks were dull and nominally unchanged. A small sale of United States Steel new 5s was made at 99½, a decline of 3⅜ per cent from the last previous sale on the local board.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The weakness in National Fire Proofing yesterday—the common declining to 10, a new low record, and the preferred to 22¾—was no doubt due in a feeling of uncertainty regarding the action of the directors this afternoon on the common stock dividend. If U. S. Steel policy can be taken as a precedent the decline in Fire Proofing common on the probabilities of reduction or passage of the dividend. From time to time directors have been quoted as saying that the earnings of the company were satisfactory, considering the general state of the buildings trade, but yesterday afternoon after the close it was reported that there was a division of opinion in the board as to whether the present earnings were to be reduced. The extent of the proposed reduction is not yet known, but between Pittsburgh and the Atlantic seaboard material concessions are said to have been agreed upon. When official announcement is made the export trade will probably be the greatest beneficiary, as the reduction in cost will enable keener competition with Germany.

A New York commission house wired: "The talk of selling of Pennsylvania as a bear raid is all nonsense. No one would dare to sell the stock in such volume, as it would mean the stock would command a fair premium in the loan crowd."

It is said the U. S. Steel Corporation had $70,000,000 cash to its credit in various banks at the opening of business last Monday.

For the first time in a number of years an international contest is going on for the world's supply of gold. New York is trying to increase its supply of gold. London, Paris, Berlin and Amsterdam are trying to keep their gold supply from being exported upon by New York. The contest has been going on for nearly two weeks. The decline in foreign exchange yesterday to $4.83⅜ demonstrated that New York will be the victor in this international struggle for gold. At present New York can import gold from Europe, in spite of every obstacle which European bankers can put in the way of such a movement. It is now certain that gold will be imported from Europe on a considerable scale. Tentative arrangements were made yesterday to import gold from Europe heavily. It is possible the movement will reach $4,000,000 or over $5,000,000. The only thing that can prevent such a movement is a sudden decline in interest rates in this country. This is very unlikely.—New York Commercial.

An interesting point in connection with the current decline in sterling exchange is the very advantageous opportunity given to American borrowers in European markets to cancel their indebtedness. The rate for demand sterling is now at about the lowest point in a long series of years, and there is obviously a great inducement to those having maturing obligations abroad to liquidate that indebtedness even though they have to borrow on this side of the water to do it in consequence. This demand against maturing loans appears to be the principal support which the market has at the present time, and inasmuch as a very large proportion of this American indebtedness to Europe is believed to have been canceled already, the market is steadily being deprived of this element of strength. Unless there is the very fresh demands will undoubtedly arise. The United States government always comes in the foreign exchange market in the closing weeks of the year to cover money orders sold in anticipation of the Christmas trade, and there is always more or less demand from other sources, with a view to settling accounts before the new year season arrives. Before this fresh demand for exchange is felt, however, the prospect is that current offerings of commercial bills will force the rate down to a point where gold can be brought over in considerable quantity.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

In testifying before Judge Clancy as to his personal property with reference to furnishing bonds in the Boston & Montana and Parrot cases, Thomas Fleming says he owns a one-fifth of the Minnie Healy mine. It is a hard question to determine the value of the mines, but many persons estimate it to be worth $1,000,000. Upon which basis the Healy is being worked to its full capacity, it yields from $75,000 to $100,000 a month at the present price of copper.

The monthly published statement that the Guggenheims were negotiating for the purchase of the Salida smelter and the New Monarch mines at Leadville is denied by Manager Goodwin.

The Sioux Falls Gold Mining and Milling Company will have its new cyanide reduction plant in operation on Spring creek the coming year. It intended for a lease on the Flour Inc. situated on Copper mountain, and expect to get other shippers for their mill from Bayonne and Red mountain.

The Strong mine on Battle mountain, Cripple Creek, is now working two shifts and has upwards of 90 men steadily employed. There is being shipped from the mine 100 tons per day, which is giving average values of two ounces in gold to the ton. This means practically $75,000 gross every month.

The first cleanup of the Eva-Sarah mill at Camborne, Nev., was made last week and resulted in 580 ounces of gold, valued at $6,380, and forty and one-half tons of concentrates from 20½ days' run of the 10 stamp mill.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges were $7,231,928, a decrease of $569,000.

IN WALL STREET.

Under this great pressure a new low record of 112¼ was made for the shares.

Steel preferred closed unchanged. This is the third consecutive day the closing figure has been the same.

Additional engagements of gold for import were made in London, and further drop in exchange indicates the probable continuance of the movement.

TRADING DEPRESSED DESPITE GOOD NEWS

Reports of Steel Prices, Good Import and Other Developments Had No Effect.

The Herald this (Thursday) morning says: The security market of yesterday gave no indications that any one group of stocks was djustment of Selling Figures se Several Changes in Iron and Steel Products.

LOWER PRICES IN SOME LINES

ER PIG OUTPUT SMALLER

e Market for Foundry Iron, earth and Bessemer Billets Uniform Price—Hoops and ds Decline.

In prices for billets and ges of finished material have arket in a state of uncertainty from which it has not yet re- and have interfered with busi- such an extent that there has been much demand as there had been several weeks prior to that time. Still rumors have been flying about that cuts in prices which have not been made and were never considered. It is known that something is going which may affect the future of the rket, and for this there is general lking. The fact that a cut of $4 a ton s been made in the list of billets leads buyers to expect like reductions in all finished materials, while producers of the latter lines call attention to the fact that they have not been asking figures based on the late price of billets, but upon prices at which they were actually sold, and that there is not the same room for declines in finished products as for raw material.

Curtailment of the output of pig iron announced at the present time is 50 per cent of all furnaces except those in the anthracite region, and in the south. The furnaces included in the list of those affected by the curtailment produce, when in full operation about 12,000,000 of the 15,000,000 tons of pig iron produced in this country annually. This means that the present reduction in producing power amounts to 500,000 tons a month, and, with this vast quantity of metal taken from the market it stands to reason that the situation must right itself before long. Consumption is known to be going on, but consumers are buying from hand to mouth, and the potential needs are caught with large stocks of metal if other drops should occur. Ruling price for Bessemer now is $14 50 to $15 a ton, valley furnace, and demand at present is only for small lots.

Foundry Iron Active.

A greatly improved demand for foundry iron is reported, producers asserting that business during the week past has been excellent, some very nice orders having been placed. Quotations have not improved any, but, in fact, are a little lower. Southern iron has been selling under values prevailing 10 days ago, and this has hurt the price of northern iron. Gray forge is listless, and but little is moving, price remaining stationary at figures quoted a week ago.

The billet association reduced prices $4 a ton for Bessemer, and $5 a ton for open-hearth billets, $1 50 per ton less than the differential formerly existing, making price now for either grade $28 per ton, Pittsburgh delivery. Sheet bars are quoted $1 above billets. Other extras are also heavily cut.

Prices for structural shapes have been readjusted by the leading producers, and will continue as they have been quoted for some time. Manufacturers claim that there is no reason for making lower prices in these lines, and that no one is asking for such reductions. All the trouble in structural lines so far has been on the question of labor, and until that is settled business will be quiet. Orders just now are coming in slowly, and, like everything else, there is a waiting on the part of consumers until the whys and wherefores become settled fact. Meanwhile buyers are ordering from day to day just what they must have, and making this as little as possible. This hand-to-mouth policy is telling severely, sellers of Bessemer pig iron stating that quotes have fallen off, and users have evidently determined to postpone all action until it is known just where and how the round-up will come.

Steel Bars Are Lower.

Steel bars were reduced $6 a ton, making the price now $1.30 a hundred pounds. Steel hoops were brought down $3 a ton, and are now quoted at $1.65 for lots of 250 tons and over, while car lots up to 250 tons contracts are $1.75 per 100 pounds. Steel bands are $1 80 per 100 pounds.

While there has been no official action taken in the matter of quotations for black and galvanized sheets, discounts which formerly named as concessions are now freely quoted, and the price for black is $2 60 for the No. 28 gauge, while galvanized has been shaded $3 a ton. What will be found with tin plate is still an open question. There is talk of reduction, and such action is not unlikely. Just what the decline will be if it comes cannot be definitely stated, but it is thought likely that a return may be made to the figures existing before the advance of last year, or $3 60 per box. Mills are still behind with orders, and it is feared some business will be canceled because of unsatisfactory deliveries.

No change has been made for pipe or tubing. The largest purchaser is authority for the statement that, in spite of the interference with building by strikes, which have held back many enterprises, pipe mills are still behind with orders, and it is feared merchant pipe such as is used in construction of buildings. Enough orders are in hand beside those which have been delayed by strikes to keep manufacturers busy.

Hardware Business Brisk.

The hardware business moves along in the usual fall style, a multitude of orders, and a good quantity of goods on these orders, showing that dealers throughout the country are having a remarkably active business. Three mild weather of the last few days has doubtless caused some little let up in the demand for season goods, but the sharp spell of last week is still felt by the jobbers, who are pushing out a great many season goods. An excellent business continues in wire nails and wire, the trade buying freely for their wants. Keeping their stocks in good condition, indications are that building operations are still going on at a good rate. A continued demand for builders' hardware also shows this to be the case, the shipping instructions coming forward strengthened the situation very materially, and a very much better condition of affairs is expected in the window glass business than was the prevailing feature. The past continued good movement of Masury paints, colors and varnishes. Prices on general lines remain very firm, manufacturers reporting a good demand throughout.

REDUCTION OF OUTPUT ABOUT AT BALANCE

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say: Our monthly blast furnace statistics indicate clearly how rapidly the manufacturers of pig iron are adjusting themselves to changed conditions. On October 1 the capacity of the anthracite and coke furnaces was 355,142 tons. On November 1 it had declined to 272,718 tons per week. The greatest part of the reduction, of about 80,000 tons per week, is due to the central west, under the leadership of the United States Steel Corporation. The furnaces of the central west dropped from 224,284 tons per week October 1 to 144,538 tons per week on November 1.

The eastern furnaces, without any definite associated action, show a natural drop from 82,287 tons per week on October 1 to 77,648 tons on October 1, and 58,480 tons per week on November 1. The south, however, leadrising ahead at a pretty full rate and is crowding the markets with offers considerably below the prices of competing districts.

As bearing on the current demand for iron it may be noted that stocks in the hands of merchant furnaces show an increase in October of 50,000 tons, which indicates that the actual decline in output in October was not great enough. As the cutting down of output really only began to tell toward the end of the month, it is reasonable to expect that we shall never hear a balance which the lessened production makes more effective. It must be taken into consideration too, in gauging the effect of furnace stoppages, that supplies carried in consumers' yards were never so low.

Interest has shifted from the crude iron industry to the finished products and here somewhat extraordinary developments have taken place. We have the curious situation of prices being reduced sharply, while prices have been reaffirmed in others under conditions which seem identical on the surface. In steel bars there has been a reduction of $6 (40) per ton, forced apparently by the long lead which iron bars have had for some time. In hoops and bands there has been a reduction of $5 00 to $6 00 per net ton and in tin plate a reduction from $3 80 per box at mill to $3 60 has just been announced.

It is quite evident that in these branches the manufacturers have started out to find the level at which consumers will take hold, with the evident conviction that a good deal of desirable tonnage is being held back.

In other branches, after a good deal of discussion, radically different opinions seem to have prevailed. This is notably true of steel plates, and it is understood that the policy is made that prices were kept down during the boom and that the decline in raw materials has really brought them back to harmony with the old prices on finished material. Or course, a good deal of tonnage, notably in plates for car building, is sold on sliding scales, and it is argued that any reduction in the price of plates and structural material cannot create business where it does not exist.

That this is not wholly true is pretty well understood in the trade, and it is certain that buyers will not depart from the attitude of reserve which they have assumed pending the official schedules based on gentlemen's agreements. To the industry at large the decision means at least some, if possibly not much, restriction of consumption.

The steel billet pool is having a critical meeting today. There is a possibility that it may be dissolved altogether and the market be officially wide open.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 5@10 points on rather better European cables than expected, and small receipts helped a little further bull support. The bulge attracted realizing, however, and after the call prices were rather easier, with the market finally steady at net yesterday's closing points higher. Sales were 72,000 bags, including November at 5.45c; December, 5.50@5.65c; January, 5.60@5.70c; March, 5.85@5.90c; May, 6.00@6.10c; July, 6.10@6.20c; September, 6.25@6.35c. Coffee—Spot Rio, nominal; fair to fair refining, 3 5-16c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3 13-16c; molasses sugar, 3 1-16c; refined quiet; crushed, 5.20c; powdered, 4.80c; granulated, 4.70c.

OAT AND CORN PRICES ARE SLIGHTLY EASIER

Sharp Advance in Rye—Canned Corn Quotations Move Upward Rapidly.

There is an easier feeling in the oat situation, and a slight decline in prices has been made, the result of a gradual lulling up in strenuous conditions rather than any actual show of weakness. For No. 2 white, 41½ cents seems to be about the price, with some selling a half-cent below that figure. Corn is also easier and quotations are brought down to the figures which seem to be actually ruling in transactions. Shelled has held up very well, but in the last day or two there has been a declination to sell on the part of some holders, which has caused an easier market, while ear has been weak for some time, and is getting easier with every fresh arrival of new corn. New ear corn is coming forward in much better condition than it did a month or a year ago, and is quite attractive. Hay holds its own without change of price. Rye is firm at much higher figures, demand being very good. Bran is slightly easier, while middlings are unchanged.

The flour market is unchanged, with supplies yet below normal although in better condition than they were a week ago. Mill quotations are steady and receipts are not allowed to remain long in the warehouse, as retailers are clamoring for flour. Coffee is firm as quoted, and there is no further change in sugars. Canned corn is advancing all the time, and jobbers are commencing to be apprehensive that packers may force quotations up to so high a point that consumers will refuse to purchase, and there will be a repetition of occurrences in the tomato market two years ago, when prices were forced up to the injury of consumption, from which the trade has not yet recovered. Advances amounting to 25 cents a case have been made within the last two days, and there is every prospect of further increases in quotations. Other canned goods are in moderate request, but stocks are plentiful, and will probably take much of the trade which would otherwise go to corn.

Head lettuce is now in the market, bringing $3 for fancy stock. Arizona Salinas shipments have commenced to arrive in half-barrel hampers, which are selling for $4 50 to $4 75. Other vegetables are unchanged.

California oranges have declined to $3 25 to $3 50 per box, owing to liberal receipts. Tokay grapes are holding firm at the recent advance. Chestnuts are coming in slowly, and prices are higher.

Poultry moves slowly, and prices for chickens are not more than steady. There is not yet much demand for turkeys, but quotations are strong in anticipation of the Thanksgiving day trade. Other poultry just about steady. Rabbits are in light supply, but large receipts are expected for the week. Eggs firm.

Fresh eggs remain steady as quoted, although the demand is light. Butter is quiet. Cheese is firm, with demand holding steady, and showing some increase. Prices are very strong.

Two New Trunk Telephone Lines Between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia

The Pennsylvania railroad will begin the immediate construction of two trunk line telephone wires between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, at a cost of $200,000. The lines will be used exclusively for the use of officials of the company and will supplant one through wire leased from the Bell Telephone Company. The estimated cost is exclusive of poles.

The wires will be strung on the new poles recently erected by the Pennsylvania railroad for the use of the Postal company. They will be of the heaviest copper, and it is said that the line will be more expensive of construction in addition to the new through lines, the company will maintain its own telephone wires between division points, such as Altoona and Pittsburgh and Altoona and Harrisburg.

The building of two through lines for talking purposes shows to what extent the Pennsylvania values the telephone. It is said that the company has found a benefit in the movement of trains, having been adopted several years ago on all branch lines of the Pittsburgh division. The number of men is reduced in transmitting orders by telephone against telegraphy, and where fast service does not exist, the element of danger is about equal in both cases.

The more important and urgent messages transmitted between division points or Pittsburgh and Philadelphia are sent both by telephone and telegraph. Under the present order it is said that it takes about as long for a transmitting orders by telephone as over the telegraph wires. The wires now in use are in great demand during the busy hours of the day, and the constantine inquiries from the public and the lines west of Altoona and the general offices in Philadelphia have forced the company to build its own telephone lines.

$1,000,000 Job Ending.

Contracts for a round-house and repair shops at Scully, on the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western railroad, have been let in connection with the Panhandle and a joint property of the lines west and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, have just been awarded to the T. Smith & Son company for about $500,000. The work is to be completed at once. The Panhandle is now building enormous yards at Scully. They will, when completed, have cost $1,000,000 and will have a capacity of 1,500 cars. The grading for the tracks has been completed and several long sidings have been laid. The yards are designed to relieve those at Sheraden and are in the immediate vicinity of coal from the Panhandle to the Ft. Wayne.

Y. M. C. A. Anniversary.

The twentieth anniversary of the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A. at Pittsburgh will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Pitcairn. Invitations have been issued to all of the members of the association, and a number of prominent people from other cities are expected to attend the services. Robert A. Orr, formerly general secretary of the central association at Pittsburgh, and W. B. McCalet, superintendent of the Philadelphia division of Pennsylvania railroad, will be the speakers of the occasion. Addresses will also be delivered by others. General Secretary M. W. Callender has arranged an attractive program.

Borland Promoted.

A. M. Borland, who for several years has been the agent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Wilkinsburg, has been appointed yard dispatcher at the Union station and will assume his new duties today. The promotion resulted in the following changes: J. T. Loughry, to be agent at East Pittsburgh vice M. S. Utts, who becomes agent at Wilkinsburg; and M. H. Bollinger succeeds Loughry as agent at Scottdale.

Railroad Notes.

J. T. O'Brien, formerly a stenographer in the office of the general superintendent of passenger transportation of the Long west, has been made Chief Clerk in the office of assistant trainmaster of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania.

W. M. Hoag has been appointed superintendent of special fast freight service of the Vandeburt lines, with headquarters at Buffalo, vice G. H. Stevens, who has gone to New York as general agent of the transportation department.

E. S. Sims, general manager of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, arrived here yesterday and during the day was in conference with General superintendent W. C. Lore and the superintendent of the Pittsburgh and Pittsburgh grand division relative to transportation matters and the winter reduction of men.

Effective this Sunday, breakfast and luncheon will be served a la carte in the Ft. Wayne dining cars on trains Nos. 8 and 9 between Pittsburgh and Chicago. A table d'hote dinner will be served. A new departure on these trains will be that a waiter will pass through the coaches during meal hours with cooked meats and sandwiches for passengers who may not care to use the dining cars.

LOWER PRICES RULED IN ALL CHICAGO PITS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Comparatively firm cables brought out a fairly good demand for both December and May wheat at the start and December opened ⅛c to ¼c higher, at 77⅛c to 77¼c. Offerings were light early in the day and with a fair advance in the price of December at Minneapolis, the market here showed good gains, the price advancing to 77¾c within the first hour. Later in the day, the sentiment changed and selling became general. Weakness in corn with a loss of the cash at Minneapolis and lower prices for December and New York brought out heavy selling orders from influential traders and the market became decidedly weak. Large primary receipts and small clearances helped to create a bearish sentiment. Stop-loss orders came out on the decline and there was also considerable short selling which added to the general weakness. The market was poorly supported the latter part of the session and closing prices were at about the bottom. Primary receipts were 1,504,000 bushels, against 1,144,000 a year ago. Minneapolis, Chicago and Duluth reported receipts of 876 cars, against 956 cars last week, and 975 cars a year ago.

Corn opened extremely weak after a firm opening. During the first half hour the market showed a fair degree of firmness on small receipts, unfavorable weather and the strength in wheat; but later in the day a flood of sellers' orders appeared in the pit and prices took a severe slump. Commission houses and local bear leaders led in the selling. The bearish government report was the principal influence in causing the selling pressure. Local receipts were 188 cars.

Oats enjoyed a fairly steady market until the corn break set in, and from then the selling pressure was renewed and prices declined steadily. A feature of the early trade was buying of December by cash houses and that option rose a quite firm, but the close was weak. Local receipts were 126 cars.

Provisions were steady early in the day on a good cash business and on a strong demand for lard, but later with grain prices showing weakness, the market turned weak. Packers and local traders sold early, which helped to bring about the reaction. January pork closed 12½c lower, at $13 62½. January lard was 7½@10c lower, at $6 67½, while ribs were down 7½@8c 10.

GREENLAND'S TRIAL TRIP.

Gertrude Is Doing Good Work in the Chattahoochee River.

Capt. Gordon C. Greene's handsome new sidewheeler, the Greenland, made her trial trip Tuesday at Marietta and the trip was successful. The following, dated Tuesday, was received yesterday from Marietta: "Steamer Greenland made her trial trip today. She worked fine and could not have done better. When the down river boats resume navigation the packet will make her first appearance in the Pittsburgh harbor. Capt. Greene will use her in the Pittsburgh and Weston trade and he will probably place Greenwood in a trade between Pittsburgh and some port in the upper Ohio river, probably East Liverpool.

The boat was received yesterday by J. M. Davis at Parkersburg. L. A. Chitwood, who purchased the steamer Gertrude, that the trip from Pittsburg to Pensacola was made in 20 days. The boat was placed on the docks at Pensacola, overhauled and remodeled at a cost of $2,000. Mr. Chitwood said that she is the finest steamer on the Chattahoochee river and has distanced all the other packets in trade. Her new owners are entirely satisfied with their purchase.

Rose Hite made pretty good time in her trip yesterday. The Columbia is due to arrive this morning.

Bridges and dykes committee of the Association of Masters and Pilots interviewed Capt. P. Roberts of the United States engineers office yesterday in the matter of the construction of the dyke at dam No. 3. Master Pilot Roberts says the dyke is being purchased and Colonel Bixby says it is hard to obtain. The contracts have been let, and as soon as the water gets high enough to allow a boat to work there, the construction of the dyke will be commenced.

The work on the dams in the Monongahela river is progressing finely during the present low water. Dam No. 10 is completed and the others will be finished by the end of this year. Considerable dredging has yet to be done in and round the locks.

B. West of Cincinnati, a member of No. 17 Marine Engineers' Benefit association, is visiting friends among the engineers in Pittsburgh.

Steamers continue to have considerable trouble with their boilers. The P. M. Tifell has been laid up for repairs three times within the last week and many other steamers have a like record. The protracted low water spell has allowed the destructive acids in the local water to become strong.

The Gazelle, in charge of Capt. Billy Blackstock, will make a trip to Parkersburg. She will take three households to Parkersburg and transfer boat to Mingo Junction for use in constructing the new railroad bridge at that place.

REPORTED ON STRENGTH OF UNITED STATES ARMY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The annual report of Acting Adjutant General Hall, of the army, was made public today. The actual strength of the army on October 15, 1903, was 3,681 officers and 55,500 enlisted men. There were lost to the army during the year ended June 30, 1903, 29,270 men, as follows: 138 officers, of whom 25 were killed in action or died of wounds or disease; 28,141 enlisted men of whom 837 were killed in action or died of wounds or disease, the remainder representing men discharged for expiration of term of service for disability, by sentence of court martial, desertions and retirements; 42 officers resigned and 71 retired; 5,034 enlisted men deserted and 208 retired.

Over one-half of the report is devoted to the militia and it gives a detailed account of the workings of the act to promote the efficiency of the militia passed at the last session of congress. Among the recommendations regarding the organized militia are the following:

That the attention of congress be invited to the advisability of a proviso in the appropriation bill for the next fiscal year giving forage to the horses of mounted militia troops and of mounted militia officers while at maneuvers; for uniform allowance to be made for the hire of horses of militia troops and batteries while engaged in maneuvers; for the furnishing of fuel for cooking and heating purposes by the United States while engaged in maneuvers, and for the furnishing of straw and hay for bedding of militia soldiers while engaged in maneuvers.

In order to increase the attendance at drill and thus secure the increased efficiency of the organized militia that governors be permitted to utilize the allowance of their respective states under section 1661, revised statutes, for the purpose of furnishing a per diem allowance, not in any case to exceed 45 cents per drill of one and one-half hours for the purpose of paying enlisted men of the organized militia for attendance at each of the 24 drills annually required by statute.

LIEUT. BILSEN GOES TO PRISON

German Army Officer Who Wrote Garrison Story Is Convicted and Disgraced.

IS DISMISSED FROM COLORS

Court Hold He Had No Right to Publish Anything Without Consent of His Superiors—Former Comrades Agree to Challenge Him to Duels.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—The military court today at Metz concluded the trial of Lieut. Bilsen, author of the book entitled "A Little Garrison," and sentenced the lieutenant to six months in prison and to dismissal from the army.

One month, the time the officer has already spent in prison, was allowed to be deducted from the sentence. The novel was ordered to be destroyed.

The decision of the court was based on the fact that in his novel Lieut. Bilsen insulted his superior officers and drew such a picture of events happening at Forbach, Alsace-Lorraine, that personages living in that place were compromised. The court further says that the lieutenant disobeyed an order of Emperor William forbidding the officer to publish a pamphlet without the permission of his military superior.

In the defendant's favor it was urged that "A Little Garrison" is a book and not a pamphlet, that it contained much truth concerning the narrow condition existing in small garrisons and the frequent injustice of superior officers to their inferiors and that it reflects in duelling.

Several officers of the regiment to which Lieut. Bilsen belonged have agreed among themselves to challenge him to duels. The Tageblatt says that Capt. Bandel, who testified in Bilsen's favor has been suspended. Lieut. Bilsen will endeavor to have the case reopened.

Lieut. Bilsen's book, which consists of 270 pages, relates incidents of the abuse of soldiers, tells of alleged actions discreditable to officers and brings in local families in Forbach, whose indentities are only slightly veiled.

SUCCESSOR TO ELKINS IS ELECTED TO P. R. R. BOARD

Yesterday's Action Strengthens the Cassatt Representation in the Big System.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—The Pennsylvania railroad directors today elected Rudolph Ellis a member of that board to fill the place made vacant by the death of William L. Elkins. Mr. Ellis' selection at this time is extremely significant.

He is the closest personal friend that President A. J. Cassatt has in Philadelphia. Mr. Ellis, as president of the Fidelity Trust Company, has aided in financing more than one large Pennsylvania enterprise. There has been a great deal of talk recently to the effect that John D. Rockefeller had secured such a vast block of Pennsylvania railroad stock that he would insist upon having a representative on the board of directors.

The answer to this speculation came swiftly, as today's election is ample proof that not only is no Rockefeller influence entering Pennsylvania, but that the strictly Cassatt policies are to be pushed with even greater vigor than heretofore.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

BATTERED TIM'S PLUG HAT.

Statesman O'Leary Charges A. Wachter With Assaulting Him.

For knocking off "Tim" O'Leary's plug hat and committing other indiscretions with that famous personage, A. Watcher, who lives near the top of the South Twelfth street incline in the Thirty-fourth ward, was yesterday held for court in $500 bail. The technical charge was assault and battery.

The fate of the plug hat came out in Alderman John Groetzinger's court yesterday afternoon. It seems that the Democratic politician had business with Mr. Watcher at the latter's house. Watcher met O'Leary at the door and remarks of great emphasis passed between them. When Watcher pushed O'Leary back, the latter resisted, and Watcher then deliberately, so it is charged knocked O'Leary's hat off.

Seven Persons, Trapped by Fire, Are Rescued by Firemen.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Six women and one man, trapped by a fire in the buildings at 158 and 160 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, this afternoon, climbed out on the coping and were about to jump to the pavement when the firemen arrived and persuaded the frightened people to wait until the life net was spread. At the signal from the firemen the women dropped one by one into the net, and then the man, while a large crowd watched the perilous rescue. All landed in the net, but two of the women rebounded to the pavement and were slightly hurt.

PRIEST GAVE LAST RITES TO DYING MAN IN STREET

TWO CHURCHES ARE TO UNITE

TO BUILD A FINE EDIFICE

Dr. W. H. McMillan Will Be Pastor of the New Congregation—Vote of Members Is Necessary to Finally Complete the Compact.

Two important United Presbyterian churches in Allegheny, the Second and the Ninth, will unite in the near future and a fine new edifice will be erected. The basis of union which was prepared with fairness as the foremost idea, has been accepted by the sessions of both churches. The Ninth church is without a pastor at present, and the Rev. W. H. McMillan, D. D., the present pastor of the Second church, has been with that congregation for 31 years and will doubtless be retained as the pastor of the new church.

In the Second church building, Sandusky street and Stockton avenue, and in the Ninth church building, North and Grant avenues, meetings were held last night of the sessions of these churches, made up of the boards of elders, deacons and trustees. Plans for the union of the two churches were thoroughly discussed, and both sessions unanimously agreed to the articles. The matter will be placed before the congregations for their vote before final action is taken.

The Rev. J. R. J. Milligan was pastor of the Ninth church up to three weeks ago, when he became pastor of the First church of Cincinnati. The matter of union was broached by the Second church shortly after Mr. Milligan left and the sessions of both churches met together last week and discussed the plan for union. A satisfactory basis was agreed upon and the matter voted upon at separate meetings last night. The congregational vote will not be taken for at least two weeks, as the characters of both churches require the announcement of a meeting for that purpose at two previous Sunday services.

The plan of union provides for the immediate selling of both the church properties, and with the proceeds of the sales a new and fine modern edifice is to be erected. As soon as both congregations vote to unite, the buildings will be advertised for sale. While awaiting the disposal of the buildings, each congregation will worship separately in its own edifice. Dr. McMillan will be pastor of both churches and he will conduct one service every Sunday at each of the churches. He will be provided with an assistant, who will have charge of the other service.

The sessions of both churches are to unite to form the session of the new church. When the new church building is ready for occupancy the two congregations will take charge and both old names will be dropped and a new one, possibly that of the street on which the new church will be built will be taken. Should both church properties be sold immediately, the congregations would probably worship together in Carnegie hall, Allegheny.

These two churches are among the foremost of the denomination on the North Side. The Second church has a membership of about 550 and the Ninth church of 250. Both congregations are financially in good condition and the union will make a very strong church. The matter has been informally discussed by both congregations for some weeks and there is little doubt but that a majority will vote in favor of the union.

Reduced 25 Cents a Ton.

The puddling rate for the next 60 days has been fixed at $5.75 a ton. A conference was held at Youngstown yesterday. The puddlers have a sliding scale based upon the selling price of bar iron. The price the past two months made it necessary to reduce the wages 25 cents a ton. The minimum of the scale is $5 a ton.

Complete Election Returns Today.

The returning board when it adjourned last night had about two hours' more work to do on the election figures. They will be completed today. Judge Macfarlane refused to allow any totals to be made public until the entire work is completed.

SUPREME COURT FILES OPINIONS

Mrs. Sarah McCloy Loses Breach of Promise Case Against the Rev. Mr. Thomas.

COLLEGE CASE IS DISMISSED

Sullivan Against Jones & Laughlins, Involving Ore Dust Nuisance in Oakland District, Ordered to Be Reargued. Other Opinions Handed Down.

The supreme court adjourned yesterday to meet at Philadelphia in January. Several important opinions were handed down.

The McCloy case, in which Mrs. Sarah McCloy had carried her troubles with the Rev. Mr. Thomas, a former South Side preacher, up to the higher court, was ended by an order dismissing her appeal. Mrs. McCloy had appealed from the finding of common pleas No. 1. She had no attorney, nor did she have her paper book prepared, and the only interest she manifested in the matter was to appear once at the prothonotary's office.

The Thiel college case, an appeal against an injunction granted by the Mercer county court to restrain the trustees from removing the college from Greenville was dismissed. The court says that if the injunction was dismissed and the college removed and then in full hearing it should appear that the removal was illegal the consequences would be inconvenient and might be disastrous. It is clearly a case for the preliminary injunction to maintain the status quo until all the evidence shall be before the court in final hearing.

John Zillafrow, who was separated from his wife, drove to Brady's Bend, shot and killed her. He was found guilty of murder in the first degree in the Armstrong county court and took an appeal based on alleged irregularities in drawing the jury, in proper handling of the jury and insanity. The appeal was dismissed and the lower court sustained.

Two cases of local interest were ordered for reargument, no opinions being filed. They were the ore dust nuisance case of Sullivan versus Jones & Laughlins and the Glaser cases against the Garwood Railway Company, in which an effort is being made to prevent the Baltimore & Ohio railroad from taking under condemnation proceedings some of the ground wanted for the shops and yards in the Twenty-third ward.

Other cases are:

Saint, appellant, vs. Cornwall, Allegheny. Judgment affirmed.

Plosz vs. Betzer, Lancaster. Reargument awarded.

Phoenix Brewing Company vs. Weiss. Appeal refused.

In the case of Kaufmann vs. Liggett the court refused a motion to advance the case for a hearing at Philadelphia.

Select Councilman Donahue Is Relieved of Charge of Selling Liquor Illegally.

The bills against Select Councilman Peter J. Donahue and Edward Schmershall, charging them with selling liquor illegally were ignored by the grand jury yesterday. The charges were made by Constable Peter Nock of the Fourth ward. At the beginning of the present term the bills were before the grand jury and were marked "true bills," and as such were entered in the court calendar, but it afterward appeared that the signature of the foreman of the grand jury, J. P. McKinney, was missing. This mistake could not be remedied until the return of the grand jury. Yesterday the bills were returned marked "ignored," which brings the case to an end. The first time the bills were returned only one bill, that against John Koch, was ignored. This latter bill was also sent back to the grand jury and was also returned ignored. At the time the bills were first returned, while those in the cases of Donahue and Schmershall seemed "true bills" on the face of the return, it was shown by the minute book of the grand jury that they had really been "ignored" in the first place.

The bill against Alex McAllister, charging him with the murder of Georg Bardek, at Homestead, on December 24, was also ignored. Coroner Jesse M. McGeary, the prosecutor, charged McAllister with being instrumental in the shooting of Bardek.

MUST PAY $100,000

Foxburg Bridge Will Be Sold Unless Bonds Are Redeemed in Five Days.

Judge M. W. Acheson, in the United States circuit court yesterday, made an order directing the Foxburg Bridge Company to pay to the Union Trust Company of New York City, within five days, $100,000, alleged to be due on a mortgage, with accrued interest, amounting in all to $110,231 66. The Armstrong County Trust Company of Kittanning is named as master, and in default of payment, it is ordered that the bridge and other properties of the Foxburg Bridge Company be sold at auction, the proceeds to go toward satisfying the plaintiff company's claim.

It is set forth in the order that the Union Trust Company in 1892 purchased a bond issue of $100,000, which was to mature in 1902. As security the purchasers took a mortgage on the bridge at Foxburg, Clarion county, which had just been erected by the defendant company. When it came time for the bonds to mature, it is alleged, that the Foxburg Company failed to redeem them.

The jury in the case of Lydia B. Arter versus the Northwestern Mutual Insurance Company of Milwaukee, was still out when Judge Acheson adjourned the United States circuit court yesterday.

The case of Lee Sing versus Addison M. Wilson of New Brighton, was begun before Judge Acheson. The complainant, a Chinaman, alleges that he rented a house in New Brighton from Wilson and that the latter ejected him without cause. Sing asks for $10,000 damages.

"Our National Christianity," the last in the series of lectures on "The Five Living Questions of the Day" will be delivered this evening by the Rev. John A. Henderson of Allegheny in the First Lutheran church of New Kensington, Pa. These lectures were inspired by the religious workers of New Kensington and Parnassus. Interest in this movement for public morality has steadily increased since the first lecture which was given by the Rev. R. C. Wylie, D. D., of Wilkinsburg in the Methodist Episcopal church of New Kensington on "Shall We Have a Day for Rest and Worship?" The third lecture was given last Tuesday night by the Rev. J. R. Millin of Pittsburgh, in the Baptist church of New Kensington, and was on "How Shall Our Public Schools Produce the Best Public Citizens?" "The Saloon—Why Here, and How to Get Rid of It" was the subject of Matthew H. Stevenson's lecture last night in the United Presbyterian church of Parnassus.

This course has received the indorsement of the pastors of the Methodist Episcopal, Lutheran, Baptist, Presbyterian and Reformed churches of New Kensington and the pastors of the Presbyterian, United Presbyterian and Reformed Presbyterian churches of Parnassus. Crowded houses have listened to all the lectures so far and the good results are expected to be manifested in some substantial way for the betterment of the communities.
